(ph. 301-933-5417; call only between 8 and 11 p.m. EST on weekdays except Fri.).

The "House-Rules" -- As published in DIPLOMANIA #18; read these carefully!!

Miscellaneous -- Budd, Carey, Gemignani, and McIntyre -- please write on one side of the paper only. ##### Any suggestions as to how we can get these 'zines moving a bit quicker? ##### New games -- Regular Diplomacy (PXC, PYC, and PZC -- rosters filling rapidly -- last three Regular games in DIPLOPHOBIA for some time); 5-Man DIPLOMACY; BLITZKRIEG (one year's moves per turn); INSURRECTION (guerrilla warfare in South America, among other things); KRIEGSPIEL DIPLOMACY (players are known but moves are not -- except that each player knows how his own moves fare); HYPER-ECONOMIC DIPLOMACY (a bit of SUPERECONOMIC DIPLOMACY, a dash of SUPERDIPLOMACY, a trace of MORGLAY, a dip of ANARCHY III, and a few other ingredients mixed together to make quite a dish); HYPERSPACE III (essentially HYPERSPACE II, with a few minor changes; to be Guest-Gamesmastered by Buddy Tretick; only one spot open on roster, so sign up now). ##### A few more NEUTRALS remain in Simulation Diplomacy -- and there will also be NEUTRALS to be played in HYPERECONOMIC DIPLOMACY. No charge to anyone playing a NEUTRAL -- but sign up now, as we must have a full roster to begin games. ##### For new games, fees are $3 (if first game in a Games Bureau Diplomacy
'zine) or $2 (if already playing in a Bureau Diplomacy 'zine) -- but, remember, fees must be paid at time of application for you to be placed on roster. ##### DIPLOMANIA
#19 has been delayed, but will be out shortly; DIPLOMANIA is still 10/$1.50, but may go up soon. ##### Note new FANTASIA sub rates in colophon on page 8.

Propaganda --

Dirleton Castle -- The Graham of Graham was sitting rather disconsolately in the mustering room, his lieutenants around him. "Ach, I dinna understand wha' all this politics an' such is all about. Sa' loong as w' can raid the lowlands an' hunt the stag, wha' cares who be the laird, Jaimie or Charles the Bloody. Meself, I niver liked neither of 'em. Beside, for all their weaponry an' such, the Sassanach be fools, niver upto a contest o' wits tween theirselves an' a good Scot. They can drive out all our lowland friends from the south, but we highlanders can hold off all the heathen Sassanach that Bloody Charley wants to send us, na matter how evil our situation look from afar. Na' the Stewarts -- 'twas to be expected of the bloody fools -- nearly Angles theirselves, from the look of 'em, and twice as dumb. Let the heathens think they own Scotland, 'cause the true Scot knows better, aye."

Dunvegan -- The MacLeod of MacLeod joyously welcomes the Lady Magaret to the Chiefship of Clan Fraser. This is a triple occasion for rejoicing: Scotland is rid of the former Fraser with his opportunism and luke-warm loyalties; Fraser's neighbors no longer must fear of land-grabbing from that clan; and, most importantly, Scotland's foremost patriot has risen to a new peak of power and possession and will be able to reclaim her station at the head of Scotland's fight for freedom.

The MacLeod also expressed the wish that together, Keiths, Frasers, and MacLeods will drive the Southern foreigners from Scotland. The Gordons and Grahams are welcome to join this march of freedom.

Dunvegan -- The Chief's household has released this statement of policy: Now that Lady Margaret has succeeded to the head of the Frasers, all action against that clan will stop. Before, when Fraser's loyalties were doubtful, such hostilities were justifiable in so far as they were meant to show the way of right to that clan. Now, and acts of that nature upon the Frasers would constitute treason. It is hoped that the three remaining major clans of Scotland may remain as in a citadel of alliance; it is hoped that the Highlands will be kept unconquered by the foreign invaders and that, eventually, the Lowlands will be freed and reunited with the North.

Skipness Castle -- The only comment Donald had upon his election to the Chieftainship of clan MacDonald was "Aiiiiiiiyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyy!!!!!!".

Fraser -- Gordons: We all are going down to fight the devils of England and the filthy, traitorous Stewarts. Aren't we, me boy? ((?)) I have marched all the way over Gordons' lands. I want to bring bloody revenge on Stewarts and English raiders. I much prefer your help and Graham's too. I am loyal to Bonnie Charlie and his father Jamie and I have no time for petty wars.

