"Well, John, we survived the discussion of oranges in this Diplomacy magazine, but we may not be so lucky with the controversy over the homosexuals in the National City park rest rooms. I mean, Diplomacy fans aren't interested in sexual perversions."

"I'm afraid you're right, George."

DEADLINE FOR "FALL 1910" ORDERS IS FRIDAY, 7 FEBRUARY 1969

RALSTONSTADT (25 December 1909) At a special press conference attended by representatives from all over the world Dr. Herbert Marcuse of the University of St. Peerigrad's Ryerson College campus announced that the College's Metaphysics Department had developed the Ultimate Weapon. Dr. Marcuse announced that the weapon consisted of the following components: a slightly bored college campus, one incompetent governor, several unhappy teachers, a large number of unwashed students, a tight-fisted legislature, and a host of irresponsible reporters. When all of this is combined, according to the doctor, you have a Peeribomb, the Ultimate weapon which can be used to destroy an institution of higher learning.

At a later press conference Professor and Provost Walter Lippmann announced that the Ryerson College had agreed to accept demands of the militant leaders of the Students for a Greenian Society and would institute a program of Greenian Studies. The new program would consist of the following courses:

The growth and development of the Greenebean theory (3 units),
The development of Greenebean breeding methods (2 units)

Experimental studies in Greenebean mating procedues (1 unit),
 Theory of Greenebean cultivation (2 units),
 History of the Greenian Movement (4 units),
 Myths of the Greenian Psychology (1 units),
 The Care and Handling of Greenebeans (1 units).

The new program is expected to restore quiet and order to the campus, which for the past several weeks has been covered with greene and blue paisley bunting in token support of the Greenebeanian movement. The GM (as it is called) is believed to be smaller than it appears but such a violent and demonstrative group has been humored by the school's administration rather than create a bunch of martyrs out of it.

ST PEERIGRAD (31 December 1909) In an historical first Their Imperial Majestys the Empress Xenia Tanayevski-Ordevski and the Emperor George Daniel Michael Evans-Kuszynski today appeared on a joint broadcast of all Russian radio and peeritransmitters to speak to their people.

"We believe that the war which has ravaged so much of Europe is near an end. It is Our belief that a most just and righteous God will deliver the victory to Our cause and that in the end right will emerge triumphant.

"We offer an honorable peace to all nations and request only that each nation demobilize its forces and return their soldiers to peaceful pursuits.

"That all nations live in peace together and that no nation feel superior or inferior to any other.

"That all men live in peace together and that no man feel superior or inferior to any other.

"Only in this spirit can a just peace return to Europe."

YOUNGSTOWN (2 January 1910) With the occupation of Youngstown complete Gen. Boris B. Bolinski today announced an expeditionary force had been dispatched to Clarion, Pennsylvania to seize the headquarters of the American Timex Corporation, which is located there. The famous clock-watching company will be converted into making medallions marking the 200th anniversary of St. Peerigrad which begins next year.

Meanwhile Dr. John Koning, President of Ohio State University, announced after returning to work at the school that a program was being instituted to study oranges. This program is believed to be in competition with the program of greenebean studies at the University of St. Peerigrad's Ryerson College.

Dr. Koning said: "Our program to study oranges, along with the greenebean study at Ryerson, the carnation study at the University of Sacramento, the "weed" study at Whitman College, the "pet" study at Brooklyn College, the study of seashells at the University of the Pacific, etc. will further higher education throughout the country. All of these programs together will aid in furthering the cause of nature."

(from the San Diego Union, 5 December 1909):

NUDIST CAMP RAID REVEALS NOTHING!

SAN DIEGO A raid on the Sun Valley Nudist Camp near El Cajon East evening revealed nothing as police failed to turn up any clues as to whom has been using the camp during the winter season. All police reported finding was a large number of small blocks of differing colors: including red, white, green, and blue. The blocks were of two sizes, long and skinny ones and shorter fat ones. Police could not determine immediately what the blocks were for.

PALESTINE (2 November 1909) Russian forces swept down from the hills of Anatolia this season to enter the Holy Land. It is rumored that this act was ordered by the Empress who it is believed is planning to dismantle the entire Holy Land and take it back to Russia. Once again Howard Hughes agents are in the area looking for a quick way to make a buck.

LIVERPOOL (undated) Russian sailors here today reported sighting large numbers of enemy troops in the hills above the city. These sightings combined with reports that French naval units are in the area may mean the end of occupation of the city by Russian forces. However, Russian forces are busily dismantling the entire city for transportation back to Russia. No agents of Howard Hughes are reported in the area.

3001: A DISNEY-GREENE-HUGHES PRODUCTION

PART THE FOURTH: SHE SPEAKS...

MARGARET: "Greetings. Welcome to Peeritune. You are from Earth, I know. He told me you were coming and that I would have to wait for you.

"I suppose you want to hear what happened on Earth so long ago. Well, listen well and I shall tell you my story.

"Many years ago when I was young and fair I was the most sought-after woman in all the world. Every nation sent princes to ask my father for my hand. My father was a mighty warrior, ruler of many armies, great fleets, victor of a thousand wars, conqueror of a thousand lands. I was his only daughter and someday all that was his was to be mine. My father had a dream that one day he would find a husband suitable for me and that he would rule over my father's lands in truth and righteousness as he had. My father loved me and knew that I could not rule or even survive for long in a world of wicked men and that I would need some brave and intelligent man to protect me. We waited long for such a man to come. Many men came to seek my hand. Some were rich, some powerful, some handsome, some wise, some clever, some vain, some wicked, and some evil. But all sought only my wealth and riches. None sought me for what I was. Father knew that and would not give me to such a man.

