East of Eden

East of Eden is published by John H ('Jack') Masters, 25711 North Vista Fairways Drive, Valencia, California 91355. (805) 259-2811.

EOE being dedicated to the prompt publication of postal Diplomacy games otherwise carried in the sister 'zine, Black Frog. Diplomacy is a multi-player war game invented by Allan B. Calhamer and currently owned by Avalon Hill Co.

East of Eden is sent free of charge to everyone in the games who regularly subscribes to Black Frog. It is otherwise unavailable at any cost.

I AM FIGHTING FOR SURVIVAL

in my own sweet and gentle way.

Last month was a rather rough one for me and next month may be even worse. My vacation, which was to have been the last two weeks of May got shot down and I am trying to reschedule it during June (but will probably end up taking part in June and part in July or August). This may effect game deadlines during the next couple of months. I will try to anticipate ahead as well as possible in order to keep all games prompt. In addition, I have come up with a problem of sorts that may require surgery before too much longer. This has had me more than a little out of sorts over the past few weeks. It is hard to anticipate just what effect it may have on publication schedules for East of Eden or Black Frog at the moment.

In another vein, I have been giving a lot of thought to my involvement in the postal Diplomacy hobby of late. It is possibly time that I start phasing back some of my activities. The hobby has been far from enjoyable to me of late and while I am a long way from quitting, I will be cutting back. This means no new game starts for me as a player. I will definitely finish out each and every game that I have started however. As for the games I am GMing in Black Frog/East of Eden, don't worry, I will see these to conclusion. There is a possibility that Black Frog will be phased out over the next six months and that East of Eden will be my only 'zine. East of Eden would be published at least twice a month but would be a bit on the warehousey side.

I AM THE WALRUS!

No I am not the walrus, but "I am the walrus" is the answer to the puzzle that appeared in a recent fake of Sleepless Knights.

Billed as Sleepless Knights #2, the fake came at least three weeks after the actual SK #2. It was mailed from Canada and had a masthead taken from Eric Ozog's stationery. Not all that bad as fake 'zines go, the main question brought up by it is: Who is the walrus?

This same walrus is undoubtedly also responsible for two other recent fakes: Y'All #3 and Life of Monty. Bruce Linsey claimed responsibility for Y'All #3, but I doubt that. Don Del Grande has blamed Keith Sherwood for the fake LOM. At the moment, this would seem to be the best bet, alright Keith it's confession time, did you do all three of these?

PARANOICS' MONTHLY

PM is the latest new 'zine that has turned up in my mail box. Issues #1 and #2 were both one page jobs, but the thing may have promise. Anybody who has two sentence houserules as follows:

"The 1976 edition of the rulebook will be used.
Deception of the GM will be marveled at."

is certainly taking a good approach to the hobby and GMing. For a sample copy send a SASE to Jack Fleming, 5000 22nd NE #211, Seattle, WA 98105.

THE TETRACUSPID STORY!!

I never really wanted, or expected, to get involved in any controversy in the pages of East of Eden, but my reporting of news items has seemed to generate a bit.

In Issue #5 (April 8th) I stated that Tetracuspид (a 'zine published by Richard Kovalcik, Jr.) was running late and may be in trouble. I stated that I saw these as real danger signs for the 'zine. I did not report the death of the 'zine. This engendered this letter from Kovalcik, however:

"Dear Jack,

re: Tetracuspид Folding, Hobby Ethics

I am somewhat shocked and distressed to hear (second hand) that you reported the death of Tetracuspид in East of Eden #5. This is not true. By now, you should have received the Tetracuspид #54, dated May 11th 1981.

I don't know what prompted you to print that incorrect information about the Tetracuspид. It strikes me as poor journalism. I would appreciate it if you were more careful in the future.

Furthermore when you print something about someone in a zine, hobby ethics dictate that you send him a copy of that issue.

In closing, I would like to say that .... ((Well the rest is really not pertinent to the matter at hand--jhm))

Yours truly,

Richard Kovalcik, Jr
Editor, The Tetracuspид

Well Richard, as I stated in the introductory paragraph, I did not say that Tetracuspид had folded but said that it was in trouble. Lets look at the record:

December 8th, 1980--Tetracuspид #53 was due.

February 9th, 1981--Tetracuspид #53 was dated and mailed out --two months and a day late. There was a brief explanation for the delay and the statement that it would never happen again.

March 9th, 1981--Tetracuspид #54 due.

April 8th, 1981--Tetracuspid #54 now a month late. Announcement in East of Eden that Tetracuspid had been running late and may be in trouble.

May 18th, 1981--Tetracuspid #54 arrives, over 70 days late. No explanation.

Hopefully Kovalcik has his problems solved and Tetracuspid will once again become punctial. I hope so. But in the meantime I cannot recommend it as a 'zine for anybody to start a game in. Prior to December 1980, Tetracuspid had been rather punctial for about 15 months--but before that it had been plagued by sporadic publication.

In the 1980 Leeder Poll of Zines and Gamemasters Tetracuspid ranked 45 out of 52 'zines with a score of 4.33. And 24 people voted, so you can't chalk it up to a couple of grudge votes. Although a bit monotonous and drab in content, Tetracuspid has always been a cleanly printed piece of work that I didn't think deserved a mark that low. The low mark probably coming from reservations about the lapses in publication.

As for Gamemasters, Kovalcik was in dead last (50th) place last year with a mark of 2.83. Six people voted. I was one of the six and, as Richard already knows, I gave him a 3--higher than the average of the other five. My vote to Kovalcik was lower than any other GM that I voted on and was a result of the very poor judgement he used in handling 79KR--allowing two seasons to be replayed, without the approval of all players, in order for one player to make up for an NMR.

As for the 1981 poll. To set the record straight I have voted Tetracuspid a 5. I will not be voting for Kovalcik as a Gamemaster.

PASSCHENDAELE FOLDING?

Word, from Steve Colombo is that Passchendaele is folding. This is one that I never received. If the word turns out not to be true--don't blame me! Canadian zines have had a hard time of it this year. This will leave only Runestone, Fol Si Fie, Snafu and Sleepless Knights coming out of Canada. The last two of these are brand new, but Sleepless Knights is going to be a real good one.
