RUDKA TO THE POLO CAPTAIN—I am interested in this game called "Polo." And would very much like to organize a Turk-Freedonian team to visit the British Isles in the near future. It is possible we could invite a Russian and French team there, also, and make an international affair out of it!

FREEDONIAN NEWS SERVICE—"His overly greatness" Rudka the Bold, suggested that a permanent truce may be possible in the Mediterranean area in the near future. But he hinted that this would most likely be dependent upon the position of sovereign France. Rudka stated, "...even if the exchange of athletes with the western nations works out; much will depend upon British aggression in France."

FREEDONIAN NEWS SERVICE (SMYRNA)—A special airborne-army is now being trained and outfitted. It is said that this unit is composed of Turks, Freedonians, Serbian scouts, and Tunisian under-cover agents (prostitutes). Rumors are saying that it will be used in Finland to relief of St Pete's, and then flown south again to be used in liberating Tunisia (Tunis) from the disjointed Italians-without-a-country! Future uses of this unit could be in searching for oil in the Antarctic.

DIPPY Game #16, the Three Mile Island, 1979AS, Fall, 1905:

Austria-Hungary (Ron Gorski): a gal retreated to vie... A VIE sup Turkish a ukr-gal; A BUD sup Turkish a ukr-gal; A BOH-sil

CONTROLS: bud, vie, gro-3 (0)

England (Mark E May): f nwg-BAR; f n atl-NWG; a kiel-DEN; F NTH sup a kiel-den; F BAL sup a kiel-den; F ENG CH H

THE JAMAICA STORY

OCHO RIOS, JAMAICA, WEST INDIES (SPECIAL to the STAR)—This quiet resort community in the Tropics was host this past week to the most dazzling quartet of tourists in some time.

Ron "Mr Macho" Gorski and his companion Rich King ("Mr Macho, Jr") were accompanied by their wives on a winter vacation that will not be forgotten very soon.

The two couples from the Chicago area raised eyebrows wherever they went. The ladies with beautiful bodies glistening in the hot sun from morning until dusk. The men with muscles bulging on the beach from day to night fall. It was clear that all the female eyes on the beach were glaring at them.

The local press dubbed large King as "lolita" since her large rimmed sunglasses, blonde hair and bikini swimsuit resembled the appearance of Sue Lyon in the movie Lolita.

Cail Gorski--likewise clad in a bikini-- had to fight off men all week. If alone, she would have to instruct her admirers to glance in the water where the muscular Gorski was frolicking.
When told that the "Hulk" in the water was her husband, the admirers backed off.

As for Rich King, what can one say? They

FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE STAR:

The skies around the Wellington Woods apartment complex in suburban Hinsdale were lit up by an eerie, pre-dawn glow. Yes, there was a big fire in one of the stalag's that made up the huge complex, and the one that was burning was no more than 200 yards from Jim Benes' bedroom. Yes, yet another reason why Jim and Andi bought their own house...

SKAGWAY, ALASKA, Feb 21—Officials of the Great Western Publishing Co & Whalebone Corset Works are trying to acquire the Trans-Alaskan Gopher Company as yet another block in the Great Western Corporate Empire. Trans-Alaskan was founded in the late 1890s for the purpose of training gophers to dig through the hard permafrost covering to the gold

VOIGT LEADS DRUG BUST
CLEANS UP MIDWEST

By Jeffery Fishbach,
STAR Feature Writer
Part Two

(ED NOTE--When we left Bill Voigt last week, the Super Clerk at the Toledo Holiday Inn was showing five armed men, members of the Toledo Narc Squad to a pair of adjoining rooms.
It was the Spring of 1971. The officers had burst into the rooms, and... Our story continues):

The rooms were vacant.
The shotgun that entered 824 went through the connecting door and opened 825 for the incompetent one. Smith motioned to Super Clerk that it was all ~~ok~~ clear and he wanted "C" with them. SC poked his head into the room. He saw an empty room except for the two shotguns and three pistols that were busily searching the room. A pistol held aloft an empty vile for Smitty to see and proclaimed "They were here alright." Voigt asked what was going on.
Capt Smith explained,
"We had a tip on a heroin pickup to be made at the train station baggage claim last night. We staked it out and were up all night waiting.
The officer with the vile spent the night on the floor with a newspaper over him posing as a bum. He's still sore.
The suitcase was picked up and ~~sent~~ we arrested

We get LETTERS:

Dear Western Star Post Free Press...

In a moment of weakness (following two Bloody Mary drinks) I resubscribed to your answer to the toilet paper shortage. And what do I get? A paper that I can barely read. Now it can be argued that the poor printing is fortuitous. I would argue that. Not reading the STAR is certainly no loss. And, in fact, you even apologize for the poor quality printing. I am standing by (per your request).

But seriously, it is truly an honor (and cheap) to be a subscriber again and I can't wait until my next issue is flushed from my mailbox.

