

CATHY'S RAMBLER? no. 2 Hot Wheels

R A M B L I N G

Lots of you this time and yes I'm going to edit. You can all yell at me later, till then I get to do as I want. So Let's start by picking on everyone's favorite Troll-- Terry Tallman.

BRUCE LINSEY: Hey, whose handwriting is that on your front page? I already got my copy of NWSG this month!

BOB OLSEN: Got your new ziny C.R. ( note: it's "ziny", not "zeen", not "zein", not "szine" or "xyz). ((Mike Dean, are you taking notes?)) It took me a short while to realize it was not NSWG, after all it had Tallman's doodlings on the cover, but after I happened to notice it in the trash and saw that some of it inside was legible, I knew it was you.

JOHN MICHALSKI: Liked your sample #1 of CR, despite Terry's cover.

DOUG BEYERLEIN: I am looking for good things from your zine. Just make sure that you don't let Tallman's slugs slime their way into your zine and your will do okay.
(( And so the American hobby raises its ugly head and slaps Tallman around. Well, Terry will be doing my covers in most cases. Who am I to turn away free help? Mind you it's his humor and not mind and it is abit aged - say about 32 years old, but you take what you can get. Lucky for Terry not everyone disliked his cover.))

PETE TAMLYN: Hey, very good. No, really, I mean it. Nicely laid out and printed, entertaining writing, and a Terry cover to boot. Look, I'm sorry about this, but that guy has talent. Could you get him to write you a cover every issue?
(( Now for the few of you who know who this person is, I'm sure you're saying " Hey, he's a limey and he doesn't count." And so it goes... the Americans' against the British. Well, Pete's wish is granted and there's no way you can keep the British out of here, despite what a few of you have to say.))

STEVE "TEDDY BEAR" ARNAWOODIAN: As for allowing the Limey's to take over Cathy's Ramblings, forget it. You have too much class, savoir faire and besides you look too sharp in a bikini and/or negligee to be associated with any Brit.! You did have a very good idea about giving Dip world to those Limeys, let's give them Dip Digest too! Yeh, let's get rid of a couple of crusty old men!
(( And this comes from a guy, who gave up a trip to Britian with me by his side , to see Europe with a Southern Post office worker. Ok, so I did say that He would have to pay for my plan ticket and all my expenses and we would have separate rooms and I would be spending most of my time trying to get to Bristol. Do be careful while you are Britian Woody, the Scarborough Mafia are reading this you know and god only knows what they would do to you. Lucky for you Dolton ran off to Bristol.))

DON DEL GRANDE: I'm not worried about the British taking over CR - Mike Dean had enough trouble keeping Psychopath out of American hands, and what would The Acolyte (( Pete Tamlyn's zine)) be without my constant droning on and on about things nobody honestly cares about, not to mention my occasional mentions about what's coming out of Lake Geneva? (The British TSR connections never seem to know!)
(( Yeah, with people like Del Grande and Woody writing to the British, I wonder why I get letters asking if all Americans or weird or what? It seems I'm the only normal American over there and I would hardly call myself normal. Anyways, Don, Pete may have his chance to get even with you. And I've heard somewhere that he's evil, must have been a rumor, or something.))

ERIC OZOG: Cathy's Ramblings looks good! I think a slogan for the zine should read "The only British Zine in North America." I think your zine will become fairly popular - there's the novelty of the female publisher - a rare occurrence, plus you are well known in the Dip Cirles/ Cliques.
(( Of course, there will be the real "only British Zine in North America" when Pete Doubleday, puts out his first issue. I'm not going to print his address. I'll leave that for some other fool, er, I mean person, to do. Thanks, sweet, for the words of support.))

ERIC OZOG CONTINUE: I liked your Origins/ DipCon review and the pictures zexed really well. I don't know if I like the idea of editing - sure in some cases editing is good to get rid of irrelevant stuff, but as you say - don't become a butcher at it. (( Speaking of editing, you don't mind it I edit you here? Good, I didn't think so. )) You are on your own as far as spelling goes. Why not ask Terry? Oh yeah, I know Trolls cannot spell. Tough luck, my lady.

