GM: The above changes have been made to permit easier use of the computer generated output files. Because individual's names are not carried on the internal files, and, because I found myself frequently looking for the addresses of the players, I have added the players address list, and deleted the player's names from each individual line. One other significant change is to the status report. While the quality and accuracy of the report is likely to be much better, the output shown is the most convenient for the program, and some players may find the previous report layout more to their liking. In either case, your input is welcome. The above layout represents the end of planned changes. Some notes for your information: Upper and lower case are entered manually, as well as the underlining control characters. The actual output report cannot handle non-ascii characters as used by the word processor and I have not programmed for lower case characters(yet). Errors, therefore, may still occur because of human intervention. Please bring any errors you find to my attention, as usual. It is my hope, however, that far fewer errors will occur in future issues.

FALL 1907 MOVES ARE DUE NO LATER THAN January 18, 1985.

GM: A SEPARATION OF SEASONS HAS BEEN REQUESTED AND GRANTED. I note that Stevens has failed to submit orders and would have NMR'd out of the game, except for the separation of seasons. Because I have no standby's on my list who are eligible to participate in this game, I call upon DAVID MACRAE (a CGC member) to submit conditional standby orders for Austria for the Spring 1905 season. If Stevens fails to submit orders, then MacRae will be the player for Austria. If anyone out there can drum up standbys for Diplomacy, please encourage them to sign up. Dave MacRae's address is 206 School Street, Fairfield CT 06430

ENGLISH/FRENCH DRAW PROPOSED. VOTE NEXT TIME. NVR means YES! If Stevens fails to respond with orders, Dave MacRae's vote will count.

GM - Not only was the previous status in error, but my correction letter was ALSO in error. The above status is correct(I hope) because it is based on the computer report and has been triple checked. The error shown in the previous status was that Italy showed A VEN, but should have shown A TRI. The correction letter showed A TRL. To avoid any further problems, I am delaying the game one issue to allow everyone to re-assess the situation and resubmit orders, if desired. Orders on hand(all players have submitted orders) will be used if no changes are submitted by the deadline. Anyone who subscribes solely to play this game will receive a one-issue extension.

PRESS:

George-All: Happy Holidays and a happy New Year.

George-GM: I sure hope Your program works! Just Kidding.

GM-George: I hope so too. But, one good note, the program caught my error and, if I had been using it sooner, the above error would not have occurred. Future issues will be have computer assisted adjudications which should reduce my error rate

Standbys are wanted for DIPLOMACY games and variants. A standby is given a one issue extention for every issue in which he/she acts as a standby, BUT, the standby player must FIRST be a subscriber. Standby players are listed below. If you would like to be added to the standby list or wish to have your name removed from the standby list, please let me know:

Diplomacy: McCarthy(Canada), Daniels(IN)

Final Conflict: McCarthy(Canada), Lambert(LA), Plummer(APO), Zarse(IL)

Editorial&c. I am way behind in my zine efforts this issue. For some reason, the combination of holiday preparations and other distractions have caused excessive delays. This is being written on CHRISTMAS EVE(Gads!) Mail, of course will not now get out till the day after Christmas(sigh).

Anyway, let's continue with the Diplomacy adjudication program. This section performs the actual adjudication, using a number of subroutines as well as some logic within this section of code. This section completes the main program. All of the subroutines will be included in the next issue.

Here then is section 4, the adjudication process:

1) If a character, who is the aggrieved party in a duel chooses to duel with pistols then the other party may choose whether or not he wishes to go through with the duel, at the usual loss of status for refusing to duel. The King will determine who is the aggrieved logically (ie. meeting on a doorstep when the mistress belongs to one of the characters would mean that the character to whom she belonged would be the aggrieved party) or randomly (ie. meeting on a doorstep when neither character has claim on the mistress). Please send in orders for whether or not you will accept a duel with pistols. No orders will mean your character WILL accept the duel.

