Well, today is the eleventh of August and here I sit retyping this off of Brian's computer screen. You see, our "friend" who usually prints this up for us on his Epson didn't do it this time because he's a lazy $#%!!*%&!!$. Come to think of it, he's given me a hard time almost every month. And what's more, I paid him to do it for me! In any case, I find myself once again apologizing to you, my loyal subscribers who have tolerated me up until now. I really do appreciate it and I'll try to be more timely in the future. Anyway, on to the issue:

It seems I confused a lot of people last month. I had said that I would publish an extra issue to make up for not having one in June due to tests. As it turned out, I never got the extra issue out and game out 2 weeks late on the regular one. This issue will also be 2 weeks late so all that really happened is we lost a month. Two pubbers thought I had folded but since they will be reading this, they will know that is not true. Several of the games were not included last issue as it was a House rule/Mailing list issue so I only included those games with winter adjustments. Don't worry, all the games are in the issue and the deadline for the next move is September 12, 1982.

Because I will be entering my junior year in HS next year, I'm going to have to cut back a bit on my non-school related activities. I will be shifting Anduin to 5 week deadlines instead of monthly. Also, I'm afraid it's going to become a bit warehousey for the duration of the school year. I will continue the letter column though as it seems to be pretty popular. Enough with the bad news, on to some good news!

I will be vacationing in Italy for two weeks starting the thirteenth. I'm going to Italy with my mother and sister and you can imagine how much I'm looking forward to that! In fact, I'm probably going to be in Italy as you are reading this. I can't wait to see the pile of mail I will be greeted by when I get back! Yeesh!

There is another gamestart this issue, Brian will be gm'ing this one and also, the 1835II game has started. I will be gm'ing that one. These are the last games we will be starting for quite awhile. At least until some of the current ones end. Although Brian may plan to run a few more. I guess you'll find out in Helcaraxe one way or the other.

CHESS

Well, you won't believe it, but I finally ordered those chess diagrams I promised I would get a few months ago, and they've arrived! So if and when the chess tourneamt starts, I will use them to liven things up a bit. By the way, there hasn't been too much interest in the tourney so far. If you'd like to join, send me 4 bux that will be put in a pot with 75% going to the winner and 25% going to the runner-up. As you can tell, I'm a pretty big chess fan. Chess and Dip are my two main hobbies and I can't really tell which I like more. I enjoy them both! I keep my head buried in chess books fir hours on end. Give me a nice juicy Kadjorf variation of the Sicilian to analyse and you won't see me for days! Anyway, here is the game I am playing postally with Chuck Kaplan:

QUEEN'S GAMBIT ACCEPTED

White -Kaplan	Black -Kane	White	Black
1 P-Q4	P-Q4	7 NxB	P-QN4
2 P-QB4	PxP	8 N-K4	N-B3
3 P-Kn3?	P-K3	9 N-K5?!	NxN
4 B-N2	P-QB3?!	10 BxN	Q-R4ch
5 N-KB3	B-N5ch	11 K-B1	B-N2
6 B-Q2	BxBch	12 P-K3	Q-B2

Well, I've managed to hold on to the gambit pawn so far. That may prove to be the deciding factor in the end. I saw Chuck at DipCon and he said he played #3 P-KN3 so he could get out of normal book lines as soon as possible. I don't know, in my opinion it isn't strong enough to follow up on the gambit pawn as is evident in this game. He made things interesting with K-K4, but I was able to refute it and additionally keep him from castling. I expect he will play Q-B3 followed by K-N2 releasing the King's rook. My problem will be dealing with his rooks. I would like to trade as many major pieces as I can and I plan to force some trades. We'll see what develops. Your move Chuck.

ORIGINS/DIPCON '82

As I'm typing this, I am still trying to recover from the mind boggling experience I had at Origins this year. I had a ball. I especially enjoyed meeting many people whom I had only known through letters and telephone conversations in the past. The best part for me was the Dip tournament. I think I came somewhere between 25th and 30th out of a field of 157 dippers. Congratulations go to my fellow Great Necker, Ken Halpern who came in 14th overall. Anyway, I was going to print up the names of the top ten finishers but I've already seen it printed in a few other zines so I won't bother. I will extend my congratulations to Konrad Laumeister who won the overall tournament as well as best Turkey in round 1.

