A SAD TALE

I've never gone to Origins, or to a Dipcon. That is, not before this year. I went to Dipcon this year at GLASC, in LA. I never went before because I knew they were always beyond my range--across thousands of miles of desert and mountains. But LA! It is surely within my range. Well, maybe. But not within the range of the Volvo I drive with 205,000 miles on it. It threw a rod just short of Paso Robles--not quite half way to LA. I left the auto at a repair shop and continued hitching to LA.

I did ok in the Dippy tournament. I placed 2nd overall, just behind Dave Lager-son (YES! indeed! He is still alive. He's been having some personal problems, but is handling them and promised to write to us soon. He did well enough to place 1st!) My 2nd place was won because I was able to bring a 3-center Russia in 1905 to an 18-center win by 1914! Boy, did I do a lot of talking!

After the weekend, I spent a day looking about for an engine in the many LA wrecking yards. Found one and took it to Santa Maria. The repair shop took a week to put it in. I arrived home late at night July 12--2 days before the deadline. I apologize for those of you who tried to reach me by phone during my absence. Better luck (for us all!) next time.

QUOTES from the LIBERTERREAN:

"What if they sent out the tax bills and nobody paid?" --anon.

"In this century there have been only two countries in which a Jew was not allowed to marry a Christian: Nazi Germany and Israel." --Sec'y, League to Prevent Religious Coercion in Israel

PLUGS:

The best deal in Dippy zine-dom might be "The Brutus Bulletin". The issue I just received has 20 pages, 8.5x11". John Michalski publishes on a 2-week deadline. Subs are $2 for all issues until Dec. 1, 1978. John Michalski, 913 NE 6th St., Moore, OK 73160. I imagine 2-week deadlines work much better from Oklahoma than from California!

1940 ARMORED BARBARISM:

Map clarifications: Half hexes are playable. 3/4 hexes overlap when faced up to another section. When you deploy, you must maintain a 5-hex (exclusive) neutral zone in your deployment zones in areas adjacent to enemy deployment zones. This means there will be a 9 or 10 hex "Neutral Zone" between enemy units at deployment.

The 1940 attacks have produced 8 combat scenarios.

WEST FRONT Map #2: Germany has attacked
 France. Germany deploys on zones D & B; France deploys on map zones A & C.

EAST FRONT Map #1: Russia attacks Iran and Poland; Poland attacks Russia; Turkey attacks Russia from Turkey and Iran.
 Russia deploys on zones C & B; Poland deploys on zone A; Turkey deploys on zone D. Poland may only capture Russian CP in zone B;
 Turkey may only capture Russian CP in zone
 D. Russia must deploy a CP in each deployment zone.

NORTH AFRICA Map#10 Italy has attacked
 Jordan/Palestine, Egypt, Tunisia, & Algeria.
 Italy deploys on zones A & B; UK deploys on zone C; France deploys on zone D;

MOROCCO Map#4: Italy and Spain have both attacked Morocco. France deploys on zones C & D; Spain deploys on zone A; Italy deploys on zone B.

INDIA Map#9: Germany and Japan attack India. Germany & Japan deploy on zones A & B; UK deploys on zones C & D.

FAR EAST Map#7: Japan attacks Dutch East Indies, Indochina, Singapore, Malaya, and Melanesia. Japan deploys on any land map-edge hex, or a land hex which borders an all-water hex. Japan's CP must be deployed on or before turn 2. The UK and France may deploy anywhere not within 5 hexes of the outer edge of Map#7.

PORTUGAL Map#2: Spain attacks Portugal. Spain deploys on zones D & B; Portugal on zones A & C.

IRAQ, SYRIA, LEBANON Map#4: Germany has attacked Iraq, Syria & Lebanon with Turkish permission (out of Turkey). Germany deploys on zones D & C; France deploys on zone A; Iraq deploys on zone B.

We need a stand-by player for Turkey (the German player has offered, but I'd rather give it to someone not playing another position). I also need stand-bys for the UK and France, both of which are playing multiple scenarios and may be willing to assign responsibility for a scenario to a stand-by. I've asked Gary Council (US) to play Iraq and Portugal, but he may decline, so I'll accept stand-bys for these positions, too. Portugal has 2 Daimler Mk I armored cars; Iraq has a 2 pdr and an Al3. With this information and the maps, you can just send in the deployments with your request for assignment. I hope Gary takes them though. It will give him a good chance to break into the game mechanics without requiring much time of him. Or Conrad Struckman, do you still want to play? No fees for standby players, except the cost of maps & rules.

