A MESSAGE TO ATLANTIC REGIONAL MEMBERS OF THE I.D.A.

As most of you are aware, I am running for Atlantic Regional Secretary. I would like to ask you for your support.

My principle concern is that the Atlantic Secretary be of service to Atlantic region Diplomacy players. Towards this end, I will establish, if elected, an Atlantic Regional zine. In this zine along with news of interest will be printed a list of all Atlantic zines (perhaps it will list all zines), their subscription costs, game fees, average page length, publication frequency, production technique, etc. I feel this can be of tremendous use to all players.

I also believe that many projects can be conducted on a regional level that cannot be run (at least initially) on a nationwide or world-wide basis. Therefore, I will correspond actively with all other regional secretaries, especially foreign, to produce the greatest exchange of ideas possible.

I believe that a regional secretary can be the closest link between an individual player and the organization. I will be available to help all players in any way I can, whether to provide information, advice, or referral to the right person, zine, or organization.

And, I will of course endeavor to be a useful and helpful member of the Council.

If you agree with me that there is a great deal of service the Atlantic Regional Secretary can provide, and agree with the specifics I have proposed, I hope you will support my candidacy.

It has come to my attention that some have felt that my mention of the fact that The POUCH charged no game fees in my Diplomacy Review statement was an attempt to mask the fact that we require maintenance of a sub and/or that we had initiated game fees. Please let me set the record straight. The statement was handed in before game fees were implemented, and I fully admit that it is possible to interpret our subscription requirement as a very high game fee. I was not trying to hide anything, or intimate that "my zine's cheaper than all the others!". I was merely making an aside to the effect that there is a great deal of variety when it comes to game fees.

Finally, I want to make it clear that this statement is mine alone. The other editors of The POUCH have been kind enough to allow me to enclose it with an issue, since I could not afford the postage of a separate appeal. The POUCH will be glad to extend this privilege to John DePrisco in rebuttal.

Since this statement goes only to IDA members who read The POUCH, I would greatly appreciate it if you would share this statement with member friends who do not normally read this zine.

Thank you.

Nicholas A. Ulanov