Spring 1622 orders are due no later than Saturday January 11, 1985 at the home of The King 206 School Street Fairfield, Ct 06430 tel. # (203) 334-7119. They may also be passed in at the regular meeting of the Connecticut Game Club in January, BUT the King will only be there for a short time at the beginning and end of the meeting!

THE GOSSIFE PARISIENNE

(continued from page 2) those of lower social class found themselves consigned to the lower level party, not in the presence of the host at all. Some who had hoped to increase their prestige by being seen in the company of high society were sorely disappointed.

BEZUKHOV FOISONED...CARDINAL MURDERED IN ITALY...LAFAYETTE GIVES UP OFFICE...NEW REGIMENT RAISED TO FIGHT HUGUENOTS...ARMY DOES WELL IN THE FIELD...SEASON OF PARTIES A GREAT SUCCESS...DE FER SACKED AS ARMY COMMANDER.

BEZUKHOV MURDERED

Paris (GP) A foul murder was perpetrated at the beginning of the season when Count Pierre Bezukhov was poisoned while drinking at La Belle Etoile in the second week of December. Apparently trying to drown his sorrow at being rejected for the office of Minister of State despite the apparent disinterest of Le Duc Lafayette, the former holder of that office, the Count was heard to lament, "Well he didn't want it, then don't they give it to good old Pierre? NON, they pick some nobody, probably a Huguenot sympathizer like that coward Le Moyne." Just then he grabbed his throat, stood and shouted, "Mon Dieu, I've been killed!" and collapsed to the floor. Those close enough to hear his last words claim that he said, "How cruel of them to ruin the taste of my last glass of vodka."

THE CARDINAL DIES IN ITALY

Rome (GP) Despite assurances of safe passage to the Holy See, the Cardinal, Archbishop of Paris, was set upon near the Italian border and murdered along with his entire bodyguard. Messages from the Pope indicated that he is appalled at the violent death of one of his priests and that he will begin an investigation into the incident.

His Holiness indicated that an archbishop will be appointed soon, mentioning the name of a young noble from the provinces, Armand Jean du Plessis, Duc de Richileau, as a possible successor.

LAFAYETTE LEAVES GOVERNMENT

Paris (GP) In a surprise move at the beginning of the season, Le Duc Lafayette resigned his post as Minister of State. This came as a cruel blow to both M. Reynard and M. Poisson, each of whom had expected easy appointments to Commissioner of Public Safety and Minister of Justice respectively. As it turns out, M. Reynard was able to regain his office under the new Minister of State but M. Poisson was left out in the cold, as it were, without a friend in office.

General Lafayette has not yet commented on why he has chosen to leave office at this time.

WAR NEWS

A new regiment was raised by General d'Isle from Catholic Swiss mercenaries this season and was immediately rushed to the front by the general, who took personal command of the unit. The unit arrived in time to help a frontier regiment hold off an Austrian attack against a beleaguered French redoubt. d'Isle was able to sack a small train of camp followers but gained no other honors, probably because the unit is not yet a recognized part of Le Grande Armee.

In other action at the front, M. deFasant made a particularly brilliant charge to completely rout a group of Huguenots who had rashly thought to avoid paying taxes. He promoted for his efforts and was mentioned in dispatches. Also in the field, the Dragoon Guards did little to affect the battle one way or the other. This may be because two of the officers remained in Paris with their appointed commands.

LOCAL POLITICS

Paris (GP) While the Rich Man's Party was meeting this season, the Poor Man's Party managed to slip into power, loudly decrying the extravagant amount of money spent each year on Mardi Gras festivities which could be going to feed the widows and orphans of the soldiers killed in battle defending the sacred soil of La Belle France!

Despite such gloomy talk the usual Mardi Gras revelry dominated the local social scene.

General De Fer was sacked as the commander of the Second Army this season and replaced by General Lafayette. In taking this action Field Marshall Le Moyne said, "We need no cowards in command who are afraid to personally lead our brave lads in battle! I will put someone in charge who will, no doubt, be a credit to the position by personally commanding in the field, General Lafayette!"

