the DIPLOMACY (the game created by Allan Calhoun, but now owned and marketed by the Avalon Hill Corp) was first published in the Sunday Western Star-Post-Free Press, Vol 12, No 4, March 18, 1964-

DIPPY is published by the Great Western Publishing Co & Whalebene Corset Works Inc, a.k.a. Jim Benes, 417 S Stough St, Hinsdale, Ill 60521. Game fee is $5 plus a continuing subscription to this rag at the rate of 3 issues per dollar.

A LONG TIME AGO one Jeff Richmond (3313 Platt Rd, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104) was a player in these pages. Now, Jeff is launching his own DIPLOMACY publishing venture, to be called PROBOZZ. The first issue will appear as soon as he finds 7 interested people. The sub rate will be 10 issues/$3.50 with a game fee of $4. If you're willing to take a chance by giving a guy a hand with a new venture, why not contact Jeff?

WE TRUST YOU ALL enjoyed a Happy St Patrick's Day!

Press:

HINSDALE--There is another proposal on the table for a concession to Austria-Hungary. To end the game the vote must be unanimous, but silence will be considered as acquiescence. Please let us know your vote with the Winter turn.

VIENNA--The Vienna Times has announced plans to expand its circulation outside of the current boundaries of the Empire. It was also announced that its masthead, "Voice of the Balkans and Italy," will be changed to "Voice of Europe."

VIENNA TIMES, VOICE OF EUROPE--The Balkan Bloodsucker, Count von Redmond, held a press conference today to answer questions about the long run aims of the recent military activities against Turkey. Despite relentless questioning, all the Minister of State would say is "the east is red."

VIENNA/CHICAGO--Looks tough, guys. Obviously, my position is due much more to luck and NMR's than skill, but at this point I think even I can hold on for the win. Shall we save postage and move on to the Orwell?

PARIS TABLOID--Concede? Never! Didn't we all sign up for this to enjoy a good fight??

PARIS TABLOID--Stoges? You mean like Moe, Larry, and Curly? I heard they changed their names to Phil, Dwayne & Ken.

PARIS TO LONDON--Now that I am in Belgium I am ready to make any deal you want.

PARIS TO ANKARA, LON, VIENNA--As a world power that had never been out of his own country till 1902 I do not agree to the draw. How about Aust/Hung, France, England?

PARIS TO VIENNA--I have plenty of time to study, work 2-jobs, go to school, have a girlfriend, go to the bar three nights a week, and play 3 games of Dips. Let the game continue!

PARIS TO ANKARA--Join Snowball fighting with Pata! He says it's OK!

PARIS TO WORLD--I'll be at my home address for spring break. That's March 17 to March 24 (HINSDALE; see above).

TURKEY--Balkan Bloodsucker, I was planning to stab you in the back because I have known for a long time you really ARE a bloodsucker! OK, boys. Let's stop the flow at 17. Then, watch it coagulate. Attack!

VIENNA TO ROME—Now I know that the word you give is worthless. I suppose that the Sultan and the Czar are not going to like me much. But you are going to learn not to trifle with the Austrian anger. Please DO NOT try to save the situation now...think I will suicide out against you and get into the new game. Good news, Paris?

VIENNA TO CONSTANTINOPLE—er, ah, make that Ankara. At least I got a build and have good position on all sides. How about doing some Bulk...an business?

VIENNA TO MOSCOW—When you play the Russian position, you should show some concern when the Turk moves to Armenia. If you do not, it gives your alliance away.

VIENNA TO HINSDALE—Sign me up for #25!

TASS—With nothing better to do in the winter the tsar held two massive keg parties in the kremlin. Rumor has it that the tsar received some paper work on drunk and disorderly charges. The tsar had no comment on the rumors.

TASS—Rumors also has it that the tsar will be road tripping to Malaga during spring break. He hopes a visit with the Pope can be arranged.

