Press:

HINSDALE--First of all we made a slight typographical error last time, listing a Russian army in bur when we obviously meant BER. Sorry about that. Secondly, it pains us greatly to see Mike McGreevy miss three moves in a row. Mike worked hard to achieve a good position in this game. We hope he'll try again. We tried to phone him as we went to press with this game, but he was out of the office. Other needed addresses: Doug Casper, 9876 Forest Glen, Cincinnati, Ohio 45242. ~~TE~~ Mark E May, 505 S Busey #401, Urbana, Illinois 61801.

LONDON--Okay, Russia! It's time we showed you how it is done!

DIPPY Game #16, the Three Mile Island, 1979AS, Winter, 1908:
And chalk up another slight error for us here. Austria-Hungary owns three centers, bud, war, and vie (vie was omitted last time), so it has no change needed...

NICKY CLARK APOLOGIZES TO THE TBA

By Bluto Myberg

In an EXCLUSIVE interview with this reporter, Nicky Clark, GM of the Augusta Winds, apologized to all involved in the TBA for the recent list of untruths and false innuendos he uttered for Winds owner Doug Durham. Asked why he did it

Clark said, "My boss was having one of his temper tantrums and threatened me with my job."

Clark admits, as proved later at the TBA owners' meeting, that he lied to Frost about trading or cutting three defensive guards by the time of the meeting.

Clark admits that Ron Gorski of Naperville did not inform him that Frost (Alliance franchise owner Jack Frost) intended to "welch" on the deal. Instead Gorski informed Clark that Frost had decided not to consummate the proposed fleecing, as was his (Frost's) right under the rules of the TBA which Durham had endorsed in joining the TBA.

Clark said he felt like a fool forwarding the threat of his boss to have "Frost divested of his franchise." The Winds GM said, "My boss is big on idle threats during his holdover fits."

Nicky Clark stated that his greatest shame was in renewing his boss's attempts to seek revenge by causing a rift in the friendship of two others. Clark, nearly in tears, said "that was the final straw." "If I get fired for being a man about this whole thing, so be it!"

In conclusion Clark, a repentive man, said "In Arena's (sportswriter Ralston) column it said the question is not whether an apology is owed, but by who to whom. Apparently I'm the only man big enough to make that apology to the rest of the TBA on behalf of the Augusta Winds."

AN APPEAL FOR MONEY!
SEND MYLAK TO CAMP!

By Ralph Guano, STAR
Travel Editor

The Western STAR-Post-Free Press is beginning a fund drive for a very charitable purpose: we want to send little Richie Mylak to camp.

It's not an ordinary camp, not by any means, but rather a camp that would for Richie be an ideal vacation, a 7th heaven.

We learned of the camp through a UPI dispatch from London. Bob Acraman, read the report, has come up with the idea of running a Nazi prison camp as a vacation spot.

"They'll have a horrible time and they'll love every minute of it" barked Acraman. He has taken over a former Army camp on Black Hill Salisbury plain and is inviting vacationers to spend 3 November days behind barbed wire, guarded by gun-carrying guards in German uniforms and watch towers around the perimeter.

Acraman promises "a nice line in psychological interrogation" for inmates who try to escape. And he adds there will be plenty of "fog, rain, and frost for our 2 a.m. searches."

The food served will be first class—thin soup and stale bread.

Obviously, this is a vacation meant for Mylak, and that's why, if we can raise the money ($72 plus enough for a ONE-way plane fare) we'll send Mylak to his dream vacation—and tell Acraman to keep him.

The following appeared on the WBBM wireroom door:

*Clinched title.

The Galesburg Wizards this week swept three games from the Aurora Chicken Hawks to move into third place in the UBA. This, despite the fact that Aurora outhit Galesburg in each of the games.

Only two series remain before the end of the season, Galesburg at Springfield, and Hollywood at Aurora. Hollywood owner Jim Gillespie says he'll pop for the champagne in the season finale to celebrate the completion of a successful season in the UBA's first year.

Following the final games, we'll get down to the business of setting up for next season. (APBA)

RULE CHANGES FROM LAST YEAR

1. When playing polio patients, Bears players must not disconnect iron lung.
2. When playing Brownie scouts, the Bears players must not steal their cookies.
3. When playing the Blind Academy, Bears players must not hide the ball under their jerseys.
4. When playing the Korean War Amputees, Bears must not file any complaints about a player with only one leg being harder to tackle.
5. A touchdown (this is when the ball is carried over the goal line) will count as 21 points for the Bears.
6. The Bears will be allowed 27 players.
7. The Bears will be allowed to substitute with band members at any time during the game.
8. The Bears will be allowed to play with 3 footballs at the same time.
9. The Bears will be allowed 20 timeouts.
10. A gain of 3 yards will constitute a first down for the Bears.

As you can see, the Bears are facing a much rougher schedule this year. So all the Bears fans should get out to see the games and cheer them on to victory.

BASKETBALL

THE TBA TODAY

NEVADA LOSES SECOND!

The Jackson Hole Dudes broke out of the starting gate in quick fashion, beating co Frontier Conference rivals Adak and Nevada. The Dudes squealed out a 124-123 victory over Adak, and then routed the defending TBA champion Desert Riders, 105-92. Nevada owner Alan Peters has got to be shaking his head in disbelief, or at least be pondering a coaching or location change to get his charges shook up. But never fear, the hapless Hinsdale Haufnauts are next on the Nevada schedule.

The Hauffies broke from the starting gate in normal fashion. They lost two games to Lahaina. The scoresheets were unavailable at press time. A TBA Observer reports that new Hinsdale owner Leigh Holzward, despite advice to the contrary, continues to use the Team Shot Card developed by former Hinsdale owner Rich King. Thus, it looks like a long season again for Hinsdale.

TOP SCORER FOR THE WEEK: Miguel Lopez, Adak, 33 REBOUNDER: Mickey Rumball-Petre, Nevada, 16 ASSISTS: Kevin Storey, Jackson Hole, 10; THREE POINTERS: C J Kadlec, Adak and Bernard Horsfall, Jackson Hole, 2. (PTG)

CHURCH CHUCKLES

A West German businessman has finally finished his conversion to the Hindu religion. First, he pierced himself thru the cheeks with a 4 foot long ¼ inch thick steel rod. But that's not enough for those zany Hindus. Next he had to pull a chariot for 2 miles, with ropes attached to his back and chest with steel hooks. (NEWS ITEM)
