

LORD OF HOSTS

Is devoted to variant Diplomacy. In these pages will be found Miller numbers and designators, variant game announcements and results, occasional articles and editorials, and (given a special request and a hefty bribe of $3.00 per player, in addition to maintaining a subscription) games of variant Diplomacy. The price for subscriptions and back issues will be cost plus postage, rounded up to the nickel (so that I can produce additional copies). Offers to trade will be considered. Issues will be published at least quarterly; more frequently if there is sufficient material or games.

Miller numbers will be assigned on receipt of gamemaster's name, address, magazine, year of game, type of variant, and list of players and countries; postage would be appreciated but not required; subscribers and traders will receive their number with their next issue. Anyone may reproduce an issue in its entirety; partial reprinting is permitted upon attribution, except for articles by other authors who herewith retain full rights to their own material. This entire effort is yours courtesy of Robert Sacks, 4861 Broadway, Apt 5-V, NY NY 10034, (212) 942-3572.

Since the IDA Council now serving has chosen to toy with my finances, I am considering a complete revision of all financial policies.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF VARIANTS 1

Peter Berggren, Davistown Schoolhouse Rd, Orford NH 03777, runs EVEREST, the comprehensive ratings zine, available at 50¢/issue (15¢/issue for ratingsmasters). He will include variant ratings systems, if there are any.

Slobbovia is now being run as APA-SLOB - write to Robert Bryan Lipton, Box 1962, Lafayette College, Easton Pa 18042 for full details.

PHOENIX, the Journal of the DVC, #9-18, is available for a self-addressed envelope and 7 ounces postage from Robert Sacks. Subscriptions are welcome.

Back issues of MN'zines through LORD OF HOSTS 5&6 are available at 20¢/number plus postage. From LORD OF HOSTS #7 on it is 25¢/number plus postage.

The finest publications available in the wargaming field are probably EUROPA and BUMM, published by Walter Luc Haas, at 13/$10 and 10/$5 respectively.

It appears that Variant Orphan operations in Britain and Europe have collapsed; interested persons should contact Sacks, Heuer, Haas, Haven, or Patterson.

Vacant positions on the MNC staff have the following duties: (in any combination) permanent back-up, Variant Equation Game Analysis, Fantasy & Science Fiction and Diplomacy Variant Feedback, Variant Handbook, Catalogue, and Bibliography, and Miller Number Recategorization.

There is a proposal before DVC to establish awards (for variant publication, gamemaster, design, article, and general contribution) to be awarded by a six member panel elected by DVC - the proposal will probably be voted on in December, and if it passes the panel will be elected in January - persons interested in serving on the panel should contact the Secretary.

Other business in DVC now pending include setting up a Variant Playtesting Service under Lewis Pulsipher, setting up an insurance program for variants certified as fully playable, and possible amalgamation of variant zines.

Since there have been a handfull of criticisms on my comments about IDA last issue, I feel obligated to report on developments - for my extended comments, see ABLEHNEN #2 submitted to IMPASSABLE, PAROXYSM, SPECULUM, and THE POCKET ARMENIAN. DVC by a vote of 5-3 decided not to consider a motion of censure and non-recognition of IDA; 3 members of the TDA Variant Committee formed the backbone of that majority. The IDA did establish a new IDA Variant Committee but it has not commenced work. The IDA almost reversed itself and gave recognition and support to the Variant Orphan Rescue Service, but Pulsipher is filibustering. The IDA Editor has published a 3 page report from DVC, with a rather ridiculous and false justification of the disestablishment of non-North American Miller Numbers, and the Council has not considered a request for a reversal of that decision; indeed, except for VORS, they have still not considered requests on variant business (as distinct from motions proposed by Council members on their own initiative which must be considered) or shown any sign of being willing to cooperate with DVC.

Please note that 1975Rgr, announced last issue as a hoax, is actually being played though with a slight change of rules, and a few initial replacements. Chuckle.

My own variants - this issue we have some minor clarifications of the Downfall II rules (if it ever gets started) and two more of my variants: a revision of Active Neutrals which makes extended resistance in Scandinavia more likely by having Norway and Sweden played as a single power, and another rule and schedule variant, Hidden Strength, which allows each player to attempt to bring a single extra unit into the game, without need for supply for the next two winters, something I suspect every diplomacy player has always wanted to do.

The worst part of this job is going into extended details over new variants I'd just as soon prefer I'd never seen, so effective immediately comments on such will be minimal, if any are given at all.

Indonesian (Russel Fox, Urf Durfal #5). Confused, perhaps unplayable.

Plague (Richard Ware). Voted, spreads to adjacent units which CD and die 2 turns later. Sick.

Plague! (Adam Gruen, Urf Durfal #6). Another random variant, effects land provinces eliminating units in them and negating supply. Also sick.

World War III (Scott Rosenberg, The Pocket Armenian 19 & 20/CHOAM 37). Confused and unnecessarily complicated - uses nuclear and alignment rules.

gx. Trader (Matt Diller, The Pocket Armenian #23). A purposeless joke: 5 players, 1 island supply center each, 1 sea space.

Siberian-Iberian (Paul Girsdansky, Magna Avis #1 (&2)). Iberian player added; Caspian navigable; Switzerland semi-passable, but fortified. Poor.

Moose (Paul Girsdansky, Magna Avis #2). Scandinavian player added; Pacific theatre added. Very confused.