((And so the letters continue despite plots against it happening or having the name of Don Williams mentioned))

BOB OLSEN: There was only one thing that I didn't like about TSS and that was that it never came out. But after one issue there is already something I don't like about CR: namely that you printed a letter from Don Williams! I mean there the man is, bold as brass, taunting my poor starving honey, Kathy Byrne, who never got her Clark bar. It's like Bernie Oaklyn coming back and laughing at people who suffered from his far less significant crimes. Really now, if you edit letters, why not edit our everything Williams writes? And all this stuff about ducks -- don't you think it's just a little perverted? What if young children get hold of Duck Willaims' writings - would you want to be responsible for someone's abnormal interest in ducks? Hardly!
(( Tom Tweedy, are you reading this? You were suppose to help me deal with questions like this! Well Bob, now that you have got everyone interested in ducks, I do hope you are happy. Look don't you know that Don is like Woody? He does stuff like that just to get people to notice him.))

PETER TAMLYN: By the way, can we take it that Mr. Ree is British on account of his being able to spell 'theatre' correctly?
(( Well you can take it as you will, but just take him please or if you feel like bothering someone, he's a good one to try))

MARK LUEDI: Mr. Ree sounds like an interesting addition to CR. Unfortunately, as I know everything this morning (how else can I afford to cut two classes?), I have no questions.
(( See I knew there was some reason why I picked you for a big brother! I know everything too! Well, there are a few things I don't know, so I guess I had better go to class. Wait till Mr. Ree reads this, I bet he will have a few things to say to you!!))

MARK LUEDI: I just can't get over the fact that my little sister has her own zine! I guess it's all a part of growing up, eh? Maybe we can get Tommie a zine for Christmas?
(( First we have to wait for Tommie to grow up and that could be a long wait! Seriously though, I suspect that Tom is the smart one in the family. He's still trying to get Woody to fold!))

"Little" TOMMIE SWIDER: It's Younger brother, "little" girl! Glad to hear the fan mail is pouring in. Keep up the good work kid, and you'll go far. Now how about taking over Ripping Yarns?
(( Very funny Tommie! Hey don't you know that Mr. Ree is really Malc Smith? And Chiz has moved in here and that's why no one can find him in Britian. Hm... for the rest of you I suspect you should read the British hobby news for this to make any sense.))

((And now to change to subject and to give up on all linking))

BRUCE LINSEY: Your Origins write-up was great, except that I got left out entirely. Hmm...there must be some deep-seated reason for this. Maybe you me so insignificant that you just forgot me? Maybe you left me out on purpose so that I'd write you a letter? Maybe you figured that I was so similar to Woody that you'd cover me by talking about him? Let me know your reason.
(( Well, you see I had this problem. I had a zine that was full of deadwood, but I didn't want to loose all of them. By mentioning you, I would have lost 75% of my subbers! Now Woody, er... I mean Brux, you remember the small amount of time we spent together and what we did with that time? Look it was hard enough keeping Eric from finding out and you want me to tell the whole Hobby!))

MARK LUEDI: Ooh that picture! Didn't I look good?! (Honest, I'm only kidding) It's disappointing that the "woody stabbed me!" didn't show up. (Notice those masochistic tendencies - must have inherited them from your Dad.)
(( I hate to break this to you but there are those who think you are a real looker! Must have gotten them from me. Hey who is your dad anyways?))

JOAN EXTROM: Loved the Origins - Dipcon Review, especially the pictures. I'll put my money on Steve "Cupcake" Knight or Mark Leudi! (Ah...to be young again!) But why no picture of Eric?
(( OK, I give,there will be a picture of me and Eric in this issue. There just wasn't enough space last time to get everything in that I wanted to get in.))

JOAN EXTROM: Are you planning to start a Pacific Northwest Clique? Can we be in it?
(( Well, the thing about us up here in the PNW is that we are Anarchist and oppose all organization in the hobby. The problem with that is that we are unable to organize to present our views, because that would go against what we believe in. Down with hobby organization! Who needs all that red tape? I mean you would think that some people are taking this hobby seriously or something. ))

(( Well I know you're all asking but Cathy, where's all your mentioning of Glover Rogerson. Well I've saved the best for last, or something like that))

BRUCE LINSEY: Glover Rogerson's letter was great; not a whole lot else I can say. Except that I like his zine, too.
(( You had better like it or I'll smash your face in! or worst yet, I'll send Troll Tallman after you!))