As for myself, I got trounced in the first round as England by a combined French, English, and Russian effort. Ah well, I took a look around at some of the other boards and noticed that Gary Coughlan was also getting trounced around '07 or so. That night, I told my roomie Ken Halpern, that if Coughlan and I ended up on the same board the next day, that we would ally and end up with a two-way draw. Ken said something to the effect of Bull. "Just 'cause you know him means nothing (this is all true Gary!). Well, the next day I ended up with France and lo and behold! Gary was Germany! Now, we allied not because we knew each other, but rather because the English player was a moron! The only thing he was interested in was Belgium. He didn't offer me an alliance for it. He just wanted it. So I said fine, as did Gary. Things didn't go as England planned as you may have guessed! Gary and I rolled him and then stabbed Italy and Russia who were allied in the east. In the end Russia, Italy, and Austria combined to try and stalemate us but we broke through and went on to a two-way draw. Gary was an excellent ally and had complete trust in me. There were several instances when I could have stabbed him for a possible win but it is much more enjoyable to share the victory with someone. Besides, it wouldn't have made much of a difference in the standings anyway.

By the way, how many of you noticed that 6 out of the top 10 finishers recieve Anduin? Joust goes to show you what type of crowd a top-notch zine attracts!

Okay, on to the people. I'm going to try and describe some of the many people I met this year to you as best I can (most of this is in good humored fun so don't be offended if I say something gross about you!).

FRED C. DAVIS: A good guy to start with. Fred likes to assign letters and numbers to things, for instance: "So tell me Fred, how do you come up with these numbers for variants?"

"Well, I take the number of supply centers on the variant board and divide it by the designers shoe-size, then..."

You get what I mean!

ERIC R. OEOG: Just a tad-bit on the strange side but then what else can you expect from a half-elf?!

CHUCK KAPLAN: Just another face from Chi-town area. Good natured but put him on a dip-board and you'd better stand back. Devious and dasterdly!

RANDY ELLIS: Belongs in Great Neck along with the rest of us nuts. Ken Halpern (his ally in rd 2) wants him made an honorary Great Necker. So be it! It would be hard for us to bestow a higher compliment on someone!

BOB SERGEANT: I didn't play on the same board with him but I'd bet he acts like a novice and then... lowers the boom!

JIM YERKEY: Short!!! (He'll kill me for this!)

AL PEARSON: A bigger liar there has never been! You should have seen what he did to this poor little kid in the first round. Good 'ole Al the novice's pal!

GARY COUGHLAN: When Gary speaks... nobody can hear him! My god that boah speaks soft. He has a soooofft slooooooww Southern drawl thaaat caamn puutt youuuu tooooooo sleepp...zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz!

ROD WALKER: Take me to your Leeder!

MARK BERCH: Short and bald!! (Boy am I going to get it for this!)

JACK BRAUNER: I can't think of anything clever to say about Jack so I just thought I'd mention him so we wouldn't feel left out!

ED WROBEL: Well, you know what they say, Wrobels wobble but they don't fall down. (I can just hear the groans in the background!)

SCOTT HANSON: Not what you would expect from a mid-western dj, but then seeing is believing. Besides, Frauke is much more interesting!

FRAUKE PETERSON: "Well, what do you tink you are doink taken Belgium from me hmmm? Ve shall see about that American scum!"
Actually, she's not a bad player considering that she's from Europe!

BERNIE/BUDDY/JAMES/BRIAN/IAN/DAVE/ALFIE/JOHN/PAUL/GEORGE/RINGO/ CARLYN: A huh, we believe you!

BRUX LINSEY: All I have to say is, you know all those mean, nasty, and cruel things Alex Lord has been saying about Bruce in VoD? Well, they're true!!!

DAVE CARTER: Dave has a mustache that makes him look like a walrus, eh?!

RON (Snafu!) BROWN: Watches over the other Canadien pubbers as if he's one of the Royal Mounted Police!

ROBERT SACKS: Still hasn't gone through puberty! Only kidding, but what do you expect when you mistake a guy for Gary Coleman when he speaks!

