Editor-Dale Bosowski

As summer vacation dwindles to a close I find myself once again at the good ole typewriter. Seasons may come and go but the JOURNAL never ends. The JOURNAL is only ten pages this month because Bruce Gletty and John Mensinger are only reporting builds in their sections this month.

As I warned last month I am starting a lazy ass of the month club in which anyone can get into simply by missing their moves. This month we have 3. Ray Bergeron of hisow aigros Bob Franks of hisow aigros Bill Roche of hisow aigros. Bruce Gletty still has a couple of openings in his new happy game so write to him now. You can find his address in his section. If it is your first JOURNAL game it costs $1.00 and 75¢ after that.

I would like once again to thank Mike Byrne, John Mensinger and now that he is back to Motown Mike Wright for helping me print this thing up. For Mike's address see Bill Roche's section.

Lets have everyone get their moves in on time this month. For everyone that is going back to school, good luck.

Polack Predicts

As baseball goes into its final weeks the same leaders are still on top. Pitt seems to have weathered the storm and is on its way to the divisional title, while the Giants continue to hold on. Next month you will have my prediction on who will win the Bay Area World Series.

Turning to football, as you may or may not remember last month I said if you want you can send in some BS on your team. Maybe it is just summer or you are just plain lazy. but I only got a couple of things. There must be more people than that who like football. I would like to hear from more of you. To make it easy you can send it to a GM with your moves and ask him to forward it when he sends his stuff in. Lets get with it.

Next month you will see my great predictions for football. The Michigan Wolverines who are heading for their 4th great year in a row will be way up there. Now for a few other people's opinions.

With college football just around the corner, our resident expert on the Southeastern Conference recently expressed his views on the coming season: (though he needs no introduction, our S.E.C. man is Mike Wry)

"The S.E.C. will definitely be the nation's toughest conference (as usual) with Auburn (featuring their junior-grade ARGHIE MANNING Pat Sullivan is in S.C. Tennessee and Athens Jr. High-er, uh that is Georgia, and of course the pillar of S.E.C. football, THE GLE MISS REBELS making strong title bids."

"I am somewhat hesitant about including the Georgia flea-bags, er, I mean bulldogs in my predictions as a top contender. However, I hear that Georgia at last found a quarterback named Andy Johnson

Press Releases, Game I

Berlin, April 10, 1910-Kaiser Ware I expressed his extreme pleasure in that Playboy magazine (an American indie mag) picked the Bulldogs of Georgia number 5 in the college world. The Kaiser thought that Georgia would be at least 11-1 (including an Orange Bowl win) with the blessing soph. quarterback Andy Johnson at the helm and will soundly thrash everyone, but will give special attention to Ga. Tech and the Ole Miss rebble. Johnson till obscure whatsisname, who recently played for Ole Miss. Mike Wright is hereby advised to find a large rock and stay hidden until January, the Kaiser finished with a wide grin.

Bozo Note: I regret to inform Ware that there was a slight mistake. The workers minds were on a rather large page in the middle of the Mag and accidentally set the type wrong. Georgia will be number 5 all right, but in the conference not the nation. I don't see how Ware could have not figured out that there was an error as everyone knows the top 6 or 7 spots are always given to Big 10 teams.
As far as bowl predictions go, the only way the Georgia team of this year could make it to the Orange Bowl is to buy some reserve tickets. Johnson WHO????

Turkey, April 12, 1910-It was announced today that tickets for the World Series are now on sale. Both the Constantinople A's and Smyrna Giants report that they are going fast. Both teams have recently had a change in management and it is asked that checks be made out to the Austrian Government.

Well, school is about to start, and if that doesn't get you down, you're lucky. Spending a hour, yes a whole hour of my precious little remaining time, all for you people. Pretty stupid, aren't I? You damn well know it.

Apparently, some of you don't understand our system. All you had to send in this month were the Buils. For those of you who did send in novel, you will keep them, but you can send them ones if you wish. Game VII, Association of the... Austria-Hungary (Byrne) Buils Army... England (Kitano) Buils Fleet Edinburgh. France (Bosowski) Buils Army Brest. Germany (Glettery) Buils... Turkey (Wilson) Buils... Game VII

December 5, 1903-Our news bureau in Rome was given the following by some spaghetti, spaghetti... exactly as we received it. The... of late from the lips of the Italian high command has proved overpowering especially after sitting at lunch with their garlic sandwiches. Among the parts pritable the lot of the lecherous Austrians is truly worthy of the contempt of all good white men. Turkey now having been bagged with the Royal Austrian Sheriff will soon be going down the tubes so at least they will be clean when I have to make journey. These thoughts impressed upon of the populace.

