

This is MANIFEST DESTINY, a zine purportedly devoted to the play of Diplomacy and its variants, but which is actually part of a devious plot by Keith Sesler(PO Box 158, Fraser, MI 48026. (313) 293-0223.) to stage a coup de'tat and sieze control of the government. If you'd like to help me out in my quest for absolute power, send me your contributions, disguised as subscriptions(12/$4.00).

In keeping with our masquerade as a Dipzine, we have game openings in Deadman Dip, 1885IV, Cosmic Dip and Bourse. Rules to all games are free on request. Gamefee is $1 + a $2 refundable NMR fee. Bourse is free.

Well, as most of you are acutely aware, this zine is about a week late. I guess I must have jinxed myself by stating in my last issue how every issue goes out in the next day's mail. I've been working a lot of overtime lately, and will probably continue to for some time, so future MD's will have a turnaround time on par with most other zines from now on. Also, I'm switching my deadlines to Saturdays so I'll be a bit fresher when adjudicating the games. Lat issue was printed up while I was quite tired form work, and a number of minor bugs crept in. Hopefully, this issue will be alot better, but I'm sure there will still be some typos, as it's almost impossible for me to see what I'm typing when using mineo stencils.

The Russian order is similar in appearance to an implied order, but the thing that makes it especially unusual was the use of a comma between A Pru and A Mos. As was stated on page one of MD recently, implied orders are illegal. The rest of the order was so garbled and confusing that it was disallowed too, although it didn't make any difference in this case. Players will find that writing out your orders is the best way to make sure the GM can understand them. W'09 & Spring '10 due Sat. March 3rd.

 Austrai isn't happy about the fact that Italy is battling France with only 4 centers-- so he is going to make it three and I am so hopelessly confused that I cut my own support.
 So I guess a concession to Russia stands a better chance than a seven way.

Well, now that football is over with for awhile, I can now turn my attention to discussing baseball and the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers, who finished with the third best record in BB

WHAT NOT TO NAME YOUR DOG

Everybody who has a dog calls him "Rover" or "Boy". I call mine SEX. Now sex has been very embarrassing to me. When I went to city hall to renew his license, I told the clerk I would like to have a license for Sex. He said "I'd like to have one too." Then I said, "But this is a dog." He said he didn't care what she looked like. Then I said "But you don't understand, I've had Sex since I was nine years old." He said I must have been quite a kid.

When I got married and went on my honeymoon I took the dog with me. I told the motel clerk that I wanted a room for my wife and me and a special room for Sex. He said every room in the place was for Sex. I said, "You don't understand. Sex keeps me awake at night." The clerk said, "Me, too."

One day I entered Sex in a contest. But before the competition began the dog ran away. A contestant asked me why I was just standing there looking around. I told him I planned to have Sex in the contest. He told me I should have sold my own tickets. "But you don't understand" I said. "I had hoped to have Sex on TV." He called me a showoff.

When my wife and I separated, we went to court to fight for custody of the dog. I said, "Your honor, I had Sex before I was married." The judge said, "Me, too." Then I told him that after I was married, Sex left me. He said, "Me, too."

Last night Sex ran off again. I spent hours looking around town for him. A cop came over to me and asked, "What are you doing in this alley at 4 O'clock in the morning?" I said, "I'm looking for Sex." My case comes up this Friday.

Moses DOWN FROM THE MOUNT: "It's just a first draft, but it seems that no one is going to get away with anything."

Boss TO EMPLOYEE: "You're a good man, Remington—punctual, industrious, efficient, pleasant and loyal. You're also making the other employees very, very nervous."

—Bill Mauldin in Successful Business

THE AUTO WORKERS

Four auto workers were discussing how smart their dogs were. The first was a Ford worker who said his dog could do math calculations. His name was "E-square" and he told him to go to the blackboard and draw a square, a circle, and a triangle, which the dog did with no sweat. The Chrysler worker said his dog was better. His dog was named "slide-rule" and was told to go fetch a dozen cookies and bring them back and divide them into four piles of three, which Slide-rule did with no problem. The American Motors worker said that was good, but he felt that his dog was better. His dog, named Measure, was told to go get a quart of milk and pour seven ounces of milk into a ten ounce glass, which the dog did with no problem. All three agreed that this was very good and that all the dogs were smart. They turned to the General Motors worker and said: "What can your dog do?" The GM worker called his dog "Coffee Break" and said, "Show the fellows what you can do." Coffee Break went over and ate the cookies, drank the milk, screwed the other three dogs, claimed he had injured his back, filed for workman's compensation, and left for home on sick leave.

MOVIE REVIEW

Sudden Impact is the newest of Clint Eastwood's Dirty Harry pictures, and is one of his best. This time around, though, Clint uses two guns, not just one. In addition to the traditional GM S & W Model 29, he showcases the long-discontinued .44 Auto-Mag to dispatch the last few bad guys who get in his way. The plot of the film concerns a rape victim who's killing off all of her attackers ten years after the crime. While tracking down the killer (Donna Locke), Eastwood runs into a number of confrontations with mobsters out to assassinate him, as well as the usual scenes of Harry talking various acts of the crime as the audience cheers him on. I really enjoyed Sudden Impact. While the killer in it is pretty boring compared to Scorpio or the other antagonists from prior Dirty Harry films, there's enough other action going on to more than make up for this minor flaw. Guaranteed to satisfy your bloodlust.