DON DITTER: Still hasn't given Brian his Kingmaker orders! Tsk tsk! C'mon Don, get 'em off my back will ya?!

JOHN DALY: Acted as if he was a Canuck what with the picture taking and all. You should have seen them Canadiens; click click click!

WILLIE HIGHTOWER: (You'll have to hold your breath until the next page!)

Willie Hightower cont'd from last page): Yecchh! What kind of moron supports Reagan that much?! Looks like bashful Bonzo reall hooked a live one here!

PORTER WIGHTMAN: The hoof of HOOF AND MOUTH, Don Sigwalt's zine!

DON SIGWALT: The mouth!!!!

STEVE ARNAWOODIAN: Ahh, who cares. He's in a catagory along with Norm Shwartz!

TOM MAINARDI: Probably glad to hear that I'm helping the Italian economy by vacationing there. Want me to deliver any messegges to anybody you know over there Tom?

JOHN CARUSO: The same ole teddy bear we all know and love! What's this I hear about people calling him grizzly?!!

KATHY BYRNE: Kathy and I are in the middle of a heated feud over which games are mature. She thinks that games such as marbles and tiddly-winks, which I enjoy playing are stupid and immature. Woody, upon hearing this, rushed to my aid by claiming that Candyland and Chutes and Ladders are just as childish if not more so. And he's right! So what do y'all think about it? I'm not going to let Kathy get away with degrading such intellectually giant games that I like like Kick the Can!

Seriously though Kathy, lighten up a little, no one likes to feud, especially over something as stupid as this! No hard feelings, okay?

And on that semi-serious note, I think I will end this section and get on to the letters this issue. If I forgot your name or someone elses who you met, send in your own description! C'mon, don't be bashful!

LETTER BOMBS

Hmmm, not too much this issue. Looks like I've only got something from Gary Couchlan, and who am I to turn down my ally?!

June 27, 1982

Eric,

I just mailed off my Leeder poll results (I'm voting but I'm not publicizing the results because Leeder is giving them exclusively to DIPLOMACY WORLD and that is unfair. It's also delaying the results from late July until at least late September) and hopefully in this poll ANDUIN will get the score it deserves. A 5.90 is an insult to ANDUIN which is one of my favorite zines (I'm a sucker for a good letter column).

Anyway, I wouldn't ket the 5.90 get you down. My view is that I'm going to put out the best zine I can and no poll will cause me to do any different. On to the meat of the letter:

In ANDUIN #10, you said you would allow me to reply to what Dick Martin wrote about me if I wished to. I do wish to. To backtrack, Dick has written you at least two letters commenting on my own responce to some things John Caruso said about me that I disagreed with in ANDUIN. He calls me "paranoid" for "defending myself" against a "joke".

I get a lot of zines and I read very one of them. If someone says something about me that I don't particularly care for, or is untruthful or is misleading, I have absolutely no qualms at all about writing in with my own response. I think most people feel this way. And that is what I did in ANDUIN.

The disagreement was between John Caruso and me. The disagreement is over. John is satisfied. I am satisfied. The whole matter is closed. But noooooooo! Dick has to write not one, but two letters about it. I really don't see what his point could be. However, I know (over for more) from personal dealings with Dick that he likes to needle people and "pick at" what he may think are "wounds"--sort of like rubbing salt in a wound--that's Dick! I suggest that instead of writing ANDUIN long letters discussing a "disagreement" that is over and done with, that Dick concentrate on putting out his RETALIATION which used to come out once a month like clockwork. Lately it has been very irregular. Maybe that is why Dick wrote you and said that he is farther from burn-out "than ever". When you don't publish, you can't burn-out, right Dickiepoop? Well, that's all for this "paranoid" this time Eric. See you at ORIGINS I hope!

((Obviously we did see each other! Don't worry, I'm (sob) not letting the poll (weep) b-bother me. Why on earth would that bother me?! And as for Lick, uh, maybe he ought to reply (don't you just love the way I just weasel out of responding!). Now, now boys, take it easy. Actually, I still agree with Gary. I would do the same thing if I were in his shoes.))

Austrian menace! Those self-same Austrians who survived the Russo-Turkish onslaught due to ~~superior diplomatic efforts~~ of our office, and who have now turned upon us.