National City, November 30, 1903-Yes, the rumors are true it was announced today. The pope is going to open a branch of the vatican in copinogen denmark. His reasons for the branch were, 'we have to teach those heathens to the north to believe in us the God of Wealth and to teach them to multiply and be happy.' It is garbage such as this, according to our Rome bureau, that has substantiated rumors that Ben Goss is alive and living in the Vatican. It should be noted that the above was printed exactly as we received it, with the clever punctuation and spelling.

Klotz Brewery, December 20, 1903-We had the misfortune to receive this piece of garbage directly from the pen, or rather crayola, of Douglas Schaefer: "A crack down on illegal Breweries has been started. Hans Rudolf Zegfried Klotz was located after a chase through Boon's farm orchard. he was located in a wine barrel headed for Malcom Ga. juiced completely out of his head. Among those arrested were Mad dog Byrne head hops picker. ChipDale Bosowski Assistant nut in charge Beer wagon Patti O'Kitano Beer Barrel 2nd Class. Bruncini Glettery over of the recently closed Klotz Kommsary charged with serving Vishy Swawa s (Potato Soup) Ducky Schaefer Head of the Beer Swimming team. Wright As Rain Carrier of the buckets of swamp water put in beer. Wee Timmy Tilson Beer taster and stomach pump operator, and lastly Johann Womansinger Apprentice custodian in charge of the basement urinals." One is continually amazed at what idiocy and stupidity can emanate from one person.

France (Frama) Builds Army Paris.

Winter Propaganda

London, December 10, 1908. This is the response of Miss Byrne, Prime Minister of England to the claim of the Morning Star. We (the British Armed Services) weren't the first to use gas warfare. It started simultaneously with the Russian invasion of Sweden. This is because the Russian peasants and soldiers only take one bath a year (the Osar's birthday in case you were wondering), so as the wind blows out of Sweden with a terrible stench that kills everything that breathes it.

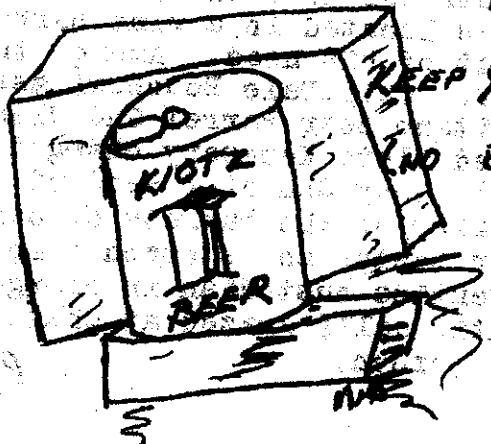

Our troops sent the vent of night gas to the Russian soldiers, obviously it didn't work. The Osar would have known of these conditions if he had ever stood downwind from a Russian peasant or soldier. Also our troops forgot that even the most brilliant Russians can't operate a simple spray can.

Moscow, November 24, 1908. Peterburg Know Nothing! Today the Russian Osar made a plea to the mad dictator of Austria-Hungary, Ben Goss, to stop using such fierce language in his press releases. Although the Russian Osar said such language might get the message across it must surely upset the civilians at the breakfast table. From the Russian spy in Vienna, 'Super Shops' it has been learned that Austria-Hungary's dictator, Ben Goss, is planning an attack on Russia. When the Osar heard this, he got sick at his stomach for he said the one thing he cannot stand is a tyrannical aggressor with size sixteen foot prints. The Russian Osar said he wished to talk with the Mad Dictator but had doubts about it. The commander of the Russian Army that just left Warsaw liked killing Poles so much he decided to return, this movement caused the Russian High Command to go bananas. From the outer reaches of the country it has been reported that millions of people are still dying from the English Gas Attack. The people say they have no defence against the Right Guard and that the English must be monsters to use it.

Well, that is about it for this month. I would like to thank all the players who took time to write PR's. They are appreciated. Due date for all moves is September 30, 1971. Please be on time. Till then, good bye.

THE RABBLASIAN GAZETTE

(Semi-unofficial state newspaper of the People's Republic of Rabbleasia, not Rabbleasian damn it, issued under the authority and incomplete scrutiny of Governor-General "Roche" Bill Evans, as authorized by the powers vested to him from His Majesty, Hailo the Wonderful, King of the Eskimos, Emperor of New Jersey, and Lord of the Flies. Anyone who keeps reading this section is hopelessly bored.)

