CIRCLE TRIGON is a publication of Total Loss Press, which is well named. It is published in spite of the public interest by Bob Ward, 8665 Florin Road # 176, Sacramento CA 95823. Telephone calls are accepted at 916-383-5946 at your own risk and cost. Subs are now 8 issues for one dollar but will go to 13 issues for 2 dollars when postal rates increase.

I neglected to publish a deadline last issue/ when I found it I decided to let it go as an experiment; to see if the regularity of publication would generate an awareness of the deadline without my mentioning it. As this is typed the night before deadline we have all but one set of moves already in and on file. If that set is not here tomorrow I will call so as not to delay publication.

When asked what Austrian forces considered their Italian policy the good Emperor replied "defensive outposts".

The Zoo: Winter has come and the bears are safe and warm in their cave. They love their cave so much they went in to hibernate in mid July and haven't been seen since!

PARIS: President Duke wished to inform the world today that if England wishes to pursue the policy of matching the sea power with that of France, she will end up in a similar predicament to that of Germany! She will be humbled to a nation of shame. Duke warned the King of England that France had hidden naval might which is beyond his comprehension and could be employed at any whim of the President against England.

AGGRESSOR HOMELAND: Reliavle sources reported that the hidden naval might of France had been stored in the Naples Shipyard.. The Austrians did not recognize the power of the weapon and poured it all down the drain as undrinkable.
