We have some good news and some bad news.

First, the good news. The Anniversary Issue is going to be very good. We have all the material in and organized. More than half of it is on stencil. All supplies are bought and paid for.

Now for the bad news. There is no way we can have it run-off and mailed by March 4. The time and effort involved requires three or four days in which nothing is done except work on finishing production of the issue. Nicholas Ulanov's next school vacation is not until March 14. Thus, the issue will not be in the mail until March 17-18. Obviously, it's not so bad to be 14 days late on a project of this size, but it's too bad. But we are far enough along to know and promise without reservation that it will be in the mail by March 18.