BAD NEWS FROM COAST

HERB COHN

This issue of the STAR is really turning into a downer. Not only do we have the bad news about the ENGS, but GEORGE HINES reports that two little children who lived along his mail route were killed in a fire recently. Apparently they had been playing with matches. As George puts it, "such a waste."

Put there is SOME good news. SUE HINES has won a STATE JOURNAL-REGISTER (that's the Springfield newspaper) contest. She's pocketed $20 and has a chance of winning a big Hawaiian vacation later this month. Good luck, Sue!

Meanwhile, hubby GEORGE will be off to Atlantic City for a postal workers meeting (Atlantic City, the place with the casinos? Working meeting? Hmmm) later this month.

RICH KING & RON GORSKI are enjoying the Florida sun and Spring training this week. A tornado hit Ft Lauderdale. Blame them!

ANDI WILEY will be going back to work briefly (2 days) for the ABA. It's great to be a consultant, isn't it?

MARY NOVAK is puzzling over what she should tell her alumni news about what she's been doing that's exciting. Why not mention your work at the Harlem Club on Harlem Ave, Mary?

The World's Degradeest Newspaper...

QUOTABLE: "We're developing a reputation as the hanging capital... I love it. I think they ought to have electric bleachers and just tell them Death Row inmates they're going to watch a football game or something"—Radiator service operator Randy Rowell of Starke, Fla, expressing pride that his hometown is the location for Florida State Prison, where executions are carried out...

FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE STAR:

—Reporting from "Somewhere in France" in August of 1917, the STAR described World War I air battles recreated via the famed FIGHT IN THE SKIES game...

—A drunken hit-and-run driver was being blamed for sideswiping Jack Frost's car, causing $1500 damage to the vehicle, and a minor head injury to Frost...

—Jackson Hole GM/Coach Alex McKeag appealed for "a return to sanity in the TBA," saying "you can't legislate against stupidity" McKeag called on TBA havenots to stop grumbling about supposed dynasties and let time and the charts work on the talent levels of the various organizations in the Association. The division leaders were Whitehorse (12-5), Bolingbrook (15-2) and Macomb (10-3)...

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2—A double dose of bad news has hit Tom & Char Eng. Firemen's Fund Insurance Co has terminated Eng, and doctors have disclosed that Charlene's mother is suffering from leukemia.

A stoic Eng told the STAR "That old saying 'when it rains, it pours' really applied to me this past week."

The stage of the leukemia hasn't yet been disclosed, but with luck Char's mother still may be able to survive for some years.

Eng, meanwhile, is contemplating legal action against Fireman's Fund, which urged him to move from South San Francisco to exclusive Marin County only eight months ago. Now, the diminutive computer whiz/marathoner finds himself with a big mortgage and six weeks' severance.

He has been spending his time looking for a new job in this Mecca of high tech, and he still may be making a visit to Chicago next month, although its purpose may now be to retain some of Chicago's finest hitmen to terminate the terminators.

Elsewhere in the area of labor & capital, members of the Writers Guild voted not to strike CBS, and now will be given the opportunity to vote on acceptance of the contract worked out between the union and the company.

WHITE CITY COUNCILMAN INSISTS HE'S BLACK

by Jonathan Sharp

SAN FRANCISCO (PIRATED from the Reuters News Agency)—Mark Stebbins is white, with blue eyes and ginger hair, but he insists he is black, or at least feels black and identifies with black people.

Last year he ran successfully in a local election in the city of Stockton, east of San Francisco, and became a councilman representing a predominantly black district.

This did not please the previous incumbent, whose name is Ralph White, but who is unquestionably black.

Now, in one of the oddest disputes in California's often bizarre political history, White is seeking to have Stebbins removed as councilman, claiming that he cheated black voters by saying he was black.

But Stebbins, whose parents, grandparents, brother and sisters are identified as white, says: "I'm black as far as I'm concerned. I identify with black."

