ANNOUNCEMENT

I have been considering opening one or two new games now that the number of games is dropping, but I have decided that this would be a good opportunity to have some of the potential publishers that are entering the Diplomacy hobby a chance to try their hand at gamesmastering without the uncertainty of starting a new 'zine. So, I am offering the following:

Guest Gamesmasters are sought for one or two games, to be published in ATLANTIS; player roster and adjudication to be handled by the guest GM. Qualifications: not many, just a desire to GM and access to a typewriter. I will accept applications from anyone willing to be a guest GM, but I prefer someone who has thought about starting his/her own 'zine. This would be a good opportunity for you to try gamesmastering without the expense of starting your own publication.

Please write for further information and details - if there are more than one interested I may use more than one guest GM.

Constantinople;

The Sultan announced that his troops have discovered what appears to be Phillip of Macedon's tomb. The tomb has not been fully identified as such, but the Sultan requests that no troops fight over the lower Balkan Penninsula to minimize possible damage by pillaging soldiers. His Most Royal Majesty also hopes that peace can be soon obtained in Europe and He volunteers to host any peace conference in his capitol city.