SOCIAL NEWS

Paris (GP) The proposed Art Gallery of M. O'Magnon's received a boost this season with a 200 crown donation from M. Lapin. The money arrived at the O'Magnon residence by messenger. M. Lapin noted, "I would have sent a note but wasn't sure that M. C. R. O'Magnon could read ...er...French that is. I was truly sorry that I was forced to miss the Hunt because of classes.

The Hunt went off in fine fashion with only three fatalities. It had appeared that the Hunt might fall through when the Dragoon Guards were ordered out on campaign but the Brigadeer of the Horse Guards Brigade exercised his right to have his Brigade Major remain with him. Unfortunately the Brigadeer was the first to fall to a stray musket ball at the event. The Crown Prince was also wounded but as yet there has been no confirmation of the rumor that M. Le Duc Lafayette was seen laying an ambush for the Prince. M. Reynard, the Commissioner of Public Safety, accidentally shot himself in the foot while trying to fire his musket from horseback at a rabbit. M. Le Maquis Gerard brought home a magnificent trophy stag of at least thirty points. It appears that the animal may have been an Irish Elk, long thought extinct but flourishing on the O'Magnon estate. A boar was taken by M. Lafayette, a fox by M. d'Isle while Messrs. Calais and Baccarat had to settle for rabbit and Partridge respectively. The host, M. O'Magnon, who had spent a great deal of time preparing his weapons which, interestingly, all appeared to have stone tips, and drawing murals of animals on the walls of his apartments, bagged nothing more than one of his own hounds which he accidentally speared while attempting to flush what turned out to be a sheep.

The Mardi Gras activities were as festive as ever with M. Le Moyne winning both marksmanship and foot-race trophies while M. Lafayette won those for horsemanship and fencing. The costume award went, as it did at the New Year's Party, to M. Lapin and Isabelle as Anthony and Cleopatra. M. Gerard, who was similarly attired complained, "but there was no cloth used in her costume, only jewels." M. Calais came as a dreary English Puritan that went off to the New World and his lady came as an American Indian princess. M. Baccarat was hilarious as Grouché Marques with Mlle. Heloise as Maie Westé.

QUEEN GIVES BIRTH TO PRINCE -- HAMBONE RETURNS FROM IRELAND TO COMMAND HORSE GUARDS -- OFFICERS ABROAD BOUND FOR HOME --
PIRATES MAUL CARIB FLEET -- HENDON LEADS IRISH FORCES IN FIELD

October 15 saw the birth of Prince James Edward Philip Louis Stuart to Queen Henrietta Maria. Prince James who is the Royal Couple's third child and second son, is next in line to the Throne behind the three year-old Prince of Wales.

Meanwhile, violence flared in Ireland, with rioting in the streets of Belfast and Dublin, apparently egged on by Catholic and Puritan gangs. Locally raised forces in the Connaught plantations, stiffened by a company from of regulars from the Buffs, under command of Brig. Sir Miles Hendon crushed a gang of brigands near Daighley Bridge. Capt. Bismarck of the Buffs was badly wounded by one of the brigands' pitchforks and had his brevet rank made permanent. Hendon's raid netted the Crown 560 pounds and the general graciously offered the surviving brigands employment on his Irish estates.

Advt: Tired of stepping in horse droppings everywhere you set foot in London? Why not buy an estate in the country and step in cow droppings for a change? from the moors of Devon to Sussex Downs, see A. Maldonado, Estate Agent.

Returning from Ireland was Sir Herbert Hambone, who having spent the month of September lecturing Dubliners on obedience to civil authority, promptly resigned as Provost Marshal to take command of the Horse Guards. After a glittering ceremony at Whitehall, where Hambone was made baronet along with several of Hull's wealthiest cloth merchants, he applied for the Lord Treasurer's position. But the King just laughed and offered to make Sir Herbert court jester instead. As a gesture of support for the incumbent, Lord Weston, His Majesty created that official Earl of Portland.