White, who had represented the district for 12 years and lost the election by 144 votes, argues that many black voters in the district would not have voted for Stebbins if they had known that he was white-skinned.

The disgruntled ex-councilman carries around with him copies of Stebbins' birth certificate saying that both his parents were white.

So are his four sisters, a brother and all his grandparents. But Stebbins, who has spent most of his career as a social worker in poor districts of San Francisco and Stockton, still insists that, as far as he is concerned, he is black.

Stebbins' first wife, by whom he had two children, was white, but his second and third wives have been black. He wears his hair in the Afro style adopted by many blacks.

In a newspaper interview Stebbins said the trouble started when he spoke before an influential black group during the election campaign.

Many in Stockton agree that Stebbins' skin color should not matter. "If he has a black orientation, he's one of us," said Mark Faley, head of the Black Studies Department at the local university.

Stebbins is also supported by Stockton's mayor, Randall Ronk, who has won a temporary delay of the recall election procedure under which White hopes to have Stebbins ousted from the city council. Others argue there is no reason why Stebbins should not represent blacks just because of his fair skin.

Whatever their color, White and Stebbins are at opposite ends of the spectrum in terms of personality. The bespectacled Stebbins sometimes speaks so quietly he is inaudible, while White is a brash extrovert, often calling himself the "Black Messiah" of the local community.

While Stebbins lives and works with the poor, White is a highly successful businessman, reportedly a millionaire who made his fortune as a nightclub operator and a bail bondsman.

True to his outspoken style, White claims that he is the victim not only of a political confidence trick but also of a nationwide plot against elected black officials.

As evidence he notes that the only other black councilman in Stockton also lost in last November's election.

Of Stebbins' claim to be black, White says: "If the momma is an elephant and the daddy is an elephant ~~xx~~ they sure can't have no lion. They got to have a baby elephant."

THE DUKE SPEAKS OUT

News!

In another one of our famous "_____ speaks from the grave" interviews, the STAR has been able to contact John "The Duke" Wayne! The famous redneck had a lot to say about current events, including our Marine withdrawal from Lebanon, and the White House.

Well Americans, I never thought I'd be embarassed to wear this uniform. I never thought I'd live to see the day when our lethernecks would turn tail and run. I was right on that account. I didn't live that long!

Anyway, I hear they let those camel jockeys run roughshod over us in Lebanon. Well, I don't know what's happered to the values of this country, dad-gum-it. But when I was making movies, why, we knocked 'Dolph Hitler and his boys all the way back to Berlin without battin' an eye! And Tojo got his can kicked so hard he couldn't eat rice for a week! Now, we're lettin' some rug merchants tell us what we can and can't do! I'll be horn-swaggled!

And hey, if I knew the big payoff to an acting career was the White House, I would have given it a try. What the heck, I'd have made a better president than this Reagan guy. I never made a lightweight movie with a monkey. And I certainly never would have married Jane Wyman! Heck, you talk about crime. I'd have taken care of that. I'd have named Broderick Crawford to run the FBI. And believe me, we wouldn't be taking any crap from the Reds neither. I'd make George C. Scott Secretary of Defense! Now, we've got guys like Hal Holbrook and George Hamilton dealin' with the Ruskies, crawlin' around like sissies & worms. Yecht. That turns my guts. See ya. I'm gettin' outta here.

TRUE STORIES...

Illinois is the 17th most stressful state in which to live. Nevada is the most stressful, with Alaska right behind. The least stressful is Nebraska.

The latest fad on the gift circuit...wallets, purses, and belts made from chicken skin.

Wilbur Weiner is this year's winner of the annual Nerd competition at the University of California. Wilbur had a pocketful of pens and arms laden with books like, "How To Make Love to Your Calculator." One runner-up wore a "Kick Me" sign on his back.

In Peking, China, tradition has it that friends and relatives toss firecrackers into the air right after the wedding ceremony. Guess what? Two of them landed on the head of the bride and killed her!

