The Players -- Changes to Roster in P-82: Ver Ploeg: phone # 312-864-0645; Boyer: phone # 717-249-1343; Von Metzke: phone # 714-239-1574; Jeff Power: (CoA 'til 6 Aug) 312 Roncalli Hall, Boston College, Chestnut Hill, MA, 02167; Dick Reiter (temporary CoA) PSC Box 2103, Scott AFB, IL, 62225; Larry St. Cyr, Jr. (CoA 'til 20 Aug) 329 Brett, U. Mass., Amherst, MA, 01002 (back at address in P-82 20 Aug-3 Sept; can't be reached 3-10 Sept; after 10 Sept: 1512 George Washington, U. Mass., Amherst, MA, 01002); George Schelz, Jr. (CoA until at least July 29) % General Delivery, Hampton Bays, L.I., NY. Hope we got 'em all!

The House-Rules -- As published in DIPLOMANIA #26. These are mandatory.

The Gamesmaster -- For all games, Don Miller, 12315 Judson Rd., Wheaton, Md., 20906 (ph.: 301-933-5417; call only Mon. or Thurs., between 9 & 10 p.m., EDT). Note that we'll be away 24-31 July, so no calls then, please.

Replacement Players -- See list in #79, with changes as noted in #82; add Von Metzke as #3 Stand-By player for games QIC & QJC; more are still needed. Lots of misses thish, from usually very dependable players (we have this recurring nightmare about finding the missing moves while going through our pile of incoming material for AUX ARMES!, or THE GAMESLETTER, or THE GAMESMAN, or SON OF THE WSFA JOURNAL, or THE WSFA JOURNAL, or.... But not until after thish has been mailed out....; we have this same nightmare every time some moves fail to get in...and it usually turns out they were never mailed.... So please get your moves in on time, every time, and save the GM from going prematurely gray.... And, for your own benefit, since the mails seem to be getting less and less dependable, you had better take advantage of some of the "insurance" policies we offer you to avoid possible p.o. goofs (such as General Orders). It's a real shame to see people put their all into a game for two years or more, and then see it go down the drain with one missed move, as did GCC, QAC, and QBC....)

At any rate, needed for nextish are stand-by replacement moves from: Larry St. Cyr (GCC: ENG); Ken Webber (QAC: RUS; QFC: ENG; QIC: All 7 countries); Andy Phillips (QDC: A-H); Rick Brooks (QFC: FRA; QDC: ITA); Fausto Calabria (QHC: FRA; FNI: CONNACHT); _____ (DCA: TUR); and, of course, the usual from the stand-by replacement player for GER in QAC (Von Metzke) (note that stand-by moves are no longer needed for Reiter, as he is no longer overseas). #### Oh, yes, permanent stand-by player (moves ea. turn) needed for GERMANY in QIC.

Bourses -- Players note that standing Bourse orders are executed at end of each Bourse session. For rules concerning distribution of New Dd. in case of draw, refer to DIPLOMANIA #28, page 12. (Currency of drawing countries redeemed at rate of N/18.) #### If checked, you have two misses in row (i.e., no orders of statement to continue) in Bourse QAC , QBC , QCC , QDC , QEC , QFC ; one more and you are out of appropriate Diplobourse. #### If checked, you have one miss in Bourse QAC , QBC , QCC , QDC , QEC , QFC .

Miscellaneous -- No current game-openings. #### Late moves received by phone for Tretick for QHC (not used). Players are reminded that while we can use late moves received by mail (and postmarked before deadline) if we have not typed or gamesmastered game, we can under no circumstances use late moves received by phone (as players sometimes discuss game after deadline has passed, knowing that the moves cannot be changed).

Propaganda --

Byzantium (1 Nov 1909) (B Horror Weapons, Constantinople) -- Herr Doktor Praeludium Liebestod (Ger. liebes tod, jumping frog) today announced that he had been commissioned by His Imperial Majesty to form the Byzantine Imperial Horror Weapons Institute near the capital. The purpose of the Institute will be "zu machen der götterdämmerung verschlugginer grössten bladybus looken wieso einem kleines pinckelfächt. Wir doingk das, too, ja so mir gott!"

London (B PPK) -- Ah, the Russkies set up for returns, but it shall eventually avail them not, for the most noble of platypussae shall stalk their paths once again and forever more. There's many a stormy cloud in the Southeast, but there are no noble platypussaes there yet, so it's hardly too likely that one could have been bested in combat. Wishful thinking, is all.

Moscow -- This game is as good as won for me now. The Dytchman will not be able to hold ANY of these three centers which he has just seized, and will never be able to recover from the blows which I shall rain upon him in the season to come. From here, it's just a minot step back up the ladder to victory.

Rome (X) -- "good strategy/tactics"?? Please! I've just eaten--don't make me ill! Speaking of cretins, who was the dullard in the Admiralty who ordered the Tyrr occupied from Lyo??

San Diego (29 June 1971) (submitted by non-player) -- Certain would-be game-winners would be surprised to know that some people are in this game. But what's worse, Brentie, look at the press in QEC and discover that you're in another game too!

