Press Releases: 1968B

AM-FIZZ CORP (short for American Fissionables): We regret to say that Austrian troops looted our Budapest store. In return, we intend to take over that country.

To the Italian Government: It is true that your General Staff has received one of the finest military educations available in Europe. Remember where they received their education. All German General Officers are educated here at Potsdam War College, you cannot hope for victory.

Signed---William II

Emperor

Black, black propaganas:

From the Newsdesk of Radio Krakatoa: Hello, out there in Dippyland! This is Hoppy Hedder with the latest dirt of 1901. The big news, of course, is that Pope Joan is rumored to be pregnant--and her not married, yet! Shame, shame, Popesiel! Well, if finally happened! Pharaoh DedmushV is finally dead, poisoned by his morning breakfast. Never trust a dish of oatmeal, I always say. His son, Fatnose II; now rules Egypt. His Queen, Nefer-an-Sunndei, the former Lucretia Borgia, is no longer allowed in the royal kitchen. Well, it looks like Germany is in for it! Latest from the front indicates a sneak attack by Italy, and it's rumored that Germany's got more enemies than that. Hmmm...looks like England and Russia aren't going to be too buddy-buddy after the stab in Scandinavia. The blood does flow freely, these days! Rumors of Austro-Russian peace conferences persist, and amid fresh news of Russian success on the battle field, the question is heard in many European capitals, is Czar McLeod already too big for the common good? Seven units does seem a lot when the next largest power has only 5....

FRAGIA (formerly Prague) (5 April 1902): The gay Italian-Bohemian city of Fragia today hosted a gala formal visit to Her Holiness, Pope Joan IV. Her Holiness is touring the gay cities of the continent in the company of Her consort, Crown Prince Ferdinand of Austria. The Prince is not seen often these days, although it is said that he is fulfilling the duties required of the Papal Consort very satisfactorily. People who have seen the Prince on his infrequent appearances have noted that he looks "tired". Said Anton Przemysl, Duke of Bohemia, "exhausted, I'd say". The happy capital of the Duchy of Bohemia, a vassal state of the Papal States, has turned itself inside out to entertain its young and beautiful suzerain. Pope Joan, Her beautiful golden hair falling in sunlit cascades from beneath the Papal Tiara, is everywhere in the city. Her Holiness has had numerous private audiences with the Duke; with the Patriarch of Bohemia, Lecherus VI; with the Bishop of Prague; and with numerous other dignitaries. Some observers feel that they look "Tired", too. Rumor has it that the Emperor of Austria himself may soon come to Fragia for a conference with Her Holiness on matters of military importance. What, or whom, they will discuss is not known.

There is more, but it is so bad I don't have the heart to lay it on you!