JOAN EXTROM: Also, what do I have to do to join the Glover Rogerson Fan Club? Why do I keep thinking of him as Roger Gloverson?)
(( Well sweets, It's really Richard Rogerson, but I only worship Glover not Richard - not being quite the same people you see. Anyways, to join the fan club you just have to sub to Denver Glont, and write letters to Pete Tamlyn about how wonderful Glover is. Why do I get the feeling I shouldn't have said that? Well, I figure if Glover wanted me to back off he would have told me by now, so keep the fan letters coming in for now! Who knows how much longer we will have!))

PHILLY DAVEY: I assume you will have got your DG by now, how does it feel to find that even idols sulk?
(( Well it gave me a good reason to sulk, besides some jerk split Coke all over my copy! I've got to tell the rest of you a story. You see I called Philly, last week over in wonderful England. I said I wanted to talk to her, but I really wanted to talk to Glover. Anyways, Philly tells me that Richard, (Glover, remember) is at an interview in Fiji! Well I don't quite catch what she said and she waits for some reaction from me. So I try to cover up and say, "well, how did it go?" Philly starts to laugh and says, "Don't know quite yet." By now I've figured that Glover isn't there and now all I have to do is find out where he is without seeming foolish. So I ask, "Well, where is it." And she kind of laughs again and says, "It's an island." I think she said "It's in Ireland." Boy did I feel silly. And so the gap between America and Britian widens. and I know I'm boring you, well let's bring some controversy to this letter column!))

BEN SCHILLING: I have an aversion to the no standby type game, although not so much as I do to the DIAS or (shudder) the prophetic build game.
((And so it goes... You won't see a DIAS game here, but I might do a prophetic build game for the new International game depending on the players, when and if I get some.))

CARL RUSSELL: The europeans believe the game is between 7 players and they are correct. A U.S. gm'd game will often involve from 7 to 14 players. That is rediculous. The CD rule means no standby's will be needed unless a player resigns, right? If you're not able to even replace players who give the GM advance notice, I would have to reconsider supporting this rule.
(( Don;t know for sure about the player actually resigning. You must remember that the British hobby is abit more relax about rules. I've only seen one set of house rules and those were Peter Northcott, pubber of the now folding Last Stand, but Pete is a subber to CR and so maybe we could get him to give his views. Pete is considered one of the more hard-lined GMS in Britian. In his rules, from what I gather if a player actually resigns the country still goes into Anarchy. Don't know all the details, maybe some of the British pubbers could tell us more?))

JERRY LUCAS: I like your writing style, especially the quizzes ((?)) with the letter writers.
(( Do you mind writing a letter to my reporting teacher and saying that? So I guess you want me to say something else, Eh? Well forget it! Only some people; John Kador, Dave Rogerson, Mike Mazzer and Richard Linsey could make me fall into traps with their sweet talking ways. Which all leads to nothing, except that I'm coming to the end and have just a few random bits to print.))

PETER ANSOFF: I hadn't planned to resub to TSS: most of the material didn't Really interest me and I Hate the tiny print. Just keep the print big enough so that us over-30 types can make it out.
((This has to be reduced this time. I hope it's not too small!))

WOODY: You're insane to publish, you should have just moved in with me!
((And given that choice, is there any question about why I'm publishing? And so ends another letter column. Thanks to all who wrote and I just wish I could have written to each and everyone of you.))

MR. REE THEATRE - 2

By Mr. Ree

*** Greetings, salutations and other simular expressions. This is dedicated to Scott Hanson for a bogus reason. In one postal game Scott was in, he wrote a press item which included my name. It went something like this:

Rah rah Ree
Kick "em in the knee
Rah rah rass
Kick 'em in the other knee

Bogus eh? Well, if you thought that was a bogus reason for having an issue of Mr. Ree Theatre dedicated in your honor, you should see an issue of Irksome (that's Scott's szine). Latest issue offered "Postal Sex", a game dedicated to Cathy and Eric Cunning. Guess it worked, since Scott and Frauke Hanson are now bound in holy matrimony. If you want a sample, consult your psycho-logist; you definitely got a problem!

Well, I got (so far) one question for this month, and the person submitting it is unsuspecting:

"Dear Mr. Ree,
Does jelly work better than foam when submerged in water?"

