How about naming some of those spaces, guys? Oops, read the press....

Year 7 orders are due Monday, Sept. 27 at 1030h MDT. Press? We got it!

Square 10: Chief Wart of the Land of the Hairy Warts congratulated all Ronkleys and applauded their choice of a name for the conquered square 10: "Land of the Hairy Wise."

Golliwog: The Wog hereby subscribes to the Ronklian Doctrine that no nation-state should grow to maturity unnamed and, by implication, unloved. As the number of parents of these children diminishes, a greater burden falls on those who remain. We must remember that we were all, at one time, little squares, and that only unbounded GM generosity and TLC has given us the confidence and experience necessary to cultivate little squares of our own. The next generation must appreciate and perpetuate the best of the present society.

Therefore, to lend credence to this declaration, a concerted effort must be made to capture and name the only waif within striking distance. Should the attack succeed before a previous nomenclature, the plebian "24" is to be re-christened "Flanders" in memory of the (Grateful) Undead.

Resist creeping computerism! Permit "5", "6", "7", "16" and "21" surcease from their humiliation; or their eternal blighting shall be on your heads!

Rick Solomon's NMR is probably the result of a recently-sustained broken leg, from which he reports he is recovering. Cal White's NMR is probably the result of a pact between him and Gross to miss every second turn!

Ah well, I've resolved never to fill empty pages in this zine with garbage - unless, of course, it's connected with the game!

CHIMO!