In Los Angeles, a man has been arrested on cruelty to animals charges. He reportedly killed several cats. Now autcpsies are underway to find out whether they were sexually molested, really!

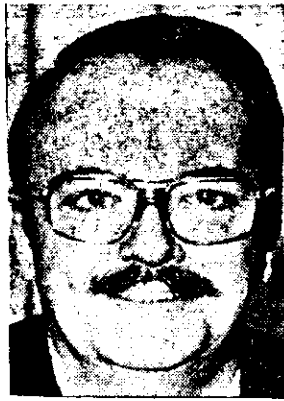

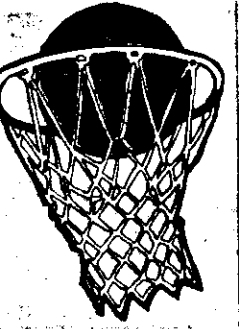

And animal "lovers" beware...you could get sick. The American Medical Association reports a woman got plague pneumonia while trying to comfort her ailing cat. That included face-to-face cuddling. Both woman & kitty died.

T B A PLAYOFF PREVIEW

Why is this man smiling? He's Augusta Winds owner DOUG "The Dur" DURHAM, who has to wonder if offense is enough. TBA gadflies are asking, "Where's the beef?" on defense!

98ers owner JIM BENES prays for miracle to make it through first round. Self-doubt reflects on team play. Sez, "We're one player away from being tough." Concedes, "We're lucky to be here."

Bedecked in typical western garb, Parrot owner BOB O-SUCH-A-HUNK ponders fate after making playoffs by winning "Easiest division in the league. We're not playing the Dudes now!"

Mohawk mentor JOHN McARDLE promises to, "Dance all over anybody we play in the playoffs!"

JACK FROST is all smiles after being picked as playoff favorite. But his Screaming Eagles still have to get past the likes of Mohawk and Naperville.

Suns owner RON GORSKI dons crash helmet, knows playoffs, "Will tax us to the max. But I'm hopeful we can repeat as champs and wear the crown again!"

KING, COACH Picked For Broadcasts

Denver--TBA Commish James "Theo" Benes has picked Depaul coach Ray Meyer as color man for playoff broadcasts. He'll be teamed up with play-by-play guy Rich "Dick" King.

Benes is under fire for both choices, since everybody knows Phil "Mr. Broadcasting" Kosin should have gotten the nod for the play-by job, with Rich "Court Savvy" Mylak doing his usual great job with insightful color.

Jimmy "The Greek" Snyder will introduce the features, while Brent Musberger will keep the stats.

SUMMARY

Lou Fette made his first start for Boston since he shutout the Pirates for ten innings in a game the Bees eventually lost 1-0. He threw a two hitter at Brooklyn, and had a shutout until the 9th when Fette tired, walked two, and allowed a double off the bat of Dodger catcher Babe Phelps. Fette ran his record to 4-1 in the 7-2 Boston victory.

The Giants plated ten runs in the fifth inning to break up a 3-3 tie with the Phillies, as Carl Hubbell (2-3) went the distance in the 15-3 rout. Three Giants, Jo Jo Moore, Dick Bartell, and Harry "the Horse" Danning, all had 4 hits apiece.

Chicago, behind Tex Carleton (4-1) beat Pittsburgh, 6-3. Rip Collins had a homer (#2) for the Cubbies. Rookie Jim E. Tobin (0-2) went the route in losing.

Cincinnati ran its win streak to six with a 5-1 win over the slumping Cardinals at Sportsman's Park. Ernie Lombardi had four hits, including a homerun (#5) to help Peaches Davis get his third win against only one loss. Roy Henshaw, who just a week or so ago had one-hit Philadelphia, again got bounced around to take the loss (1-4). There's some speculation he may be ticketed to Little Rock.

The Redbirds sold rookie first baseman Dick Siebert to the Philadelphia A's after the ball game.