Signed Nancy What's-Her-Name"

Nancy is Cathy's room mate, one of several. Nancy and I had an exchange of words recently, but I guess her boyfriend came back from a trip somewheres. And I thought that she really wanted me! Well, I get my revenge now. Last time she stands me up! To answer your question Nancy, I suggest you come over to my place and we can do a little research. Don't forget the "MR. Bubble".

Did you see the butcher job Ms. Cunning did on my column last time? How she got a typist job is beyond me. Tom Mainardi is a superb typist compared to Cathy. In fact, Elsie is a better typist! To help you out Cathy, here's a little present for you:
( ( If he thinks I'm going to print this he's crazy! Somethings go too far))

Do that 5 times fast, and you'll be on your way to becoming a better typist. Maybe if I reprint pages from a touch typing book, sh'd be forced to improve her typing when she types this up each month.

You may have noticed that I've been picking on the girls this month. Some might say that I'm a MCP/ Well, I deny that completely. I could have said that the reason Cathy's such a lousey typist is that her fingernails are too long and always get in the way, but I'm not even going to give a passing mention of it. See how nice a guy I can be?

Oh, I got a real chuckle out of those Dip Con pics printed in last CR. Porter Wightman looks like "Luiggi Viccotti", the mafia leader in Monty Python's "Parahna Brothers" skit. Mark Leudi was right in saying that Barno and Swider are clones; both like sticking their fingers in electrical outlets after taking a shower. They don't look too bright either. And talk about Female Cheuvenist Pigs, look at the way Cathy exploited Jim Williams and Steve Knight. She really wanted good shots of their legs. I hope Eric didn't mind. What? She didn't print a picture of Eric? Well, She's got enough of them anyway.

But more significantly, she didn't print a picture of herself! When Cathy first entered dipdom, many thought she was a fake. Maybe she is? I'd like her to prove that she's real. Maybe Jerry Lucas wanted to try another female publisher act?

Time to ride off into the sunset. Unless I don't get any letters, I'll just have to keep abusing poor sweet Cathy. Or better yet, I'll entertain ideas on how we can get rid of Tallman. He seems to be a big problem. Definitely has got to go. Seattle is only big enough for one publisher --- Seattle, only has one typewriter, too, so that does make publishing two szines a problem. Tallman doesn't know how to type (neither does Cathy, but she tries anyway), so I'd say he's got to fold.

So remember, send in questions, or help me clebrate ABUSE TALLMAN MONTH. Should be easy. Anybody who keeps a slug for a pet must be a east coast reject!

And so we come to the end of another page. Lucky for us a few people did write letters to Mr. Ree this time. Those letters, all two of them will be in the next edition. Most of the time there will be a one issue delay, but don't let that stop you! In fact if you wish to insult Tallman I'll send your questions right away! No more room and I'm going to bed. See you later...

"You'll never find a more logical and informative column than....."

FATHER KNOWS LESS - 1

This sub-zine, is put out by none other than Little, Cute and Gunning, Cathy's Dad, which is me, John Caruso. If you have any fan mail you wish to send to me, my address is 160-02 43Ave Flushing, NY. 11358. And don't be surprised if you happen to see your words in print right here for all the WORLD to see.

How did a smart, intelligent, independent person such as me get "conned" into doing this column? Aha! It wasn't difficult. It all started when my little precious daughter was born. I promised that I'd do anything to help her and see her succeed. Well, my little precious daughter was not happy that I bought us a new home, put food on the table, put clothes on her back. Was this enough for her? Noooooo. She wanted more, so I sent her to school, from kindergarten all the way thru post-graduate school. Still, this was not enough for her. She demanded that she be allowed to publish a monthly periodical, and that I, her undemanding, respectful father should help. So here I is.....

Along the way, though all of my expert guiding and sophisticated experience, my little precious daughter still has managed to stray from life's course and picked up a few bad habits. Let me give you an example or two. When my little precious daughter went away to school, some of her preppie-friends, turned her on to this NEW, DANGEROUS drug on the market, and she has been hooked ever since. It's called COCA COLA. First thing in the morning, a shot at lunch, a swig in the afternoon, a cupfull at night, she just can't get enough of this dangerous drug. Recently she has fallen in love and the love her life, the Elf from Chicago-land, can't tear her away from her addiction.

