WARNING. By H.M. Government SMOKING THIS CAN DAMAGE YOUR REALTH.

You've all seen Droodles before: suffice it to say that there is another solution to number I besides 'Man in evening dress trapped between lift doors'. The answers are on the back page. Providing that I don't get too many complaints, or, wonders will never cease, if I actually get encouragement then I may publish more in future issues.

The answers to the Fanny (my griddle's killing me) Craddock quiz were announced They were as follows:- 1. A dead Wallaby.

2. Never over a hot oven.

3. Sweet and sour Possum.

4. The Chinese smash the bowl of surry onto the table spilling most, whereas the Indians walk along with their thumb in the curry.

Nice one Cyril:

The President of France wishes to enter the following for the '1901...' pun of the issue competition:- There was once a cricket unpire who was an evil sort of man - brutal enough to continually beat his wife, and he wanted his young boy to sit on his knee so that he could tell him a story. The boy of course refused, which proves the old saying ... wait for it ... " the son never sets on the brutish unpire ".

BUSSIA: Holy Russia wishes to spread among the nations knowledge of the secret of the Universe revealed in the Synagogue at Capernaum by Jeshua -ben-Joseph of Mazareth, namely, that the Energy of the scientists corresponds perfectly to the God of the Christians in the following particulars: it is totally invisible and intangible, except in its effects; it is the cause of all movement and change; it is the cause of the existence of the elementary lepton particles; it is present everywhere, including in the congecled light forming the particles of human bodies. That is the understanding which would immediately have been conveyed to a group of nuclear physicists and etymologists had he held in his hands that portion of the universe about to become part (by ingestion) of the bodies of these present and said: "This is my storehouse." (The root original Adamite notion of the word 'body'.) Bussia also wishes to promote the other doctrine which distinguishes Christianity from all other religions: 'Love your enemies. The greatest leader of the English race that ever lived said: "No victory is complete until ones energy has become ones friend". A Seer has foreseen that in 1914 a Nurse Edith Cavell will say before execution: "Patriotism is not enough. We must have no hatred or bitterness in our hearts". Both these statements accord with the most subline doctrine of Christianity. ((I'm an Atheist, personally))13.

GENERAL COLUMN, TRIESTE DAILY POST:
PROUTEED: Small town, preferably well out of the way, needing a local council. Apply, Government House, Trieste, or directly to Royal Palace, Vienna.

The Trieste Police are pursuing their enquiries about the letter-bomb incident reported by Rome. The blame is known to rest with a spy-ring within Trieste, belonging certainly to one of Austro-Hungary's neighbours. I respectively suggest that President Colin, after following my last group of suggestions, checks that neither of his allies sent it.

VIEWIA-further:

King Allan VII, whilst appreciating the Bussian offer, doesn't think he'd make a good mercenary. So, he regretfully declines the aforesaid offer. He also says he is not aware of any Italian plan to attack Russia.

(More, yet more similar ray jottings overleaf)

With tears of joy in His eyes, His Imperial Lajesty, the Kniser of the Second Empire of German States, acclaimed the great news of the return of the lost territories of Holland and Belgium to their rightful allegiances. He thanked His subjects there for their warm and loving welcome and promised soon to avenge the treachery of Schleswig-Holstein. Heim Ins Reich! Wilhelm II THE BULL RING CENTRE OF THE WORLD:

Leeds United have nothing on us, we are biologically bleached to purist white and must therefore be head of any anti-nithling or other league.

signed, Bull....

CONSTANTINOPLE:

The Sultan wishes to extend his most sincere apologies to friends and allies for the delay in getting in my orders. However, I must give some of the blame to the G.P.O. who, theoretically had enough time to deliver my communication to the great Allah, Ruler of the War Games, the Almighty G.E., who, if he hadn't been so bloody efficient ((what do you expect from a time and notion man?)).... (Now there, don't get yourself in a state, you know what it does for your blood-pressure...)

LOCAL POST OFFICE:

"Another one of these cretinous Diplomacy letters", as he shoves it into the 'To be delayed' box.

TURKISH GOVERNMET:
The Sultan and the Sultana, an ugly woman with currenty eyes and a face like a dried grape, were pleased to announce the birth of their first child, lustafa Prune. The only sad part of the joyful event was the fact that the young future Sultan was prenature, resulting in a small raisin-like baby. However, he is healthy, sustaining only a dislike of dried fruits.

And Peter further lowers the tone of these pages with:-

Did you hear about the night club entertainer whose measurements were 100-24-36. She doesn't dance or sing - she crawls on stage and tries to stand up! ((You might say she couldn't tit up))

Colin Walsh mentions that, with the permission of England, he will be taking a well earned holiday on the Isle of Wight between May 25th and June 8th.

Shipbuilders in Liverpool have completed a new fleet in record time, encouraged no doubt, by their ((number 1)) football team's recent success. In London (liberated from the French in time to have the Cup Final at Wembley) the city is returning to normal. The King presided over a ceremony in which Hapoleon's statue was removed from Trafalgar Square and replaced by the original statue of Helson. With the return of London football clubs to the football league in 1905, it is doubtful if Northern teams will find victory so easy.

Talking about the Cup Final, David Coleman arrived at Membley early last Saturday morning and decided to have a lock at the pitch before the big match. To his surprise, there was the Leeds manager, Don Levie, busily spreading newspapers all over the pitch. ..