RETURN OF THE NATIVE DEPT.: Following a final abortive uprising and the hanging of rebel chieftain Ral Partha, FM Sir Desmond Fitzgerald "Fighting Fitz" O'Connor's forces reportedly set sail for England and are expected back in early February...The capture of Novorossisk by the Turkish army has effectively ended naval hostilities in the Black Sea. RAdm Hornblower is therefore returning to England in a yacht built to specification by the Bulbul Boatyard of Constantinople. Rumour has it the circumstances of Hornblower's departure were not entirely friendly, but he is still accompanied by his faithful factotum ar-Nast Bhilkhou.

Spanish Naval Attache Commodore Mendez has told Admiralty brass of a number of badly shot-up men o' war frequenting Spanish harbours in the Caribbean, apparently lost and unable to find British territory. According to a dispatch forwarded by Mendez, the flotilla sailed boldly into the pirate base at Tortuga Bay under the impression it was a British Colony. None of the ships were reported sunk, and the dispatch was signed "Cmdr Parksbro", apparently indicating a promotion for that redoubtable officer.

MEDICAL NOTES: Lt. Mark Addlebury of HMS Tercel has published "Fangs for the Memories" in the Zurich Zahnartisches Zeitung...Dr. Quacksawyer Bones, as he installed a discreet rear entrance to his office, was heard to say, "The only women I treat are ladies of discernment and distinction." Dr. Bones is reported to have successfully treated Mr. Nick O'Tyme, who has neither discernment or discretion.

From the legal profession comes word that law clerk P. Fogger is fairly itching to get out and start trying cases. His suggestion that a wrongful death action be instituted ex parte Estate of Justin Tyme seems unpromising. You can sue the Devil, but he is unlikely to testify under oath. And besides, the Estate is represented by the family law firm of Parsley, Sage, Rosemary & Tyme.

Jules Kennedy's character is the first son of a very wealthy knight. (The location of Jules' halfway house remains undetermined pending the outcome of his parole hearing.) William Patrick's character is the first son of a very wealthy merchant. (William Patrick, 17300 Runyon, Detroit MI 48234)

NOTES FROM THE JOURNAL OF THE ROYAL ZOOLOGIST SOCIETY- edited by LORD HARRISON BURKE, WINTER 1835

NOTE: all items in this column are RUMOR, therefore they subject to error. No piece of information may be considered accurate until published by the explorer upon return Europe.

--IN EUROPE

ROBERT ROBERT is given a ticket to Capetown this tur by a group of investors, who rumor has it has just brought to only manufacturing facility for the production of the "Swiss Watch" in the world. There is speculation that is group is being by senior management of the plant attempting a leveraged buy out, but the Gnomes were not available for comment on this. It also not known if this means that Robert will soon be heading for Africa to pursue Humbert's dream of loveliness.

COL. LLEWELLYN BALDERDASH, late of the royal Welsh Lavaliers, has been commissioned by the Cardiff Museum of Strange Things to scour the Dark continent for a veritable laundry list of items including the Eight Brass Monkeys from the sacred crypts of Egypt, believed to be in the lost tomb of Pharaoh Ra-Ptah-Tuhuy, the "Zucchini Pharaoh". "We hope Col. Balderdash will be able to fill our new Used Detritus Wing," said curator Ivor Bigbotty

DAVID CROCHIT natural instinct is move west in dir. 2, but is not willing to do that knowing that is the way that the famed explorer, Alferd H. McGuffin went. He knows that he must go where no man has gone before. He moves Northwest in dir. 6 into hex 398, which is a veldt hex. A lone scout from a slaving party wanders too close to Davey's camp and is shoot. It seems that Davey mistook the scout for some sort of wild "critter." Undaunted by this minor mistake Davey continues to hunt and comes upon the main body of the slaving party, consisting of 10 men with captives heading inland. He attacks the slavers and defeats them. "nothing like a little shooting to get a man's blood going in the morning." The grateful captives disappear into the wilderness. Davey has earned 10 vp to post, when he returns to Europe and publishes. His hunters provide the expedition with 1 ration each. Davey dismisses 5 bearers, which are not needed to carry things.

