ADV CIV, 'Boris X' & DUNE Start!

Three new games kick off this issue. This will be our first attempt at CIV in any of its manifestations: I can only hope it does better than the 3 or 4 that I played in that never finished. The DUNE game also has a new wrinkle in that one of the expansion factions makes its debut here.

Barring a bonehead error, the CIRCUS MAXIMUS game will finish next issue. The passing of "Boris VIII" and "Utnapiehtim" will open a page, so we have an opportunity for one or two more game starts. The two non-13xz candidate are DOWN WITH THE KING and LIFT OFF. I'm including a photocopy of the changes and variants to DWTK to those who are signed up, namely Dave Anderson, John Butitta, Deb Osborne, and Rose Shacklett. We have room for two of hers; anyone interested send a SASE for the copies.

And it's time to start a new STELLAR CONQUEST game, tentatively named "James T. Kirk". Still need a few players, so if interested, contact me soonest. You are already signed up if checked here.

BORIS'S BULLETIN BOARD

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH: Dig a 43-ft hole the size of a football field, fill it with gin, and add one drop of vermouth. That's one part in a trillion (ppi).

Boris is officially off of GEnie now, so don't use our address there. We've moved over to EWorld, but found out Monday they'll be shutting down on 31 Mar. Looks like I get to move again. Thanks to John Butitta, I have a starter disk for AOL, so may be migrating over there. My sister and two of Meg's siblings have accounts there so maybe we'll make it a family thing.

Dan Farrow (1880, 1885, Adv CIV) has a new e-mail address.

BOOS & KUBOS

This month's Madame Bolduc Press Excellence Award (and a free issue) goes to Ron Fisher for his two "ROME" articles in "Boris IX".

No Me: Nar SuperSudsy Bomb will be lobbed this month (she's given them up for Lent).

FALL 1917

WALL ST JOURNAL--Now it is Britain's hour of opportunity, and Duke Andrew can be expected to go for it with gusto. With both PCR and LPL like ripe apples ready for the plucking, the Duke of York needs but one more center to establish British dominance over the Continent. But which shall it be? STP could have three or four defenders, WAR will also be well entrenched, while NAP and VEN (and even ROM) are long shots indeed. Austria and Russia need to end their squabbles and resist Albion's final push in concert, but how likely is that?

TROOP MOVEMENTS

Austrian AMUN retreats to TPL; Russian ASWE retreats to FIN.

EMBASSY BEAT

VIENNA: The bear has forgot how quickly the West Witch can project its fleets and will pay for its treachery with the loss of all its northern gains. Oh well, who wants to live forever. The lines of defence are drawn in Italy and a counter offensive will be launched to retake the Capitol. Long live the Monarchy!

EMBASSY BEAT

LONDON: Alas, as I learned in "Rear Window," there's no reason at all for the third person in a three-person game to agree to a two-way draw. Which means we'll play for a solo victory instead. Which means Wayne will win. Alas.

ANDERSON - Big Toot

Winter 1989/10

CARBONNEAU: Thanks one and all for the game. Especially Mr Anderson and Boris.

FRYLING: Build A Lot, P Bom, A Washington..... Ooops, nevermind. I got carried away... Seriously, I appreciate the players who were willing to talk with me during this game and sincerely hope there are no hard feelings. The game was a definite challenge and I thought it was done for about 1906. This game reaffirmed for me the notion that the way to succeed is to always seek what's best for your alliance until such time as the alliance must be attacked. I'm sorry, Rudy, that you had to be the victim of that eventual attack but I really enjoyed our times on the phone and helping you learn how to remove knives from your back with a minimum of discomfort. I especially wish you the best of luck (and the Mar's good graces) in all your future games. As for the outcome of the game, I wish I could say it was from my good play and good guesswork but to be honest I think that given enough time everybody on the board would have killed each other just out of spite. I wonder if we can win in the Middle East that way....? Anyway, best of luck to my fellow gamers and I anticipate dying by your hands in a future game. Godspeed to you all.

GM: What can I say? Wormtongue clearly outdid all of you. Again. Congratulations, on a swift, decisive victory.

UTNAPISHTIM

1996 RB
THE GODS SPEAK!

Kevin Wilson (R): This was my first HotW game, ever. I've yet to play a game itf. If it wasn't for 5 or 6 players having email, allowing less contingency orders, I really think the multitude of possibilities each turn would have overwhelmed me and I wouldn't have done as well as I did. While I did win, I feel I lucked into it more than anything else.

In Epoch III I was passed the Romans. For the remainder of the game I choose last in the Empire selections but was still permitted to keep or was passed: Arabs, Holy Roman Empire, and the Mughals. While not always the most powerful empire of the Epoch, they still were far from the weakest. It wasn't until the final Epoch that I was passed a relatively weak empire, the US. It took my holding Japan and the Ocean Rule for the US to win, and then by the slimmest of margins.

