

THE 26TH JASTRZAB

If you are reading this and haven't the vaguest idea of what it is, our Sympathy! Whatever, it comes from 7 Poland Village Blvd, Poland, Ohio 44514 almost always late for never good cause. Phone: 2167571410 (IMPROVE YOUR MIND--TRY TO REMEMBER ALL TEN NUMBERS). Subscriptions rates, effective March 1st, will become 10/$1.80. Game fees, also becoming effective March 1st, are $6.00 (Me and the Postal System always get ours) when there are game openings which there are not as yet.

 IN THIS ISSUE: The usual games plus the conclusion of 1972AK with the final chapter of Pierre Nylon. John Boyer as conceded winner of 1972AK produced a winning statement slightly longer than convenient for inclusion into this issue. Sufficient to say Mr. Boyer proved himself a humble winner and a gentleman which we all knew all along. Also in this issue is Chapter VI of TRAVELS WITH BOND. Out of curiosity I beseech your opinions of the best series of press releases now being produced in 'zines anywhere. With the exception of THE DREAMMAKER of Lakofka's creation which tends to be too allegorical at times even though your humble narrator is one of the characters slightly disguised, The TRAVELS WITH BOND seem to be one of the best of the year. Comments? Opinions? Other candidates?

 WAIT 'TILL THEY FIND OUT 'BOUT US....if memory serves correctly, it was Life magazine that ran a spread on 'Naval Minatures' ala Spartan a couple of years ago. More recently, THE WALL STREET JOURNAL had one of their human interest reports on "Tin Soldier" minatures.

Surely our Dippy egos combined and exposed into a news report by some ambitious reporter bored with Watergate sensationals would make for far more enriching reading than these shippers or minifig freaks. (Apology to those whose interests overlap).

A PETITION! To Dispatch Walter Buchanan immediately to the editorial chambers of THE ATLANTIC or NATIONAL LAMPOON or TV GUIDE, or any other suitably judged magazine to protest the news media's prejudiced attitude toward exposing the virtues of Diplomacy to the masses! Let us join hands and move outward!

We can see it all now....formation of the NDJ in major hot spots....TV rights & royalties $$$, prima donna players demanding free cokes and pizza before games...professional endorsements: "ME BIRSAN! ME USE BRUTE BECAUSE IT FORCEFUL"....drafts and trades: "I'll give you Duncan Smith for Howard Stump and your choice of any two Graustarks from our Archives..... the emergence of the ADL as rival to the NDJ with such bizarre claims for attention as "Our boards are all autographed by Allan Calhmer himself" and We use multicolored playing pieces!....finally emerging will be the world playoffs sensibly held in Switzerland! Representing the USA will be its top Diplomats: John Foster Smythe, Henry Peery, BigStick Teddy Birsan, Abe Lincoln Buchanan...aaaahhhh, sweet professionalism!

PHILADELPHIA, TURKEY; The Honorable Mohammad Banana, Son of Wombat and Nephew of Cowflop, announced today that the Imperial Fleet formerly stationed on the southern coast of Spain would be relocated due to climatic reasons (it got too hot for them to handle). The logical site for such a move is neighboring Portugal, whose weather has been likened to that at Little Big Horn (SEE: Custer, G.A., HOW SITTING BULL CHEATED). Admr. Banana wishes to inform all interested parties that his fleets will next schedule a rest stop at the bottom of Lisbon harbor, courtesy of Union Jack and his band of cut-throats. Sympathy cards should be sent to : Admr. Bananas, Suite 416, Davy Jones' Locker. No Flowers.

WARSAW: IF YOU THINK THE PRESS RELEASE ON THIS PAGE IS LONG, YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE VICTORY STATEMENT---A BOOK!

THE LIGHT BLUE SOPWITH OVER TYROLIA, or, How Pierre Nylon Almost Lost The War!
 Pierre's Camel F1 was being tailed by the Black Fokker and danger was great for him with his inert load, Rumble. The bullets were whizzing by his head much too close for comfort when suddenly the Black Fokker began to break up!
 Immediately following this great fortune, Pierre's motor caught fire, and smoke streamed behind it blinding Nylon. With the crack up of the Fokker, the Camel F1 was alone at that altitude, but losing height fast!
 Pierre couldn't see where he was going and his eyes smarted. He could hardly stand it when he lost control of his senses. Up was down, down was up. The plane started diving faster and faster. Pierre was trying to see where he was and didn't even know he was diving until the 'death whine' of the wings was heard. In an effort to get out of the dive, he spun the plane upside down! Before he could correct it, the inert body fell out of the plane!
 Of course, Pierre had the one and only good idea in his life when he thought of tying onto Stanley's inert body his famous bedsheet. The makeshift parachute worked well enough to save Stanley from a frightful death. In probably the greatest feat of aerobatics of the war, Nylon dived and turned under the falling body of Stanley Rumble! In an unparalleled miracle, Stanley's parachute was caught on the top right wing of the Camel F1!
 The fire in the motor died in the dive, and so the Camel F1 with its inert body and the greatest hero of the war was able to make it safely back to earth. However, just before landing, Pierre's brief stretch of good airmanship ended when he dove the plane right into a nearby haystack off the end of the Munich Airbase field.
 After all of this ended, and when the facts of his heroics were pieced together by historians, it was discovered that the Black Fokker had been a suicide mission intended to bomb the French Military Command Headquarters in Munich. It was a close call as the enemy knew of Prime Minister Boyer's visit there. If it hadn't been for Nylon, P.M. Boyer might have been killed, and the driving force behind the French Empire would have ended in disaster.