PROFESSOR JOSEPH R. O'CONNELL spends this turn considering his options. Knowing that he will have give up his search for diamonds, at least temporarily and knowing that he must find a small tribe to replenish his supplies, he sits and thinks about moving east (dir. 2), but does not move this turn. At this rate he may not ever reach Mombassa. His hunters are able to come up with 2 rations each. The Professor is also confronted with the problem of deciding whether to leave his canoes or carry them.

VASCO de SECTAMI realizing an opportunity to allow his bearers to recover while at the same time lecturing his group about about his travels, decides to stay where is in the jungle. Quickly organizing a lecture series, Vasco is stunned the non-interest of his expedition and cancels "Pyreness, Pocanos and Pocoblontas." Two of three sick bearers recover, while the other one dies. The expedition will be able to move next turn, after he caches or gets rid of some rations and/or some gifts, which his expedition can not carry. His hunters obtain 2 rations each.

MR. RA MBO present in Africia seems to coincide with the return of Halley's comet this year. It seems that both have now been sight in Africia. Reports from Benguela confirm that Ra enter the port and after a brief but speculator fight, which come down to split decision, he left. Last seen heading into the jungle with 9 rations, and his weapons. It is reported that he made camp it hex 495, a published veldt hex. It is believed that he will follow the Cuene has did the Late Twombly once did.

THE REVEREND RUFUS BEAUEGARD FIREFLY is convinced by his Guide that the elephant's graveyard lies in Dir. 5 (west). The Reverend decides to head out search of fabled place that all elephants go to die. Dream of piles of ivory, can motivate a man to do many things. The Reverend orders the men to cache his canoe and head west. The expedition moves into hex 273, which is a mountain hex. The peaks only reach a height of 10,500 ft. He does encounter five scouts from a slaving party, whom he welcomes into the faith. The Reverend decides to the chief slaver all his gifts after encountering the main party of 36, with captives heading inland. The chief slaver gives Firefly 12 gifts return and the right to preach to his men. So impressed by the Reverend comments on Manifest Destiny, the chief slaver asks to be baptized in the true faith. This gains Firefly 3 vp. The chief slaver offers to sell Firefly Bearers for 3 gifts each, Guides for 2 gifts and will give him 5 rations for gift in trade. The Reverend's hunters are able to find 2 rations each.

ALFRED H. MCGUFFIN is spends this writing a detailed account of the death one his bearers, who was stung a centipede while hunting on the veldt. This incident also causes him to cache 45 rations, which his expedition may not carry. His hunters manage to acquire two rations each for the expedition; this turn.

LADY CAROLINE NELSON continues to follow the Vaal river, downstream in direction 3 into hex 619, which she discovers is a veldt hex. The river flows in direction 2 into hex 620. Her hunter provide her expedition with 2 ration each. She now believes that she will soon be in the Cape Colony.

DR. HYPO GUY CEMIA searching for desert leaves hex 86 and enters hex 113 moving in direction 3. To the good doctor's delight he discovers jungle. While sitting at the base of 192 ft. cataract a river pours out, The Good Doctor is surprised by the appearance of 8 warriors of the Habobe tribe. The Good Doctor moves into a state of organismic reality, when notices that they are running to river a throwing up. He concludes from this and their anorexia that they must be suffering from bulimia. The Good Doctor knows that he has the cure. But it seems that Bon-bons are not the answer this time. Cemia fails to cure the epidemic and poisoned by the chief.

ORTEGO de DAGO spends this turn the Madalto tribe, which was forced to give everything last time and received 7 gifts in return. Dago may trade with the Madalto tribe, next turn. Bearers will hire on for 2 gift, askaris want 3 gifts to hire on, and guides will hire on for 2 gifts. Canoes sell for 5 gift and 1 gift will buy 6 rations. His Hunters manage to obtain 3 rations each for the expedition. Dago may move on next time.