Hah! Well, now we shall see who lied to whom. You would think our neighbors would be grateful-but no, they must think only of themselves, and the here and the now. Ok, here and now we offer control of all Papal Territory, Holy Boats, and Legions of the Faithful to our once-enemy-but-now-friend, the Sultan of Turkey. He need only speak, and we shall obey. Thus so we say "Bah!" to our neighbors France and Austria. We hope that Russia & Turkey will soon rule the world.

CH-Rome: Well, that's one way of looking at things. I must say you take death with dignity (D&D!) but I doubt that R&T will rule the world, jointly at least!

Vienna: Hey guys, Russia's got nine and I got him mad. Help!

Paris-England, Germany, Austria, & Turkey: Heh guys, isn't Russia getting a bit large a bit quickly? You guys gonna do something about it!? Or should we all just hang it up now?

Trieste-Venice: Please be a sport and go fight France - he needs someone to play with.

Serbia-Aegean Sea: Please don't NMR unless you planned on attacking me.

1982D "Autumn, 1902"

WAR SLOWED TO A STANDSTILL

Well, if I can't delay one of the other games, I might as well delay this one right! Seriously, I am missing orders from both Don and Chuck. Chuck's I had but then lost. Don sent me a note asking where 32D was last issue. Don, I said in #10 that only those games with winter adjustments would be included in the next issue. In any case, you should have sent in conditional orders at the very least. If I hadn't lost Chuck's orders, I would have had to NMR you and continue the game. In any case, the new deadline for Fall, 1902 is SEPTEMBER 12, 1982. I have orders on file from everyone except France and Italy. Again, sorry for the annoying delay.

1981IM

Well seeing on how almost everyone in GN is gone on vacation, we've agreed to set the new deadline for SEPTEMBER 12, 1982. There is a proposal for a 7-way draw. Please vote on it with your next set of orders.

Before I go, one more thing about the Leeder poll delay that Gary mentioned in his letter. At DipCon, Walker blamed Leeder and said "I should have known better than to expect that Leeder could keep a deadline date." That may not be the exact wording but it's close enough. Ask Eric Ozog who taped the entire meeting and he'll give you the exact quote. I don't think it was fair to put the blame on Leeder. Especially considering  that Leeder wasn't there to defend himself. I would extremely interested to hear what Leeder has to say about this. I'm not trying to stir up trouble or anything but I feel that something like this should be settled and that the entire hobby has a right to know the details. After all, it is a poll designed for the people in the hobby. When you lose sight of that, it might be time to hang it up and look for another hobby.

ANDUIK, is a zine dedicated to the play of postal diplomacy and it's variants. It is published every 5 weeks by Eric Kane, 109 Hicks Lane, Great Neck, NY, 11024. There are no game openings at present. Subs are $6 for 10 issues, $11 for 20 issues, or $20 for 45 issues. My number is (516) 466-0797, please don't call at a ridiculous time of night and don't forget about EST!!!

By the way, I just bought an original set of Dip. You know, the one published by Games Research? It's in excellent condition and the map and boards are much nicer than the junk they are selling now!

Well, I hope you enjoy this issue. I stayed up until 5 o'clock and then got up the next morning to finish it. Talk about dedication!

Eye Y'all!

HELICARAXÉ

Number 5 - August 1, 1982 - 1982AK, Camelot Kingmaker, New Game -----

BRIAN LORBER, 7 POLO RD, GREAT NECK, NY, 11023

I have just returned from Origins '82 and therefore the leading page or so will concern THE ADVENTURES OF BRIAN & ERIC (and Ken, Steve, and John) AT THE CONVENTION. After a 5 hour trip we arrived in UMBC and were through registration in about 2 minutes. (Those people new what they were doing this year, not a single screw-up). From there we went to a game of World War III dip being formed. After 5 or 6 hours it finally ended in an immense draw. Afterward to a seminar on publishing a dip zine (wall to wall pubbers showed up, I didn't see a new publisher in the crowd) which turned out to be an interesting discussion of zine policies including regularity, burn-out, and prices. It seems that most pubbers lose a couple of hundred bux a year although I don't see how, Eric breaks even with manster issues and all.