Chinese (T A McCloud, Speculum #24). A rather charming, simple economic game. 6 powers and 3 random Chinese factions. Three staging areas with unlimited stacking for the powers - Siberia for Russia, Indo-china and the Pacific for the other 5. Annual moves only - no seasons. Imperials disappear 1911; Kuomintang have 1 army for every 3 years 1911 to 1928 and adjust for supply centers thereafter; Communists have 10 armies every 13 years starting 1927. Chinese builds are random, but they annihilate units in the build centers. It costs to bring in and maintain armies (there are no fleets) and to have units annihilated; revenue comes from supply centers; if a power goes too deeply in debt the player is deposed and replaced.

gw. World Powers (Richard Ware). Simple extension covering the entire world; each of the powers has an additional center (not necessarily historical), and Japan and US are each added with 4 centers; there is a canal through Egypt and between Mexico and Columbia. Some merit.

Extended (Peter Scribner, Cimmeria #23). Simple extension including Africa and the Middle East; any player eliminated from the original 34 centers goes into civil disorder; Italy, Russia, and Turkey get additional home centers; Britain gets 2 colonial centers, and Austria, France, and Germany get one each - units may be built in colonial centers only for a gain in centers within three land provinces. Interesting concepts.

Magic II (Roger Cooper, Valinor #1). D&D strikes! could use a little simplification, but good. In addition to standard set-up, one unit is knighted (double strength - must be doubly attacked to totally cut support), and there is a hero and a wizard for each player; heroes may accompany their own forces adding 1 to their strength, and travel alone (over land or water) without strength - if they are unable to retreat when forced they're annihilated; wizards may move invisibly (if an enemy unit is in the same space it has a 50% chance of detecting and capturing the wizard) or cast spells to take effect before movement (spell broken if the wizard is discovered, hit by lightning or fireball, or attacked) up to a total of 3 plus 1 for every winter, but only one at a time and only a Learning spell to start (there are 15 other spells - all useful directly in some way); certain spells must be maintained; one spell is Counterspell against several of the other spells; one spell (Light) may be cast while moving to counter Darkness.

gy. Downfall of the Lord of the Rings and the Return of the King II (Robert Sacks, Lord of Hosts Supplement to 5&6, Revision in #8)

ACTIVE NEUTRALS (Revision) Every minor power begins with a unit in it, according to the schedule below. Every major power player will also play for one or two minor powers, according to the schedule. Each power, major or minor, will be played separately - with separate supply center counts and with separate status regarding self-dislodgment - except Sweden and Norway which will be played as a single power, since they share a common King in 1900; a minor power could win; a minor power once wiped out cannot be brought back any more than any other power; a major power can wipe out its associated minor powers, and vice versa.

Schedule:	Austria	A Belgium	F Portugal	Italy	A Sweden	F Norway
	England	A Greece		Russia	A Serbia
	France	A Rumania	A Denmark	Turkey	A Holland	A Spain
	Germany	A Bulgaria	F Tunis

1. The rules as published as a supplement to Lord of Hosts #5&6 apply with the following clarifications.
 - a. The designer may make rulings from time to time as precedents.
 - b. Ordinary fleets may be built, just not multiple fleets.
The Seas of Rhûn and Nurnen have no effect on the game.
 - c. The TA elimination option applies to pieces which would have been dislodged if pieces could be dislodged. Since pieces not involved in combat are not ordinarily revealed, a TA with this option will be advised if it meets a piece.
 - d. The Balrog is stronger than Ents.

2. House Rules (changes underscored in this manner)
 - a. Preference Lists are used when submitted.
 - b. Press and all moves since the previous issue of Lord of Hosts will be carried in the next issue of Lord of Hosts (except for insipid press which will go only to other players, if at all). All moves except the moves due immediately before an issue of Lord of Hosts will come out by carbon copy.
 - c. Deadlines for Spring and Fall moves (or their equivalents) will normally be three weeks, and for adjustments, when separate, two weeks. First move deadlines will be four or five weeks.
 - d. A player who misses two consecutive moves will be dropped and replacements will be asked for. General Orders may be submitted, but if used it is still counted as a missed turn.
 - e. The Gamemaster is the final judge of all questions, and reserves the right to be arbitrary on questions of misconduct.

4. Initial moves are due: 7 pm, Wed, 14 January 1975.

HIDDEN STRENGTH

Once during the game each power may attempt to bring an extra unit onto the board, according to the schedule below. This is a move which may be supported; it succeeds if it appears in the designated space with greater strength than any other unit moving to or holding in that space - otherwise it fails, though it may serve to have prevented another unit from moving or supporting. A unit brought on in this manner is automatically in supply the next two Winters.

Schedule

Austria An army anywhere within 1900 boundaries or Fleet Trieste

England Fleet North Atlantic, Army Wales, or Army Syria

France An army in Burgundy, Gascony, Paris, or North Africa

Germany An army anywhere within 1900 boundaries or Fleet Kiel

Italy An army anywhere within 1900 boundaries or Fleet Apulia or Tuscany

Russia An army in Moscow, St.Petersburg, or Sevastopol

Turkey Any unit in Ankara or Smyrna

WINTERCON IV will take place January 16-8. Since I am not responsible for it this year, I cannot say much about it (there may be an attachment on it), but I hope it will be worthwhile in the tradition of MIT-SGS WinterCons.
