Press Releases: Turks Wonder Why?????...

Constantinople (URP): The Sultan's Minister for propaganda today stated, "The Austrian High Seas Fleet has sortied into the Ionian Sea. Included in the force were the ships of the line Charlemagne, Totenkompf, and Wildenvolly. If this force were to encounter similar Turkish fleets in the Mediterranean, things could get unfortunate..."

Russian Army Found...

Moscow (Reuters-before the time) Word has been sent that the Russian Army in Germany did not revolt as rumored. The cause of the great commotion was the disappearance of the supply wagon containing the Army's only supply of "little water" within 3,000 kilometers. The heavily guarded wagon left Dusseldorf on July 16 for the Army camp, a distance of perhaps 6 km, but was never seen again. Many Russian officers believe that the wagon was sabotaged by the German civilian population. They wanted to level Dusseldorf and all other villages and buildings within 50 km to teach the Germans a lesson. A milder view, the one which finally prevailed, was that the wagon "Big Barrel" (as it was fondly known) disappeared under its own support. "It iz goot to tink zat smeazere, somevere iz havink goot time!" remarked one old veteran. Needless to say, a new supply of the morale-booster was rushed from Moscow non-stop to the camp, the arrival of which quelled the so-called revolution.