After the seminar Eric and I hooked up with John Boardman, Dave Sawartz, Al Nofi, and Ned (I can't remember his last name) someone or another and we all went to dinner inside the city to a seafood place called Burke's where everyone had various crab dishes and talked about everything from minor German philosophers to various heraldic shields scattered about the room. I was definately lost but did enjoy the company and the food. Also in Ned's car we listened to some really wild music on his walkman if your reading this Ned, please tell me the name of that tape; I may never get a chance to visit psychedelic Middle-Earth again.

Saturday morning started with the Dipdom panel discussion starring Brux, Non (snafu!) Brown, Doug Beyerlein, Kathy Byrne, Mark Berch, and Rod Walker. Brux's speech alone was worth the price of the convention; something about diplomacy being a river with pebbles being picked up, rolled around, and washed out; something about the current, the big and little rocks, just about everything but the fish turds. If your reading this Bruce, please reprint the context in Voice of Doom.

The rest of the convention was dominated by the Dip tournament. To make a long story short, I survived the first round with a three center France (not part of a draw) and the second round with a 15 center Austria (six-way draw and tied for best Austria). Out of all this, I got less than 15 points (one-hundredth or so place). Mark Berch, I piss on your "scoring system".

Enough of that we have a NEW GAME!

Austria: Kevin Stone, 2830 County line drive, Big Flats, NY, 14814 (412) 453-9881
England: Ernest S Hakey III, 111 Webster ave, Cambridge, MA, 02141.
France: Jon Brachman, 28 Gilcrest rd, Great Neck, NY, 11021. (516) 487-3183
Germany: Jim MacKuc, Box 111, Monterey, MA, 01245 (415) 523-0150
Italy: Dan Falter, c/o Bucci Imports #100, 125 Grove ave, Cedarhurst, NY, 11516
Russia: Roland Morris, 5921 NE 21st Way, Ft. Lauderdale, FL, 33308.
Turkey: Mark Frueh, 110 South Brooks st, #302, Madison, WI, 53715.

Good luck to all! Frueh, Stone, Hakey, and Brachman must include their gf's with their first set of orders. The deadline is OCTOBER 13, 1982. Until this game is assigned its Boardman number, it will be referred to as "Despiser" (first thing that came to mind!) By the way, my electric typewriter just died so I'm doing this on a 50 year old manual. The deadline is doubled so you can have more time to negotiate. Go to it!

CAMELOT KINGMAKER * Turn VII

Westmoreland (Ditter): Berkeley holds in Berkeley; Bouchier (new noble) holds in Pleshy.

Buckingham (Madaner): Stafford & Plantagenet (Lancaster) from London-Windsor. Cromwell from 18 to 13 to 24 to 25 to St. Albans (see below). Stafford inside castle.

Crusader Rabbit (Murray): Audley from London to Canterbury (by road) and enters castle. Plantagenet from 28 to 29 to Oxford to St. Albans (see below). Clifford & Greystoke hold in London.

Cult of Cthulhu (Cameron): Talbot from Ludlow to 11 to Tewkesbury to Kenilworth (inside castle). Grey hold in London. Stanley & Le Michael hold.

Warwick (Hakey): Howard from 39 to Rotherham. Beaufort from Shrewsbury to Chirk to Denbigh to Rhuddlan (inside castle). Hastings, Neville and Courtney from Shrewsbury to London by road.

A Treaty of "Yorkist Supremacy" has been signed between the Crusader Rabbit, Cthulhu, and Warwick factions. The seige of London is successful without casualty and possession goes to the Crusader Rabbit faction. In St. Albans, the Plantagenet of York has been captured by the Plantagenet of Lancaster to do whatever he wishes with. I made a mistake last turn and neglected to mention that Shrewsbury was captured by the Warwick faction. Consider it mentioned. A transfer of 10 saxons was made from Beaufort to Neville.

Event Cards:

Buckingham: Storms at Sea (yes, again!) / Westmoreland: Plague in Calais
Crusader Rabbit: Plague in Newcastle and Durham / Warwick: Lt of Ireland to Ire.
Cthulhu: Storms at sea (you doubly can't move your ships). Press held over.

Your Crown Card for Turn VII is:

Orders are due for turn VIII is September 12, 1982