QBC Diplobourse -- MARKET DORMANT, AS TRADERS SIT ON THEIR HOARDS!

Propaganda --

Albrechtsbergerburg, Saxony (A.C.7.577) (F Sev (H)) -- Remnants of the Russian Sixty-Fifth Army staggered into this gorgeous little toen on the Prussian frontier today, complaining of massive sickness and nausea. The acting Commander, 2d.
Lt. Friedrich Wilhelm von Nemmatod, was quoted as croaking, "Someone's playing in this game who shouldn't be. We were all prepared for nematodes and Imperious Majesties and 200-megabilges. And whammo! we ran smack into a platypus pie!" So saying, he coughed his last. Command of the Army now reverts to the other survivor, Francisco, the late Lieutenant's pet parrakeet.

Arne, White Russia (A.C.7.69/53) (a Worland-Ft.Lauderdale) -- With the passing of the Spring maneuvers, the great Nematode Tunnel from the Legend to England has lost its usefulness. The dumb-bunny British have given up two supply centers in exchange for one loud "BLEAH", and the Nematodes will have to put aside their voracious lusts for English entrails and wait for a better day. Latest word is that the tunnel will be re-routed to Worland, Wyoming (U.S.A.) in order to make available to the Russian people the benefits of Wyoming orange juice.

Arriaga, Wyoming, U.S.A. (A.C.7.8) (a Worland-Rock Springs, Wheatland, Laramie, with shuttle service to Cheyenne and Jackson Hole) -- The Wyoming orange juice industry has struck it rich. With the competition from inferior brands from Texas, California, and (urch) Florida taking most of the market, Wyoming orange growers had just about given up. But today, on the outskirts of this tiny hamlet near Worland, a large hole--the far end of a massive tunnel--opened up, and 4,000,674,872²³ screeching nematodes emerged in a rush. In seven minutes all the orange juice in Wyoming was gone, and the growers had a net profit of sixty billion dollars. "Man alive!" was all one of the growers could say, "Ah'm shore glad Larry moved out of the Irish Sea!"

Auber, Crimea (A.C.7.92) (A Legend-everywhere in Europe--after all, Eurail passes are only $99 for 99 days) -- Chief Nematode Fred Furd, Russian diplomat on vacation here, issued the following statement about His Insipid Majesty Nero II: "You stupid dumb bone-headed !$$XX?&!, why don't you go back to the (---) where you hatched?" ### In a similar dispatch from Moscow, the Tsar was even less nice.

London -- Curse you, Von Metzke!

Novogath -- The Romanist propaganda displays its usual ineptness. Their horror weapon, it is claimed, trundled off from Novogath toward Philistia. We suppose that Nero walks from Paris toward Francs. Just what would be expected from someone who thought to subdue us with a (snicker!) Beshara. Latest reports from Italy are that the campaign is going swimmingly; all Calabria and Apulia are buried three miles deep in ordure. Notice how the navy had to evacuate Naples?

Rome (30 April 1907) (F Iri-Wal) -- His Imperious Majesty today noted His displeasure at the lack of interest shown in the Bourse in trading in denarii. "It's the best damn currency in Europe!" shouted Emperor Nero, holding up a coin. It turned out to be a plastic job, bearing the legend "The Cathouse, Neu-Gomorra, Poderkagg" on the obverse and "Good For One" on the reverse. Finally, Nero found a denarius and held it up. It glittered gold in the sun. Feeling it and eating the chocolate, the Emperor noted that 10 denarii were on sale every Bourse-season and He was going to drive the bidding up. "We bid 100 denarii", He said. For the next 10 hours, the Emperor's Council of Economic Advisors tried to show Him the error of so doing, but in the end they had to give up.

Vienna (A Vie-Gal) -- Sorry about that, but nematodes make me nervous.

Propaganda --

Berlin (Sept. 14, 1902) -- The Kaiser swears to drive Russia into the sea. He calls the Tzar a coward and his Generals feeble-minded. His great alliance with England, the Kaiser is confident, will be too much for Russia, especially when one considers that either England or Germany alone is too much for Russia. The Kaiser calls His alliance with England one of the great alliances of all time.

The Players -- Standby-players 1 and 2 (Rod Walker and Ken Webber), please send in stand-by SPRING'01 moves for all seven countries, in case they are needed.
WINTER, 1900 Propaganda --

Constantinople -- The Sultan of the Turkish Empire, Abdul I, has recently suffered from an excess of suntan on his feet, and he wants to make it clear that he is not fit for combat. Therefore, the Sultan wishes peace towards all of his enemies who have been fortunate to not suffer from an excess of sunlight on their feet. Also of importance is the recent decree by the Sultan to behead the weatherman who had forecast a cloudy day.

Impassable -- Is the rumor that Turkey and Russia have a treaty to not move into the Black Sea true? Is the rumor that France and Italy have a treaty to not move troops into the Piedmont true? Is the rumor that Russia won't attack Germany and vice versa true? Is the rumor a Black Propagandist is rampant true? Is the rumor that A-H has a secret weapon (which they need to hold off Italy, Turkey and Russia) true? See you three weeks same time, same place.

