GAME Fees & OPENINGS: (Game Fees are $10 per game, a $2 discount for any MENSAN, plus a $2 discount for any current Batyville Gazette player [subscription lasts for duration of game]. One year (10 issues) subscription rates for non-players are $7 for US Addresses, $8 for Canadian, and $13 for anyone wanting this zine airmail to other parts of the world. All prices are US Dollars.)

Mensa Regular Diplomacy: sign up with Andy York, usually hosted elsewhere (#50 hosted here)

The Batyville Gazette Openings:

1. Regular Dip (several wanted)
2. The variant Anarchy Dip (Jim Lewis, Tony Dousette, Bill Scharf, Jason Wilke, Adrian Tymes, two more needed).
2. The variant Invasion Dip (Rules in Batyville issue #50, or on request)
4. The Batyville variant Power Dip (The same as Dracula which just ended, except with different players there might be different abilities chosen).

San Diego Gaming events. (Call me for more info if you are interested.) 1st, 2nd and 4th Saturdays

Anarchy Diplomacy: Round(s) 1: Each player Submits a request for one home supply center. Each unique request is granted. Requests continue among the rest until each player has established one home supply center. Diplomatic communication is advisable. Round(s) 2: Same as round 1 for the selection of a second home supply center. Round(s) 3: Same as round 1 for the selection of a third home supply center. Round 4: Each player submits a list of 3 names for the country. (Selections will be by GM with preferences given to unique first letters.) Winter 1900 builds of 1 army, one fleet, and one choice of player (three armies if the country's home supply centers are all land locked).

Power Diplomacy: For each build, the builder specifies one of seven enhanced abilities to endow the new unit. The seven abilities are chosen from a list of nine unit powers per votes by the players at the beginning of the game. The nine powers are (double attack, double move, double support, double hold, jumper, amphibious, arial support, hypnotism, rocketry). Detailed rules if anyone is interested.

HELP! In the Capital Radio game, I will need default orders for England. Chuck Rathfelder is still alive, but I have not heard from him. Perhaps Adrian Tymes or Tony Dousette would be interested in submitting default English orders in Capital Radio?

I was really surprised, this last month. In the last issue I finally published my e-mail address. About 60% of you submitted your orders by that method. I like it. Such orders are easier to read, and I can send a return back so that you know the orders were received. If seven of you are interested, I will run a free regular diplomacy game by e-mail. Two week deadline, unless everyone insists on another deadline.

Ralph of Batyville

nomenclature:

/NSO/ = No Such Order
 /NSU/ = No Such Unit
 /IMP/ = Impossible order (unit holds)
 /D/(ret) = Unit dislodged (retreat options)
 /A/ = Unit Annihilated - no retreats possible

Underlined orders have failed

/NMR/ = No Moves Received (all units hold)
 /NBR/ = No Build Received (will play short)
 /NRR/ = No Removal Received (GM must make removal)
 /NOR/ = No Order Received (unit must hold)
 /AMB/ = Ambiguous order (unit must hold)

Soylent Green PRESS:

Batyville: PROPOSAL received E-I-R Concession. Votes, next time. A "No vote" = a "NO" vote.

Batyville: Note that 5 (of 6) of you sent orders by e-mail. It must be the coming thing.

Germany -> Russia: Is it time for you to switch sides once again?

Germany -> World: Does this mean the Italians are homeless and destitute? [[Not with 4 units - Ed]]

Germany -> Russia: Do you mean circled by wagons?

Austria -> Russia: It appears that you were trying to do the best you could. You chose to play one side off against the other. It didn't work, you now have two units and England will pick them up [slowly or quickly?] If you had truly chosen one side or the other you would not now be caught in between.

Austria -> England: So you figured it all out. Now what do we all do?

Austria -> Italy: We were trying to make it as painless as we could. It appears that England wants to prolong your agony

Austria -> Turkey: Sorry about last time, but we should recover soon enough. Let's push on where we can, meanwhile.

Moscow: The Turkish press agency office in Moscow reports major battles in and around the city, as the barbarian hordes from the north attempted to retake Moscow. Fortunately for the citizens, these attacks were rebuffed, and they continue to live in the cultural splendor brought from the Med.

Warsaw and Rome: The Turkish vice Sultans of Warsaw and Rome announced that there would be no imposition of Turkish culture on these cities. The Turkish rule would be very benign, the only change being that tax monies now would be sent to Constantinople.

Russia -> Turkey: Those Brits sure do have you scratching your head. Imagine! A power not viciously stabbing an ally after that ally agrees to aid him in his cause. I dare say your position, as good as you might think it is, would be better if you had followed his lead ... :)

Batyville: Note a COA correction for Jason Wilke. Everyone, note that postage to Germany is 60¢ for 0.5oz and $1 for 1 oz.

Capital Radio PRESS:

Batyville: I would like to thank Andy York for providing details of the the early results in this game. It seems none of the actual players knew any of it. As a warning to all of you, the orders for Richard Weiss took 19 days to get to me, as measured by the Guam postmark. His letter said that we need to put Apt 523 in his address, since the zine took 2 weeks without it. Somehow, Richard, I think your mail is going on a slow boat.

Batyville: Chuck Rathfelder (England) has not submitted orders, and has not responded to a telephone reminder. Therefore, I think we need to here from a volunteer substitute. Assuming I do not hear from Chuck, the position will go to the first one to send in default orders.

KITY -> RWAR: It's all of our war now.

KITY -> WAUS: or is that "WUSS"? Looks like your Bear Claws for breakfast diet was not a winning idea.

KITY -> WEDI: Usually not in wintertime, thank you. My ships should have the lawn mowers up there by summertime, though.

KITY -> KBEL: Looks like some hot sauce over there. All we have is Taco Bell. Are you a chain? (Is hot sauce from a chain what creates a chain smoker?).

KITY -> KFROG: (A really popular station in San Francisco): I'm just here to help, really, trust me!

DRACULA(1993 Irg 15)

DRACULA PRESS:

BATYVILLE: I owe Phil Reynolds an apology. In the final adjudication, I showed him as an NMR. This was not true. However, the Turkish orders did not affect any of the French moves, so the game is still over. I received an end-game statement from only one player. Here it is.

Russia:

I was badly stabbed by England early in the game. Evidently he'd done the same to everyone and no tears were shed when he was taken out. You can antagonize some players all of the time, but you can't antagonize all the players at the same time. Hopefully he knows this now. France hot the upper hand of Germany while Italy was giving Turkey a hard time - while leaving himself (Italy) wide open to France. Stephen Glasgow (Turkey) was a good ally. France played a good game, all I want to know is what did he say to Italy to get Italy to play the way he did. I've never had any luck convincing someone to throw themselves onto the knives of a common enemy, while I assaulted their homeland. Personally, I suspect hypnotizing - but how can you hypnotize by mail? Congratulations to Jim Lewis again for the win. Jim, aren't all these wins becoming a bit monotonous for you?

BATYVILLE: If this is your only game, in the Batyville Gazette, This issue will be your last. Such a disaster can be avoided if you sign up for a new game. Please sign up for a regular game, ANARCHY, INVASION (rules in Batyville 50), POWER, or MENSA 50
