Issue No. 89

Comments from the Past BNC

6/13/94

Dear Dip Enthusiasts;

This is the final issue of 'Everything' that I am to be associated with. I feel that it has come full circle from the bad times it has had just fairly recently. I am turning the project over to Andrew York, who has worked with me in getting this edition out. He will be a great BNC and deserves your full support. He has ideas on upgrading the zine, and will implement them soon. I felt that the zine needed to be brought into the computer age and I began using my PC as data storage. Andrew will be plugged directly into the available networks and will be integrating more and more of our new technologies into the BN position. He has a wealth of know how and will improve this position to one of a quick turnaround and of impeccable quality.

Now, to the unpleasantness. The zine is losing money, and for those of you who would like to see it published more often, feel obliged to send a dollar or two every time you request a number or some information. I know that most of you publish as a labor of love, but so does the BNC, and if you feel that his job must be facilitated, then do your part by supporting it.

Once again, thanks to Gary Behnen, for his assistance over the past year, to Andrew for removing this albatross, and to my wife Melody, for assistance in preparation, as well as my son, Miles, for his assistance in input. A special thank you to Melinda Holley for her untiring job as publisher. All of you have been great to work with. Finally, a special thanks to all the pubbers and players of this game. I hope to see you and deal with you again, after I recover from burnout.

Thoughts from the New BNC

07/04/94

Greetings,

This issue is about a week late as I am not the best at layout. As you can see, this issue is a return to the open face format. Eventually, I hope to go back to digest size; but that will have to be sometime in the future.

I've had a suggestion to get a new cover for Everything...., so here's a call to all you artists out there. Let's see what you can come up with to grace the cover of this zine!!

Now, to administrative matters -- some of you are trading for my Rambling WAY, for Pontevedria and Everything.... In the near future, I'm going to be reviewing and reevaluating the trades and contacting all those involved. I'll also be ensuring the sub rate for E is adequate to cover costs. I don't foresee any significant increases.

I plan on continuing the planned thrice annual schedule for E. I anticipate issuing the zine in October/November, February/March and June/July. I'm open to ideas for additions and deletions from E and in statistics related articles (if kept fairly short).

If you do wish research done, I am willing to look up results for you. However, I do ask that you provide as MUCH information as you can about the game you are asking about. I've already had experience with this, and it can be quite trying (and, in some cases impossible) to find what you want.

I can be reached on-line for BN requests and questions at BNCYork@aol.com. Please, no inquiries via the phone.

--W. Andrew York

IMPORTANT NOTE:

Some games had both game starts and game ends reported during the period since the last Everything. For the most part, they are ONLY listed in the game ending section

Commentary on Game Start Reports

I'm sure the eagle-eyed folks will notice some modifications of the game start reports. Of course, I'll keep the original information; but, I've added two items

The first item I've added is a section for date started and date completed. This will help the of you who follow how long it takes to play a game. Of course, they'll need to take the zines turnaround time into consideration. I don't plan on making this retroactive.

The other change is adding the game's nickname to the report. This will aid in research both for myself and others.

The reason these have been added is because of research I've been asked to do. Most of the requests included the game's nickname and either a date started or date completed. These will help to differentiate between two games in a particular zine.

Of course, I'm open to other modifications and/or additions to these reports. If you have suggestions or something that would particularly aid in a type of research that you do, I would be happy to consider it. However, I won't guarantee that I'll go back and fill in blanks in previous reports.

If you know of any GM that does not currently use Boardman Numbers, please let me know. I would like to at least make contact with them and explain what the program is. Hopefully we can get all the GM's in North America using this service.

As in the past, either the GM or a player may request a Boardman Number. If a GM does not wish to participate in the service, one of the players may submit the information to the HNC. Of course, that player does take on a responsibility to submit the end-game report for the game as well so that the statistics may be completed.

END-GAME REPORTS

Please note the following standard codes are used through the listings: * - Played one unit short; + - Played two units short; ! - Played three units short; $ - Played four units short; % - Played five units short; & - Played six units short

If you have any information on any game that is incomplete, it would be appreciated if you would forward that information to me. If additional information is received on an incomplete game, an updated report will be printed in a future Everything. Corrections are also appreciated on any printed report.