Jubbulpore, Rabbleasia (Opps!!!): The excitement builds; you've all been on the edge of your seats, sometimes being unable to sleep at night, awaiting the results of the voting concerning conditional builds. Well, the tabulations are finally completed. All the votes were yes. For those interested, (I go into a detailed explanation here mainly for Doug Schaefer's benefit—he never fails to be fascinated by these such accounts) there were even the King's vote an one "I don't give a damn..." Perhaps the latter vote summed up the sentiments of the other voters. Right, that this means to you, as I explained in last month's JOURNAL, is that you will have to send in your builds with your fall turn. The normal diplomatic paper will do it, therefore I'm greatly optimistic about you guys.

To answer your question Dale: No, there isn't a place called Rabbleasia.

This question was submitted by that famous T.V. personality Dale Evans who is looking for a place to stud her famous hotsie Prans Pit.

Prans Releases: Game IX

Peking, March 20, 1902 (SooK Press): Today China's Emperor, Eggroll the Omnipotent, held an inquest as to the failure of our last offensive in Mongolia.

Not believing for one minute that our friends the Russians had a hand in it, the Emperor's court found out what really happened. It seems that the Japanese had a colony of ranchers in Outer Mongolia, where they raised the dreaded Columbian Crotch Crab, a beast with 3 cube shaped heads, 9 hairy legs with feet sporting four toes each, and a body resembling a freack potato.

It was discovered that the dirty Nips stampeded droves of the Crotch Crabs at our soldiers. No wonder our attacks failed.

However, it is reported that the beautiful climate of Manchuria is not conducive to raising Crotch Crabs, and as an extra precaution, our men are advancing dressed in Pat Kitano's costumes. This should scare off any Crotch Crabs, but may gross out our own people.

At the conclusion of the inquest, the emperor blamed the whole thing on Kitano and returned to his "play room" with a bottle of Zapsky Vodka (imported from Russia) for some "R&R".

Rome, April 3, 1902: Prime Minister Schaeferino recently held a news conference in which he was asked, "What should we do about the Austrian army in Venice?" "How the hell should I know," was his immediate answer. When the subject was pursued, he replied, "Goss can take his Venetian army and stick—" (Here Schaeferino offered an improbable solution for disposing the army— one which Goss, talented as he is, would doubtlessly reject even if it is feasible.)

who is reportedly the first Bullshit-er, I mean bulldog quarterback since Fran Tarkenton who figured out that he was supposed to throw a forward pass to his own team."

"Georgia fans who think Johnson will ever be in the same class with ARCHIE's underwear are sadly mistaken. Andy Johnson couldn't get pass an invalid teddy-bear confined to a wheel-chair, but compared to U.G.'s other recent quarterbacks, this is indeed cause for the Bullshit-er, that is bulldogs' boosters to be optimistic."

"As to the SEC, we are confident that the passing and running of Bob quarterback Morris News, a super-sona destined to steal the limelight from Johnson, while the great running of fullbacks Porter & Reed, and fullbacks Knight, and Linworth will doubtless be sufficient to take care of almost any foe handily..."

"Georgia has come into Mississippi Memorial Stadium twice against U.M., and though they were heavy favorites both times, on both occasions the Bullshit-er-bulldogs met defeat at the hands of John Vaught's Mississippians. Vaught, who compiled a fantastic 185-58-12 record at Ole Miss, will send the Peach State Patules back to Athens with their tails between their legs....GO REBS!!"

Also right

I can't really understand why there is all this talk of such teams as Mississippi, Georgia, Michigan, and Michigan State. What is especially dumb is the discussion about who is going to win which conference. The Big 10 only has one or two good teams, and they ought to be able to beat Illinois, Wisconsin, etc. The SEC is more balanced, but ole Miss and Georgia don't figure to be in the running. What now is the best, toughest, and most balanced conference in the country is the Pacific 8. Only Washington State has no chance. All the other teams could win. USC will again have an excellent team. UCLA needs a quarterback. Washington has Sonny Six-killer. Oregon and Oregon State are improved, with Oregon State, particularly having a lot of returning lettermen. I'm looking for the Indians to repeat their performance of last year, winning the conference. Don Rance is a great quarterback. He can't throw like Plunkett, but then there aren't many QB's that can. He however is a much better scrambler. The backfield is solid with returning starters Brown and Sherry. The defense is solid with Sherry who is supposed to very good. The Defense looks even better than last year. Stanford should be the top team in the top conference.