Amazing! The call for conditional Winter adjustments worked and we can dispense with a separate Winter and go directly to Spring. Perhaps prophetic builds should be mandatory.

What is even more amazing about the above change of address is the fact that we spoke to Jeff on the Friday before the deadline. He promised to mail orders in or accept a collect call. No mail orders nor anyone home to accept a collect call on the night of the deadline. Therefore, Jeff, please file your Spring moves and a note of intent to continue playing now! BE MY VALENTINE...OR ELSE

THE SOP'ITH OVER TYROLIA (Conclusion)

Still later, famous words were spoken by Stanley Rumble when he recovered consciousness, "Hurry! Tell Pierre Nylon that the German undercover agent, Len Lakobka, alias, code-name LENDORE, (who also, it was found later when he was caught, was the head mechanic at the airfield when Pierre took off for his famous flight) had informed his leaders of Prime Minister Boyer's arrival in Munich. They will bomb him!"

Much later after Stanley learned of how close he came to death at the hands of Pierre Nylon, he talked to Pierre, "Pierre, I guess I should thank you for saving my life, but I really must thank you for proving God exists!" Stanley hinted.

"Stanley, believe me, I have known that God has always watched over me!" replied Pierre. If it wasn't for him, I would have never made it through the war!" And so Stanlye muttered something Polish in dismay, shook his head and said to himself, "What is this Frenchman trying to prove when he's out polishing us Poles?"

1972 INDEX THE LORD

We think Bob Keathley said it best by saying that all the players in this game are friends and none should be upset over the game being delayed until John Koning is well enough to continue playing. There is a possibility that the man will be able to make his moves shortly. So....for you little pepples out there, file your moves by the next deadline for whatever season we are into. Positions were marked last issue.

TRAVELS WITH BOND

VI. BIRSAURON

or, The Perils of Paul E.

Having escaped danger once more, the three wandered on into the Fangorn Wood. After three days of hard marching, they managed to put five miles between themselves and the battle sight. The reason for their slow progress was that they carried King Bond all the way, for he had not yet recovered from his misadventure at the clearing. Finally, however, he arose, declared himself fit, and the three set out once again.

Shortly, Captain Rodney C. Walker USAF turned to the other two and said, "Are we being followed?"

King Bond and King Eric the Just looked around. "There's nothing but that tree," said King Eric.

"What tree?" asked King Bond?

"The one that's been behind us since we passed it four miles back."

"That's no tree," said Walker. "That's an Ent."

"That's not funny," said King Eric, "And it doesn't even make sense."

"LOOK!" shouted Walker USAF.

Slowly the tree stood up and walked over to the group. "Who are you?" it asked.

"I'm King Bond," said King Bond.

"I'm King Eric the Just," said King Eric the Just.

"And I'm Captain Rodney C. Walker, USAF," said Captain Rodney C. Walker USAF.

"I am Galphria Leptospermum, an Ent." said the Tree. "In your language that means 'a woody, perennial plant with one main stem of trunk which develops many branches.'"

"Oh," said the three.

"What manner are you?" asked the Ent.

"What do you mean?" asked King Bond.

"There is one who resembles your kind in our village. I would see him gone."

"What does he look like?" asked Walker.

"He is a short, wimpy-looking guy with a Bronx accent," said the Ent.

"We'll take him!" all three cried at once.

"Then follow me."

As they moved through the forest, the Ent pointed out the many Ent houses. Finally King Bond asked a question. "I've noticed that all the houses so far have been brown, but that one is green. Why is this?"

The Ent was silent for a moment. "That is the house of one of our Elder Ents, A Differ."

King Eric gasped. "Surely you don't mean...."

"Of course," laughed King Bond. "It's a house of A Differ Ent color!!!"

"Quite," said the Ent who was not appreciative of poor puns. "We have arrived. I will get the other one."

A short time later, the Ent returned with a small figure. "Boy, am I glad to see youse guys," he bubbled. "Dese Trees were driving me battly."

Walker smiled. "Hello, Edi. Remember me?"

Birsauron stared. "Captain Rodney C. Walker USAF!!!"

King Eric walked up. "HI EDI."

"King Eric the Just! Your hugeness!!!" He then noticed King Bond. "But who are you?"

"I?" said King Bond with a wicked gleam in his eye. "Why I am King Bond."

Birsauron grew pale. "Not THE King Bond."

"Yes," said King Bond, smiling even more wickedly now, "I am King Bond--the founder of the ANTI-EDI BIRSAURON SOCIETY. And you are now our guest!!!"

And so, with Birsaaron under tow and chain, the three comrades left Fangorn Wood to pursue their destiny further.....