--Tripp Frohlichstein
St Louis

PS--I'd love to come to the Fred Partido Overset Awards Dinner but I am busy that night...I had planned to buy underwear that evening and I haven't done that since March 2nd, 1973.

JAMAICA (continued from page 1) tagged him with the name "El Grando," the grand one.

His body as lean as a race horse. His legs just as swift. His athletic expertise stunning the beach bums.

The two couples ate, drank, laughed, messed around and totally enjoyed life for one solid week.

When they were leaving, it was almost a certainty they would be named "Tourists of the Year" and be forced to come back next year to accept the award.

CORPORATE (continued from page one) that was eagerly being sought at that time by the Klondike gold-rashers.

"We admit that Trans-Alaskan Gopher is not exactly likely to soon be numbered among the Fortune 500," noted a spokesman for Great Western, "but on the other hand it's for sale cheap."

Jones and Washington. Jones had 825s key so we felt some brothers might still be here. In the suitcase we found pure heroin. I'd guess it's worth 10 million on the street. Jones and Washington are both Detroit Mobsters and were here to get the Motor City's share."

We retired to the lobby after the search. Smitty said that he had to file a report and the Innkeeper's office was offered for this purpose. Super Clerk went back to Susie where all was still quiet. Voigt brought her up to date and explained, with minor exaggerations, his role. The switchboard light indicating Buell's phone is being used illuminated. Susie looked at WC. WC looked at Susie... "Let's do it." WC put on the phone headset and plugged into Buell's line. He heard Capt Smith reporting his findings in elaborate detail. Voigt forgot none of it. He then ~~from~~ went to the file and pulled out Washington's address. He smiled at a cabby loitering near the desk. The shotguns, pistols and Smitty left.

The conversation went back to Susie's husband's abilities. It didn't stay there long. WC remembered that CKLW in Windsor (across from Detroit) gives a newstip award each week. He called home and told his wife what happened and had her call CK because he was getting busy.

Ten minutes later the phone rang. It was CKLW news. "I want you ton tape. When I say go tell me what happened. Go."

"Uh" Super Clerk responded.

Eventually, 30 seconds of description was put together. Voigt's first performance was in the can. Afraid that there may be repercussions, the CK newsman promised that names would not be used and our man would remain anonymous.

"I'm going to win this week's award worth 8 bucks." WC said as he returned to Susie. The cabbie had disappeared. One hour later as the hotel was again sleeping, Susie said that WFL radio in Toledo also gives newstip awards..

"You call them and if either of us wins, we'll split it," Voigt said. Susie declined showing embarrassment at doing such a thing. Our hero took the bull by the horns and the phone by the cradle and called the local radio station. The writer indicated that Voigt was too late. A cabby had already called the story in and the rules are that the first one wins. Damn! WC volunteered the information. The writer, typewriter in hand, accepted.

DUDES STUN NEVADA!

RIDERS' BID FOR UNDEFEATED SEASON GOES OUT THE DOOR

By Messmore Garrett & A Penn Name
 JACKSON HOLE, WYOMING, Feb 15—The Jackson Hole Dues avenged two earlier losses (93-98 and 102-105) at the hands of the Nevada Desert Riders by blowing open a tight game and winning 112-92. The score was 75-70 Jackson Hole going into the final quarter. Suddenly, it was 100-80, Jackson Hole. Bernie Horsfall ripped the nets for 15 fourth quarter points. Jeff Corey proved that he is rookie-of-the-year material by scoring 24 points, dishing out 3 assists, and grabbing 14 boards. The Dudes are now 6-1 under new coach Zeke Lipkowitz.

Hiles Ahead led the Riders with 20 markers, followed closely by Dan Dribble's 19 points. Two factors significantly altered the course of the game: Joe Pop's twisted ankle in the 3rd quarter and Alfie Nimrod's limiting Mickey Rumball-Petre to only 14 points.

The Desert Riders were trying to establish a league mark for consecutive victories, but now have to be satisfied with a share of the mark with Bolingbrook.

Nevada coach Fireball Murphy fumed "we had no inside game tonight. The Dudes took rebounds like they were candy."

"I don't know how we won 14," said Murphy, "I know I wouldn't have done anything differently tonight. We just plain got the hell beat out of us."

Earlier in the week, the Dudes blew a 27 point lead, but still hung on to defeat the Augusta Winds. Midway through the second quarter the Dudes were gliding along with the big lead, and the handslaps and backslaps were flying.

Midway through the third quarter, the only thing flying was Zeke Lipkowitz, the Dudes' new coach: he was flying off the handle as his team was now up by only 4. Ex-Dudes Livingston Taylor and Kevin Storey (who ended with 19 and 16 respectively) had led a come-from-behind charge that found the visiting Winds down by 64-60. After that, however, it was time for the Bernie Horsfall show. BH scored 19 points in the last 14 minutes to lead Jackson Hole to a 106-88 victory. Willie Jones contributed 16 points and 11 boards to the win.
