

6.9.11

CELESTIAL MONASTERY

Handwritten signature or initials in the bottom right corner.

The largest Diplomacy zine of the Pacific Northwest is once again of the opinion that it should put out another issue. The Cerebral Nebula is a journal of Postal Diplomacy which is a registered trademark of Games Research, 48 Wareham St., Boston Mass. 02118

Editor: Greg Long
3526 S.W. 112
Seattle, Wash. 98146

Game fees are $3 for all regular games and $2 for most variants. Ten issues for $1 is the current publing price.

The cover of this issue was done by Steve Paasch and it shiws the CN treasury being guarded by one of my servants. The "Hall of CN" recently trounced Peeryhaus in a game of name-calling over the telephone (a rather important event considering the time of year).

*****-----**-----**-----**-----**

Support the IDF

Yes freinds (this game gets to you after a while) the IDF is again ready to do action in the face of opposition. For those of you don't know what the IDF is, I'll tell you; it is the International Diplomacy Federation. The large rise in new players and in new Dippy aines has prompted me to reestablish this organization. With the help of some well known Diplomacy names, the IDF will again try and establish law and order in the Dippy world. A large editorial will appear in the next issue, so, you'll just have to wait until then to hear the Ed.'s soliloquy.

The November issue of Strategy and Tactics has some articles that should be of interest to most of CN's readers. First, your editor wrote an article on how to improve Stalingrad* and Capt. Rod Walker wrote an informative article on Diplomacy. S&T has improved with every issue and is now a must for all wargamers. You'll have to buy it yourself to see how professional it really is. Send 60¢ to: Strategy & Tactics, Box 11 197, Loudonville, New York 12211

Editor goofs

For CN #1 I failed to note that builds were due and as a result I failed to receive very many. As a result of my error, I will allow another issue for the builds ot be submitted.

England: constant
Germany: build 1 (have that build)
France: out
Italy: build 2
Austria: build 1
Russia: constant
Turkey: build 1

Moves are due: Jan. 19

Last Gasp from Lurleens

Lurleens: It was a cold day, unusually cold for Frencian weather. It was windy out and it threatened of rain as the sun tried to break through the overcast. It was gloomy, the kind of day when people weren't out unless they had to be. For the first time Lurleens was under occupation by a foreign power. The people, in protest, avoided the streets as much as they could and refused to admit they had been defeated. In one way it hadn't happened. In another it shouldn't have. Still, resistance was not crushed as one little women, old and yet fiery proud make her way through the cold to a small graveyard near her home. In the graveyard, newly filled with the graves of young soldiers, she stopped, silent, and then quickly placed a small bunch of violets on her son's grave. Then, a moment later, she quickly retraced her steps and was gone. But the smyble was there and suddenly it didn't seem so cold. Viva Free Frenciana!

1967 F (CN#2)
builds

ENGLAND: BUILD F LONDON

GERMANY: BUILD A BARK, KIEL, MÜNICH (As you can see below, Greg ITALY: BUILD A VENICE & F NAPLES. did not receive builds before he typed 2 in. Luckily, I got them before running off the 2 in. - L.O.B.)

TURKEY: REMOVE F BULGARIA

GERMANY, I hope that you will get over this thing about missing your builds. Spring 1904 moves are due: Thursday, Jan. 18

GM: Greg Long, 3526 SW 112, Seattle, Wash. 98146

=====1967AG (CN#3)=====

builds 1902

ENGLAND: A LONDON

FRANCE: constant

GERMANY: A BERLIN & A KIEL

ITALY: retreat Trieste- Tyr// A VENICE & F NAPLES

AUSTRIA: NMR? build nothing, remove F ablania (Good Lord! remove Fleet Albania)

RUSSIA: retreat StP- Livonia/ build A Moxscow

TURKEY: constant

Moves are due: Thursday, Jan 18

too Doug Beyerlein, 3934 SW Southern, Seattle, Wash. 98116

FLASH

Roland Eudiker informs me that he will be unable to continue the play as Turkey in CN #1. I therefor am asking for replacement moves in that game. The first person to send in builds for Turkey will replace him.

(00)

Just testing!

Game- antonomous (don't ask me!)

Regular Diplomacy: Arc (paid), Rhodes (paid), Haramis (paid #2)
Jackson Greene, Lawrence William Peery

Inter University: Tom Rosenbaum, Ed Hall (both paid up)

Imp VIII.: Haggart (paid), Wittman (paid), Stewart, White (paid)
Curran (paid), Gemignani (paid), Rosenbaum (paid)
Roark

Yes that's ^{eight?} seven people signed up for Imp VIII. However, I have only received dues from some of the players. Anybody is free to send in the dues for this game as I'm not holding the above players a position.

* Support Star Trek *

"This is a campaign to save STAR TREK - your cooperation is needed to pass the word to friends, neighbors, clubs and readers. If you are publishing before mid-January, copy this material for further distribution, please, as time is important. Cancellation of the show is a definite possibility, unless thousands of letters and petitions offset STAR TREK's low ratings. Though unofficial polls in magazines have shown that public interest in STAR TREK is high, the networks tend to take Nelson as "gospel" unless fans show NBC with many letters that they want the show to stay on TV."

-John & Bjo Trimble

Although space considerations prohibit me from repeating the whole letter I think that the message is quite clear. Probably the freshest and most interesting program is in the danger of going off the air. Fellow science fiction fans are going to have to send in letters to offset this trend. The fact is, letters that networks do receive are a major factor in the decisions made by the networks. Those are the facts. For the complete spiel write The Trimbles at: 243 Santa Rosa, Oakland, Calif. 94610

Addresses of who to write to save Star Trek:

Julian Goodman Pres.
National Broadcasting C.
Rockefeller Plaza
York, NY 10026

Mr. Mort Werner
NBC Television
30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York, NY 10026

Mr. Herbert
Schlosser, NBC-TV,
3000 W. Alameda
Blvd., Burbank, Calif.

Greg Long
3526 S.W. 118
Seattle, Wash. 98146