In case anyone is interested in why this issue was so late, well I really don't know. Maybe it is because it started in answer to Greg Long's CEREBRAL NEBULA. Born soon after EFGIART was launched, it was intended to be a journal for Kriegspiel Diplomacy. But I got ambitious, and here I am. Fortunately for the world of Dippy people EFGIART has survived Long's fantastic deadlines. It is sure a shame that I am not doing any better.

So, an announcement: To all of my two subscribers; if you want your money back just let me know. But you poor players are stuck with me. Enough of this messing around, on to the games.

ROMA: Whasamatteryou? Da General Staff she return to da schoolhouse, and you get all excite.

TO RUSSIA: Sorry about that move against Rumania. Thought you might be allied with the forces of darkness. Besides, there was nothing else for it to do. How was I to know Austria preferred Greece to Trieste?

/Anyone like an alliance against the forces of darkness?/

PRESS RELEASES: 1968B

GENEVA: The British Embassy passed a note to the Swiss Foreign Office today recommending that the Swiss Government implement an immediate change in their postal system... From snails to TURTLES!!! THE GM AGREES WHOLEHEARTEDLY!!!!!!

erry Rod, but that last one was too much. However your ultimatum will be delivered.

/Germany; All lands, I think, adjacent to the Mediterranean are here by declared "civilized" and therefore an attack on one is an attack on all. Stop attacking France, and all will be praches and cream. If you live that long.-sph/

MUNICCIA (formerly Munich))25 September 1902): The Grand Holy Papal Army, led by Prince Caesara Borgia, Her Holiness' Brother, today entered the ancient capital of Bavaria. In a surprise move, His Highness had led the Forces of the Church out of Pragia, across the Schwarzwald into the plain of the Inn and Danub4 Rivers./I hate to be a party pooper, but, the Blackforest lies to the west of The Inn and the Danube. And why would an army fly across Germany in WWI, unless of course Her Most Pregnant Holiness is delving in Black Magic./ His forces easily dispersed the imcompetant German militia. However, even as the Papai forces are celebrating their victory with a Holy High Mass Loot and Rape, rumors are that powerful German armies in Breslau and Innsbrücken may be preparing a powerful counterattack against the glorious arms of Imperium Romana. The issue is still in doubt. /What's to doubt, you got slaughtered./