The deadline for your deployments is 1.00 pm, Monday, July 31, 1978. I'll report any spotted units next issue (#102) and Turn 1 will begin with issue # 103. By the way, CPs may only be deployed upon non-closed, non-building hexes which are also on a road and not within 5 hexes of a map edge.

Ankara(Spi,Ah): Wild shouting and jhoy was heard in the streets of the capital of Turkey at the news of the Russian Retreat and the I-ran-in-surrender. The greatest esteem went to the Truck Driver Pasha De Greco (a distant relative of the Greek Hero). Pasha explained in his slow heroic voice, how he was able to take the Russian CP. "Da, well, President Bolin, uh gave me this ah, Tank-- yea, tank--and said, "Kid, you're the only man who could do this--no one else is dumb enough." He ah, said I should take the CP-- he didn't say WHICH CP, so I just took one. They all look alike!"

Ankara: Turkey was upset by the recent Warsaw press and sent protest to Poland saying: "Poland and Turkey must not let themselves be drawn into this world war EXCEPT where their rights to safe and secure boundaries are concerned.

Ankara: It is rumored that President Bolin was overheard to say he would ally with any nations that would protect Turkey from Russia.

Paris (Upi,Up): The French people were surprised by the arrival of the Turkish ambassador who came with Lend Lease. Along with the Lease came a note from the Turkish people to the French: "We feel you will need this more than us, since by refusing to respond to the minor's letters you have thrown away over 300 PPs. Good luck--you'll need it!"

Ankara: Walter, I hope you will find this declaration of war better written. If not I'd be willing to send a personal copy by way of captured Russian units to Moscow.

Berlin(AP,UPI): Chancellor Charlie today released the following statement: "The German people are as concerned over the German weapons captured in China as General Totto is. These weapons were undoubtedly part of the loot stolen from the National Arsenal as reported in the LIB 95. The German people would appreciate its return."

Berlin(UPI,MA) AH): Today Chancellor Charlie expressed his congratulations to the Turkish President on his stunning success in Iran. He also added that since it was solely because of Iran's German advisors that the Turks had time enough to execute their plan, the Germans should share in the spoils. A German diplomatic mission is on its way to Ankara to ensure an equitable division of the booty.

Chancellor Charlie, being a music lover, has been forced to take a two week leave of absence to recuperate from the Emperor's latest escapade. He was last seen running from the communications center with his hands over his ears screaming "back to poetry, back to poetry".

"There is an error in the Soviet attack press. There is no such plane as a 3SB. There is a TB-3, the Tupolev TB-3, also known as ANT-6. This did serve against Japan as late as 1939, but no Chinese ever used this plane. Probably the writer is referring to the Tupolev SB-2, which was exported to China in great numbers."

--Russell Fox

I'm continually amazed at the utter lack of ability of the people playing AB games to utilize a pen. 1940 is a classical example. Realizing I could not attack both Russia & UK, I chose UK for the % of gain I stood to achieve. Also he has to pay a premium to deploy more than 63 PPs in the PTO. However, both players had 3 months or more to write, use diplomacy, & either get me to attack the other, or attack someone else entirely! Now I understand how people run low on time--I work a 54-60 hour week before adding time (or subtracting) for baseball & livestock, & gender & family. However, I'm sure everyone knows how "rabid" my letters are! Diplomacy in an AB game is critical, my friends (& foes). Assuming Poland is honest about its defection, the ELIMINATION of 100+ potential Allied PPs of units with a simple swath of ink on lined paper is the greatest military victory of all time! There is no way one can pooh pooh Polish armor in 1940, with 7 & 9 AP! Russia, don't count your blessings. As soon as I polish off UK in the Pacific, you are next. Maybe 1941, maybe 1942, unless you get off your duff.

Soviet Tanks and the Warsaw Pact

There is a very strong possibility, according to American experts, that Soviet tanks will be used in the East if conditions are favorable. The T-72 should total 100,000 units, and the T-62 will be around 400,000. The tanks are due in the 1970's, and it is expected that the USSR will be using them in the 1970's. It should also be noted that the T-72, improved by the USSR, is not only a mainstay of the Warsaw Pact, but also a mainstay of the military training, social defense and other facilities of the Warsaw Pact. The T-72 is a Soviet military tank, and it is the most advanced tank in the world.