Propaganda --

London -- Hello, Serbia. Now we understand why you won't agree to identify yourself. That way you can fake an excuse to go around calling people homosexuals. Why don't you go to hell?

Serbia -- After you'd used it to build your positions past the point of no return, it was mighty fine of you to offer to let us legitimize your cheating.

Error in P-82 -- Under TUR Builds/removals, add "(E) F Ven".

Deadline for SUM'18 retreats (ENG: A Con; TUR: A Tri, F Ion) and Propaganda -- Noon, Tues., August 3.

FOH (Mordor-Versus-the-World IV $\frac{1}{2}$) -- MORDOR VICTORIOUS!

FOH (Continued) --

GM Note -- The following was received from RHOVANION (Pulsipher): "No use dragging out the game when the others don't want to, so I concede." Since both the other two non-Mordor players (ARNOR: Jerry White, and ROHAN: Andy Phillips) conceded to MORDOR (Brian Libby) last turn, the game has now ended, with MORDOR (Brian Libby) the winner by concession. No builds were received from Libby, so final (COIRE, 3009) counts are: MORDOR: 27 centers, 26 units; ARNOR, 3 and 3; RHOVANION, 3 and 3; and ROHAN, 1 and 1. (Note that we did not count DU's, and counted DA's, TA, MA's, as single units.) Congratulations, Brian!

Propaganda --

Battle Creek -- I never thought I'd see you quit, Andy, even as a replacement.

Carn Dum -- "Deserted by our friends, we may abandon the field to the enemy, but we will never surrender. Middle-Earth is lost, the Third Age ended, but there will be later Ages." Slowly the survivors of Rhovanion boarded the last Elven vessels in Middle-Earth, which had miraculously appeared through the ice and mist. Gandalf may never return to Middle-Earth, but others like him will.

Rhovanion -- How is it that Sauron can accept surrender? Last time was supposed to be final. Knave of Darkness to the end....

Sauron, Emperor of all Middle-Earth, to his subjects old and new sends greeting! Great was the cost, but greater is the victory. To the people of Gondor (such few as are left) We send Our thanks, for unless they had run through three rulers in four turns, Our victory would have been more difficult. To Rhovanion, many thanks for the use of your country during most of the game--hope you liked Moria. The elves of Eriador fought well--We may even let a few live. Finally, to the horse-lords of Rohan: without your aid Mordor could not have won. We sincerely regret the tragic necessity of breaking the alliance, but when your government changed We had no other choice but to use "preventive treachery".
ONE RING TO RULE THEM ALL/ONE RING TO BIND THEM!

GM Again -- Thus endeth the saga of Middle-Earth (until we open a new game).

Propaganda --

Alcuyd (DA) -- In clear then; keep ordering Lot-Cal, Iri-Nth, Englishman!

Cork -- King Teige, upon awakening from his coma, was in a towering rage.

"Does Thorfinn Vaunt think that the Gael are dependent upon him for fish? If such is the mind which guides the destinies of Orkney, I am fearful for it."

Meanwhile, news came that a certain "scurrilous versificator" had been banished from the court, and was heading north.

Wexford -- Turlogh Dubh was at the end of his endurance. Not through leagues of country filled with clashing warriors had his eldritch pursuers relented. Soon, the Stone would be back within their grasp. The first dark shape cackled and reached towards him--to vanish as soon as it touched the mail coat. The O'Brien grinned. He had forgotten the more recondite properties of iron! The Lia-Fail was restored.

GM Note -- We were asked the following questions: "How do multi-player A/F's affect ownership of sc's? Also, shouldn't there be an 'c and (c to cover holding in a sea and coastal province respectively?" To answer the first one: The owner of the Fleet must order a multi-player A/F. Therefore, the center belongs to the owner of the Fleet, unless otherwise stated in the orders to the Fleet. As for the second part, we're going to have to study the question at our leisure (too rushed now to get this issue out); in the interim, we'd appreciate comments on this from the rest of you. (We also need a rule concerning the strength of an attacked A/F (the rules as currently written cover only the offensive actions of an A/F).)

Deadline for AUT'19 retreats (CON: A Cas, A Ros) and W'19 builds/removals -- Noon, Tues., August 3.

NOTE: Craig Mills, you still owe 50¢ on your game-fee; please pay by Aug. 3 if you wish to remain in game. ##### To the best of our knowledge, the presence of three Virginia players is a coincidence; none of them knew each other before the game. And we expect that one of them will be going back to school in R.I. this fall, while the other two live some distance from each other.

GM Note -- Countries were assigned as follows: First, unique first choices were assigned (Borecki: TURKEY); next, first-choice ties were resolved by chance (Craig Mills: ENGLAND; George Lowrance: FRANCE); third, unique second-place choices were assigned (Hodin: RUSSIA); fourth, second-choice ties were resolved by chance (Tomneson: GER); no unassigned third-place choices remained; unique fourth-place choices were assigned (Lakofka: AUSTRIA-HUNGARY); there were no unassigned fifth- or sixth-place choices remaining; finally, the remaining country (ITALY) was assigned to the remaining (unlucky--his-7th choice!) player, Charles Welsh (the first time we ever got as far down as 7th-place....).