"What on earth are you doing Don?" asked the BEO man.

"Well," said Devie, "we're much better on paper than we are on the field."

And this one is old but it should just fit in here:

HIGLAID:

his Majesty today visited the newest squadron of the fleet; loyal crowds cheered as King Edward VII left the navy to return to the Palace. Many war correspondents believe the new squadron will patrol the Channel.

It'd serve you right if I didn't send any press in this time. But I musn't disappoint all my fans.

ROLE TO PARIS:

I'll return your treaty in a couple o' days. If you'd like to send me an S.A.E. I'll tell you what you can do with it.

ROLE TO RUSSIA AND TURKEY:
I'm sick of having my press last. If you'd send some in I wouldn't be. (hint, hint) PONE TO LONDON:

You will be pleased to hear that the Members of the Italian Parliament who voted to attack any of our fellow powers have been exiled to the respective nations where you may do with them what you will. (No, not that sweetie) ROLE TO G.II:

It could be pronounced Jihad, Jeehad, Yihad or Yeehad. ((Ye gods)) Take Yugoslavia for instance: Yugoslavia or Jugoslavia? Which brings me to Atlantica. How can you possibly have Serbia and Yugoslavia on the same map since Serbia is a part of Yugoslavia/Jugoslavia/Jeehad/Yihad or whate ver.

MOVIE VANION TRUESTE:

It was heartening to see our ever victorious army enter Trieste yesterday morning. The Italian Government is pleased by the willingness of the Austro-Rungarian Emperor to comply with our terms. We wish to assure them that no further aggression is intended.

HAPLES:

The Italian Government is becoming increasingly disturbed by a product manufactured in England. The product is called Chillo and is supposed to be powdered Ice Cream. Vast quantities of this cheap ice cream are being exported to other European countries. If England does not stop this insult to our glorious Nation we will not hesitate in cutting off their spaghetti. MFIELD:

David Coleman. "Well, Liverpool are the new league champions and here is their manager Jill Shanisly, (Doo, Riss) Well Zill, what die you think of the teams performance this afternoon?"

Bill Shankly (Waking from his Saturday Afternoon nap): "Well, ach..... think... ...deh.... think..... that..... aeh.....he's a goode playre."

David Coleman: "Thanks Bill. Now let's have Brian Cloughs opinion on the Liverpool side."

Brian Clough: "Well David, there's only one word that befits this Liverpool sice - CORPLERS!"

MORTE AFRICA:

Gandalf. "Look at all this press, and we haven't even been mentioned!" Hannibal. "Well we can't stay chatting here all day can we?"

Gandalf. "I know. If we help someone out we might be given a regular place in his press."

"But who?" Hannibal.

pay dearly for this.

Gandalf. "Italy of course. He's the only one in this game with any sense." "And he's modest too...."

Beer - 50p per pint.

Ice cream cornets - 20p each.

Italian citizens - 10p per dozen.

VEHICE:

The Italian Government may decide to withdraw its army of occupation from Trieste to eliminate any surviving members of Juventus F.C. This decision was taken because of the teams disgraceful behaviour against Derby County(a team of great skill and ability). The Italian Government sends its sincere apologies to Derby and wishes then the best of Ruck the next time they play Liverpool.

The Italian Minister for Press is greatly disturbed by the Louse Rule on Prop-How can we compose press with such limitations?((That's the idea)) ROLL TO LONDON:

Dear Michael, do you want to be called Mike, let Mick be Lick and me be Lichael? Or do you want me to be Kick, you to be Michael and Mick to be Like? On the other hand, I could be Mike, Mick could be Michael and you could be Mick or llick could be Mick and you could be Michael. I don't really want Mick to be Like and you to be kic hael or Mick to be Michael and you to be Hike cos I don't want to be Mick. ((What's wrong with Mick may I ask?)) I suggest that I be Mike, you be Michael and Mick be Mick. ((sounds OK to me)) Whichever we choose, it's sure to make things easier.

SECRET SOURCH:

Dear Mexico, Let's be friends and smash President Davidson's land. signed Muts.

his Esperial Majesty, the Tzar of Russia, the Tzar of all the Russias and especially the Tzar of Russia in this game has, in an effort to gain peace along our Turkish border, sent a gift to the Turkish Sultan, kustapha kwee kwan this nother was Chinese, and his father was a dirty old man). The Tear has loaned the Sultan his beautiful wife her Imperial Lajesty, the Tzarina of Pussia, the Tzerina of all the Russias etc. for a special orgy the Sultan is organising at his Imperial Palace. The Sultan said he hoped that many European lionarchs would attend. The Tzar, however, repiled that he had no intention of making himself look a Charlie.

Allan Doodes asks me to give a plug to Nuclear Destruction, a game of nuclear war being organised by Chris Harvey, 30 Gorway Road, Walsall, Staffs. (I believe moves are adjudicated by a computer in the USA) About a dozen players take part each trying to obliterate the rest. The game has (when allowed) a peaceful period when one may lay down ones plans for the future, allowing a certain amount of strategic play, and does have room for alliances. It also has the great advantage of having a drawn situation, when everyone has succeeded in killing off each other. The game fee is al. 20 and is paid when you send in your orders for the first turn.

((And in enswer to my question, no, Allan isn't on commission, but he is on the waiting list and is impatient for it to fill))