Ye either settle thy quarrels now or I'll unite with any clans loyal to the true lord and end this pettiness before dogs fattening on Scottish lands. I'll not be knifed in back or in bed. What say ye? And speak quickly. I have an appointment long overdue in Edinburgh at crowning.

Frasers -- Keiths: If me not too trusty Gordons do not get themselves down to business, you and I should end this bloody and ((?)) war before "devil" comes to get us. It is said he walks in Scotland as Stewart or Englishman.

Fraser's Castle -- The Earl of Frasers announced his marriage to Margaret Campbell, daughter of Earl of Campbell driven from his lands by traitorous dogs. With her came many Campbells willing to fight to the death for Scotland and the famous outlaw Mac Rob Roy.

NSG -- Up the Keiths!
Up the MacLeods!
Up the Gordons!
Up the Frasers!
Up the Grahams!
Up the MacDonalds!

Propaganda --

Angmar -- "Grab now, Gab later" -- motto of the month in Carn Dum.

Mirkwood -- We are happy to see that Angmar has realized the futility of a war with Rhovanion. The Dwarves and Elves of this kingdom wish you speedy success.

Mordor -- Harad: Yadtsid! You are either the dumbest fool under the sun, the way you keep attacking me, or you are so honorable you wouldn't even look at PLAYBOY. Please tell me which you are so I can write my propaganda accordingly.

NSG -- It has been rumored that a fruit cake is in making in Middle-Earth. The main ingredients are rotten apples la Mordor ground up and crushed and cracked nuts topped with Corn dela (that's Italian, Leaky, aren't you educated either?) Arnor. This dish should be served right away.

RHOVANION (Brooks) -- SA Mirkwood-Gladden; SA Dol Guldur-Lorien; SA Wilderlands-Dol Guldur (A).

ROHAN (Gemignani) -- DA Celebrant-Wold; SA Isengard-Edoras; SA Fangorn-Eregion; SA Edoras-Lamedon.

GM Note -- If we don't find a GONDOR player by Jan. 23rd, we'll see GONDOR through its doom ourselves, so be forewarned. ##### Rod Walker, to answer your questions, the order you gave for your Ring-Wearing DA was correct as given; you are where you think you are (first choice), and it is not necessary to specify what you asked about when you are wearing the Ring. Is this clear to you? If not, please ask again.

Propaganda --

Barad-Dur -- In the far-off tower across the plain, a light blazed, a light brighter than the sun, cold and hard on the dead land surrounding it. Gollum trembled. "Nassstylylightss. Nasssty cruel lightsss," he hisses, scuttling behind a rock. It had been a hard journey, and now that it neared its end he was puzzled, for he knew that the Dark Lord was not here, and yet the light blazed, the Mountain trembled, and the soft scrape of thousands of Orc-feet could be heard in the distance. More Orcs than Gollum had known existed had marched by him as he lay terrified in a hole in the ground. Orcs and all manner of Southerlings, swarthy men in bright colors, contrasting strangely with the dun of the Black Land, and most horrible of all, oliphaunt the mighty, his tusks sheathed in gold, his manner high and terrible, and his voice fearsome as the thunder. Gollum thought back on oliphaunt with wonder and with fright. Even more than before, he respected the owner of the Ring, and hated Him.

Minas Tirith -- In the place which no longer had a name, except to the defeated West, Sauron waited, his captains and his chieftains surrounding him, and the Nazgul wheeling and keening overhead. He waited in the flood-tide of his power, sure, confident of his own success, and contemptuous of his enemies. Spoke the Mouth of Sauron: "The braying and noise out of the North comes from Gandalf, a wandering performer of tricks who even now possesses the Ring. The fool! He does not even know how to use it. He fancies himself the Liberator of the West, the Foe of Sauron. Sauron has no foes. There are those who fancy themselves worth his notice. And there are those who know the truth. Denethor was one of those, as he said, 'You may triumph on the fields of the Pelennor for a day, but against the Power that has now arisen there is no victory.' For a day? Fools, they held our attack for hardly one hour before the engines of our Lord of Darkness swept all before them, and the Dark Lord himself came to inspect his new domain."

Deadline for LAIRE, 3003 retreats (GON: A Leb, DA Por) and QUELLE, 3003 moves -- Noon, Tuesday, February 6.