I wish I could take credit for the draw through diplomacy or such, but since communication between the players was limited, that wasn't the reason. I must guess it was just oversight or blind luck. Based on my experience to date in other PBeM games of HotW, I really didn't understand the strategy (limited as it is) of the game. Therefore I feel my victory was as much given to me as earned.

I enjoyed the game a lot and plan to play more, like the next game Paul opens. Sign me up for the next one.

Wayne Morrison (Q): Great game Kevin, hope to tangle with you again. It was hard to keep up with you drawing all the big empires but it was fun trying.

Dan Osborne (B): I shall return!

GM: Kevin's win isn't too surprising given the empires he commanded. I was more impressed with Paul's results, only 4 points off the pace while constantly drawing first or second.

Kevin is the only one to sign up for a sequel, so we'll put a new game on hold until both there is more interest and I complete the two pbeM games I adopted. They are in the 4th and 5th Epoch, so hopefully will be concluded in two to three months. Besides, I've run out of named people in my copy of "The Epic of Gilgamesh" and will have to start using the gods or resort to some other ancient epic. Homer? Beowulf? Sweeney? Cuchulain? Virgil?

RUSSIA IN DISARRAY!! Turks in Retreat!

LX

Spring 1905

1995X

CLEARWINE: The collapse of the Russian military is at hand as its Quartermaster Corp stood by helplessly as 250,000 men starved to death in the mountains of ARM. The Turks too appear to be doomed to the partisan life in ARM, but at least for them, this is familiar territory. The question of the partitions of France and Russia loom large and may bring German imperialism hard up against Austrian expansionism, Italian adventurism, and British opportunism.

TROOP MOVEMENTS

Due next time are retreats, builds/tears, and orders for Spring 1905.

EMBASSY BEAT

Austria to Ms Nar: Thanks for taking the dice in Monasque and Olvanamin. Let's see some good rolls in this game too, uh, wait, sorry, no dice in this game. So that's why I like this game so much. No bowing to fate.

PARIS: So, so, so long, folks!

ROME: The War Ministry issued an apology to Germany for the mistaken border crossing of its northern army towards MUN. It seems a few officers had intercepted a beer train heading to an export house on the coast and decided to back-track to the source when the train's supply was depleted. Naturally the offending officers will be sacked and Ralph the Wonder-lama has been sent to the frontier with a supply of paper bags to accomplish this.

Rome-A TRL: Naughty unit! Bad! Stay!

Vienna to Rome: I'll pass on the press. Yours is a lot more fun to read.

Vienna to London: Nice meeting you "live, online." We should do that again sometime.

BORIS WORLD PRESS REVIEW

Berlin Bugle: The minister of logistics today announced that the transfer of Italian wine from the Italian army in Tyrolia has been completed. This French wine, inappropriately labeled Italian wine, has been mislabeled by the German Government. Appropriate labels have been issued at this time to warn the public. They read "WARNING: mislabeled by French industry. This is actually a toilet bowl cleaner, not fit for human consumption." The German government thanks the Italian government for providing these samples of French duplicity.

WAR STARTS!! Austria Hard-Pressed!

X

Spring 1981

1996G

MINAS MORGUL. The Continent has erupted in a gigantic temper tantrum as the various sections of Queen Victoria try to one-up each other. While Austria is the only Great Power to actually be invaded, BUL, DEN, and SER have quickly been conquered and assimilated. The naval clash in BLA gives hope to Vienna of forming a Austro-Turkish alliance to counter the de facto Russo-Italian axis. MUN is threatened from both west and southeast, so Germany must balance the need to defend his beer capital with his lust for BEL and its waffles.

EMBASSY BEAT

LONDON: The Queen announced the appointment to First Sea Lord of Ronald Fisher, OBE, EGP, LSNFT. In his first official action Sir Ronald dispatched envoys to the Great Powers of Europe to urge an end to the sabre rattling and dire threats to neighbors breeding fear of war engulfing the continent. "England, being physically removed from Europe, is offering to be an impartial arbitrator of the brimming border disputes and urgee peaceful solutions be found to the evident disagreements before a horrible holocaust engage the major powers in a costly harmful bloody conflict that would only enrich the cemeteries." Sir Ronald also announced he would accept an invitation to visit NWY and SWE and confer with their governments.

PARIS: The French government wishes everyone good luck in this game.

Golden Horn Gazette: "ALLAHHH!!!!!!!" Quoted from a nationalistic vendor at the Constantinople Bazaar.

Turkey to Russia: The Black Sea must never be occupied by Russian Fleets. Unnecessary forays into those calm waters can never be explained away by disingenuous talk of Rumania's occupation. Building a second fleet in Sevastopol means, in the immortal words of Roman Maroni, "Fargin War!"

Turkey to Austria: If you let Russia gain the "central position" in Rumania, you will be either his first or second victim. Put that under your pillow.

We'll halt here for Dan to figure out what to do with his two-ton gorilla. Due next time are your orders for Betriebsrunde 9.2 (BR 9.2) and Aktienrunde 10 (SR 10). Include orders to convert #4, #6, and Hannoverische to PR shares either at the start of the OR or when forced. Should a 5-train be bought (very likely), we'll have a phase change: all privates will close, conversion will be mandatory, brown tiles will be available, and the train limit drops to two (three for the PR). BA and borgum hunters take note! Zieske has der Zug.