Another of her bad habits is that she likes to dye (die would be more appropriate) her nose. Have you ever seen anyone with a purple nose? I'm not talking about Bob Olsen stranded in a snow-storm. I'm talking about someone sunbathing at the beach. I've seen her with a blue nose, brown nose (whenever she wants something), red nose (usually at Christmas time), and yes, even with a pink nose.

I could go on and on and on about all the bad little habits my little precious daughter has picked up in her 20 odd years of existence, but I think you all get the point. Try as I must, I will turn her back into the average, everyday, American Woman, just like her dear Ma-Kathy Byrne. Speaking of Kathy.....

Recently, she received a letter from one of her Belgian pen-pals. This crackpot says that all of us Americans are brain washed. That the Russians aren't Communists, and that we are not the saviors of the world. Maybe we are brainwashed, but answer me this Mr Know It ALL- how come when we sent you a cassette with all of us talking on it, your gov't listened to it and returned it to us? I mean lets face it- we must have sent alot of propoganda in that 15 minute tape. Really, the kids talked and laughed alot, Kathy hummed alot, and haaaawed alot and laughed alot too. By the time this comes out, he will have that "censored" tape in his hands as a couple of our friends, Gary Coughlan and Steve "I'D rather eat it than throw it out" Arnawoodian will be hand delivering the castte. For those of you who don't know us, Kathy and I are a bit-shall I say on the light-humoured side. Anyway, thanks to our friends making a special trip to Belgium, just to see that the pinko there gets the tape. At least this country doesn't have censorship, we can say what we like often too much, without fear of being locked up or shot, or, as the commies like to use- INTERNED. Its called FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

If the Russians aren't Communists, then I'm the Pillsbury Dough Boy. What they are, is savage ruthless butchers of innocent people. I don't give a hill of beans about spy planes and unanswered warnings, they FILLED 269 innocent people, all because of their own paranoia. In recent history, the Ruskies have had fishing boats, aircraft and civilians violating our restricted zones. Were they SHOT at? No, we walked up to them and told them to SCRAM! Or our coast guard told the fishing boat to come in for questioning, but the coast guard ship approached the other ship, made itself visible, and communicated. The Russians method of tailing from a distance of 1 mile, and firing a missile when they are not acknowledged is barbarous. Its a simple attempt to justify a wrong, to try to claim that they handled it correctly and that they have A RIGHT to shoot down such aircraft. What we should do is torpedo the next Soviet ship, or shoot down the next Soviet plane, that violates what we call our restricted areas. I'm sure we would be condemned by the entire world, even our allies. But then again, we are not murderers.

Press;

This is me. I get to make a comment right? this game is still going places. All we need is a few players. Philly, if you don't want the English position, could you get me another standby? How about Dave Rogerson? Well Bob wants me to do his Press, so I suspect that I should.

Olsen- GM: Gee, what an international game. Five Americans, one Englishman, and a Texan. By this criterion even Swedish Roundabout was an international game--- one Canadian, one Englishman, one person from the State of Confusion, and me, from the State of Nervous Collapse. Oh pardon me, I quit whining about that one weeks ago.

GM-Olsen: Look, I gave you this position, so you could die early and not whin about it. Meanwhile, I keep looking from some high quality players like you! Ha, ha!

Turkey-Bourse: Hot tip boys--don't buy Turkish.

Ankara: Toady for sale... (Actually I am not a toady, but if I want to survive, I better learn!) Hey Jim-Boob, hou abour some pointers?)

TUR-ITA: I'm no fool, I know all about British culture. Bloody, scrum, lorry, bonnet, football, eh wot, gob, pogo, bobby. Now how about an alliance?

TUR-AUS: I'm no fool, I know all about Texan culture. Saddle, cayuse, arroyo, chili, chaw, spittoon, howdy ma'am. shootarn, cactus. Now how about an alliance?

TUR-RUS: I'm no fool, I know all about Californian culture. Dope, mellow, far-out, heavy, grody, hash, beach, psychobalbble, groove, to the max. Now how about an allaince?