ADV CIVILIZATION

Let's Get Started!

We're going with ADV CIV rather than CIV because we have eight, too many for CIV but just the right number for ADV CIV (for those players who indicated they didn't have ADV, I've enclosed a summary of the differences between the two). We will be using the Western Extension Map, because the regular map gets too crowded with eight players (if you don't have it, don't panic, as we'll publish a situation map monthly). We'll use Trade System #2 because it was favored slightly and looks like a lot less work for me. A listing of the Trade Cards in play follows below.

THE CAST (in AST order):

AFRICA (Nast): 1T @ Tunisia
 IBERIA (Farrow): 1T @ Lusitania
 ILLYRIA (Morrison): 1T @ Germany
 THRACE (Zieske): 1T @ Scythia
 CRETE (Carboneau): 1T @ Knossus
 ASSYRIA (Deb Osborne): 1T @ Nalchik
 BABYLONIA (Anderson): 1T @ Parthis
 EGYPT (Ringheffer): 1T @ Upper Egypt

Due next time are orders for Turns 1-3. Basically that means just population expansion and movement for the first three turns. We will halt things if a conflict arises on either Turn 1 or 2; about the only two that could do it on Turn 1 are Illyria and Thrace. Those who move later in the turn can make their movement orders conditional on what the players above them in the AST might have done. Of course Turn 2 orders can be conditional on Turn 1 results, just as Turn 3 can be conditional on both Turns 1 and 2.

In the meantime, I'll be ginning up some definitive House Rules. The Trade Deck is summarized below in case anybody's got all their decks mixed:

TRADE DECK

1. Hide(7)	Ochre(7)	Volcano/Earthquake*	Treachery
2. Iron(8)	Papyrus(7)	Famine*	Superstition
3. Timber(8)	Salt(8)	Civil War*	Slave Revolt

Due next time are orders for Turn 18. These should include the usual: speed, whether to whip or not, whom to attack and how if the opportunity arises, to brake, evade, or take it if attacked, and what lane to finish in if possible. Watch your Endurance! This ought to be the last official turn.

FREMEN (Anderson): 2S, 1C, 5T @ Sietch Tabr, 4T @ False Wall South, 1T @ False Wall West.

GUILD (Wilson): 6S, 1C, 5T @ Turk's Sietch

HAROONIEN (Bryden): 10S, 2C, 10T @ Carthag.

IX (Morrison): 20S, 3C

The Votes (Yes/No/Abstain): Alliances can't win (4-1-1). Four strongholds to win (2-2-1). The extra factions could be used (3-1-2). Using the expansion module (0-0-2). The Bryden Rule (2-2-2). GM votes "No" to break the tie.)

TURN 1

1. The STORM starts at Sector 12. The next Storm chit is _____.
2. SPICE BLOW: Funeral Plain(6), Minor Erg(8). The top Spice Card is: _____.
3. BIDDING: There are six cards available. They are: _____.

Due next time are choice of traitors and orders for the Bidding through Turn 2 Spice Blow Rounds. Remember, IX always ships and moves first so you can make your shipment and movement orders conditional on his. Guild can opt to go second or last.

Your Treachery Cards are: _____.

Your possible traitors are: _____.

The IXIANS

A. At Start: 20 spice, 20 tokens off-board

B. Leaders and Values: 2nd Lt (1), 1st Lt (1), Captain (2), Major (2), Colonel (3)

C. Free Revival: 2 tokens

D. Advantage: You control the production and distribution of illegal machines.

1. Your tokens can move up to two territories per turn.
2. At the start of each spice collection round, you automatically receive ten spice per turn in addition to any spice you would normally receive. CHOAM charity included.

E. Disadvantage: You must always move first.

F. Optional Advantage: In the revival round all Ixian leaders sent to the Bene Tielaxu tanks are revived for free (the B.T. and the Ixians were notorious "partners in crime").

G. Karana Powers:

1. When played by the Ixian player, it can be used to allow all Ixian tokens to fight at full strength regardless of whether they are supplied by spice. If they are spice supplied to start with, the strength of the units increase by one half unit (four tokens would have the strength of six, five of 7.5, etc.).
2. When played against the Ixian player, it destroys all spice he owns.

H. Alliances:

1. Allies can take advantage of the Ixian movement and spice bonuses. The Fremen movement rate would be unaltered.

STELLAR CONQUEST

PLESH GORDON: A recount of the VPs gave Ron Fisher 82, Mike Paffenberger/Wayne Morrison 17, Dan Farrow 8, and Mark Luedi/Andy York 2.

PRESS: To all those far flung colonies that fell beneath my heel and provided the points for my well-deserved victory I can only say -- You deserved to be conquered! You live in my galaxy or you die in flames! The Fenachrone Empire rules Eternal!