WORLD WIDE HOBBY NEWS

AMERICA : There's still time left to vote in the Marco Poll and the Players Poll. The deadline is Nov. 22, 1983. For the Marco Poll, vote for the 7best zines the 3 best subzines and the 5 best G.M.s and send them to Mark Larzelere's address - 7607 Fontainebleau Dr., Apt. #2352, New Carrollton, MD 20784. For the Players Poll, vote for the five best players and the five best writers in the hobby and send them to my Dad, John Caruso at 160-02 43rd Ave., Flushing, NY 11358. I'm voting and I hope you do too. There's no point in having polls unless there are voters who do bother to vote. Although, I'm not big on polls, I think these two are good and should be kept. So vote or we might as well get rid of all the polls.

Larry Peery has managed to get everyone pissed at him. I didn't even read all of his suggestion as I found them too silly too bother with. I mean a hobby fee on games? It's a noble suggestion, but this is a hobby and we do it because we like it. Yes the pubbers loose money on the zines and the hobby services don't really have enough money to be run the way they should, but if something has to be done, it gets done and this is due to people and their dedication to help not on money. So much for my lecture.

There's a lot of new zines out, but the one I wanted to mention is The End Justifies the Means by James Briggs, P.O. Box 6243, El Paso, TX 79906. What I like about this one is wide offering of games and the first En Garde! game in North America that I know of. It's five weekly and $4.00 for 10 issues.

GREAT BRITIAN: Lot's going on here, but I'll try to keep it breif. The big news is fold of Ripping Yarns. It seems to have been a rather sad affair will a love hate feeling. I never had any love for Rip because of the way I felt I was treated, still it seems Malcolm Smith and Chiz left him, not only high and dry, but also oweing rent money. If you were in any of the games in Bohemian Rhapsody, you are asked to contact Nick Kinzett, 11, Daleway Road, Green Lane Coventry, Cv3 6JF, England. Nick is trying to find homes for the games.

Gary and Woody are visiting the Lamb. Will they live or not? Simon Billenness claims he will have a new zine out soon called the Flame. I Believe. More information when Simon gets back. If anyone out there wants to get in a game with me, I suggest to look at PSYCHOPATH by Mike Dean, "Knockhill Cottage", Newport-on-Tay, Fife, Scotland. The only British zine where Americans can feel at home and Mike is still paying for his mistake. Well out of room! Why can't I ever get anythin done?

The Deadline is November 25, 1983. I have game openings!

Regular Dip: Jerry Lucus, Brian Edwards (do you want to play, Brian?) 5 needed
International Dip: 7 needed.

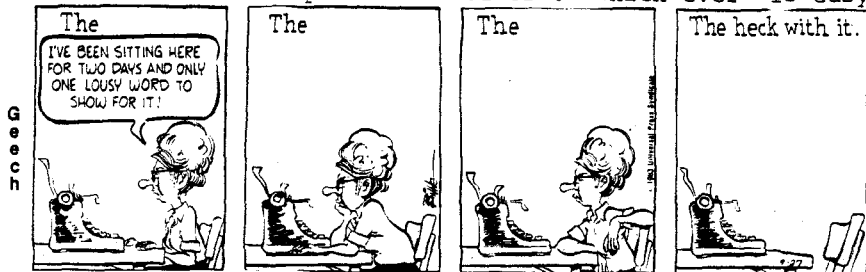

Gun Boat Dip: one signed up. 6 needed.

Sopwith: Irwin Schoeder, more needed. This is a flying Ace type game.

Kingmaker: I need Standbys! Alex is running his games but he wan't start them without the needed players!

My current Stand-by list is - Bob Olsen, Carl Russel, MarkLuedi, Steve Arwoodian, John Davies, Philly Davey, Chuck Doehrer, Jerry Lucas and Roy Henricks. Hugs and kisses to all of you!!!!!!!!!!!!, except Philly, she can pass them onto Glover

Subs are 10 for $6:00 for North American. British is $1.00 an issue or 65p an issue. I will take pounds or dollors. Which ever is easy for you.

Doug -

Bye!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

I'm not late, I just forget you! Sorry, you were in one set of records but not the other - Thanks for the clarifications, but it really wasn't needed. No you don't look too tired. I mean the bags under the eyes hardly show at all and no one would notice the lack of hair as long as you keep Mark Berches picture close by - I know I better shut up before I get in trouble Bye!