"Instead of this horrible matching, for wealth and power alone, father decided to spare me the sorrow that belonged to the rulers of the world. Instead he asked Merlin, our sorcerer, to make me a potion to put me to sleep. Then father arranged to send me here. With me he sent all of his bravest soldiers and their sleeping chambers are all around me, to guard me while I slept. Now I am awake, and they also.

"Father believed that he who would find me and awaken me with a kiss would be able to defeat his warriors, to return to Earth, and to re-establish his kingdom.

"That is now your task. Will you do it?"

John rises from his knees and lifts the fair Margaret from her couch. Gazing into her eyes he says, "Yes."

Will John defeat the guards of Margaret? What was Margaret's father? Will John re-establish his Kingdom? Stay tuned for further adventures.

 DEADLINE FOR "SPRING 1903" ORDERS IS FRIDAY, 7 FEBRUARY 1969

PETROGRAD (15 December 1902) His Holiness, Pope Innocent XIV, :
 still visiting the Imperial capital, today excommunicated one John Koning, of some small burg in America, for rank and indecent heresy. His Holiness noted that Koning was the publisher of a small newsletter, hardly fit for wrapping Florida orange rind, in which was reported that the Pope had celebrated an illegal liturgy, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception; when, in fact, His Holiness had celebrated the Feast of the Immaculate Contraception (in which the Pill is substituted for the Host).
 Catholic authorities in Ohio are on the lookout for the fugitive Koning, who will be burnt at the stake for his heinous crime. Unless, of course, he repents and makes abject apology. In which case he will only be put in the same room with John Smythe, a pot of tea, and a single bottle of beer.

YOUNGSTOWN (DWE) Of the three I much prefer the bottle of beer, but in a pinch I would accept the pot of tea (even without ice). I have little use for a John Smythe, however, whatever that is.

ATHENS (1 October 1902) The Sultana, Sarah F. Allen, sends the following communique to the Czar:

"The recent aggression against Turkish territory can still be retracted. The Fall of the Hapsburgs in Austria should provide room for Russian expansion. Therefore we respectfully request that the Czar immediately remove his forces from Turkish territory. Politically, this move would most certainly aid the Russian cause because it would ally the fears of the other major powers. Failure to assure the integrity of Turkey would result in the creation of an Entente against Russia.

"For reasons of both strategic and military necessity, it is to the Czar's advantage to return Turkish territory to its rightful rulers. Should accomodation be considered, a neutral power (e.g., France) could act as mediator. Your immediate response is solicited." /s/ Sarah F. Allen, Sultana of Turkey

MISSIF:

ROD WALKER, 1575-A White Dr., Rantoul, Ill. 61866 If John Smythe believes that oranges are California's principal fruit crop, then he has never been in Hollywood. Or in a National City rest room.

Hmph. He forgot popcorn, the only way in which the stuff is really edible.

The superiority of oranges over blueberries is so obvious that it really need not be discussed. For one thing, even if one liked blueberries (which I will admit, I do, in muffins), they are a seasonal crop and likely to be expensive even when they are in season. Oranges, on the other hand, grow all the year around, where they will grow at all, and grow supremely well, large, juicy, flavorful, delicious and yummy in California. The bright color is a delight to the eye, in contrast to the dark, drab colors of certain other fruit (i.e., blueberries).

Economists are exalted? You mean, of course, that you were high. I can understand, John, as economics would drive me to drink, too. As it is, I am associated with the truly significant branches of the social sciences, and can therefore get along on more healthful beverages, such as orange juice. And lemon juice.

I liked your cover (#58). Of course, what it didn't show was the large pack of ravenous wolves getting ready to spring upon the shepherds and devour them. CHOMP! ((Oh, come now, Rod. That was a Christmas Cover, not an Inauguration Day Cover.))

DON FONTAINE, 405 Wilson Dr., Midland, Mich. 48640. I greatly prefer Florida oranges over California oranges and Texas oranges are shaped like and remind me of road apples (although I really get a lot of them in Michigan.) ((A lot of Texas oranges or a lot of roadapples? Or -- as you alledge -- can't you tell, for sure.))

WILLIAM LINDEN, 83-33 Austin St., Kew Gardens, N.Y. 11415. Now that Californians, Floridans, Texans and Mainites have had their innings, what about the state by whose efforts the other 49 can flatter themselves by pretending they exist -- New York? What about Long Island clams, potatoes and ducks? Yes, Long Island grows potatoes. You don't see so much of them because we don't need to get rid of them by dumping them all over the country, as Idaho does with it's inferior product.

And Red, even Nixon had enough sense to leave California and move to New York, even if we don't like to admit it.

SID COCHRAN, 805 Citizens Bank Bldg., Tyler, Texas 75701. Responsive to the comments of Red Walker and Terry Kuch about the Fruit Society in National City, may I suggest that they didn't grab them en masse, but the pelizei laid a deadfall for the fair things there at the head in N. City, and got them seriatim, as it were.

HAL NAUS, 1424 National Ave. #9, Chula Vista, Calif. 92010. In answer to the Walker and Von Metzke letters about the "Fag" convention in the Rest Rooms of National City.

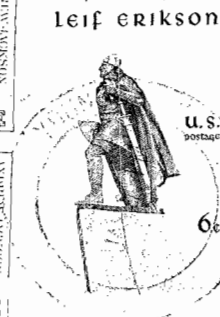

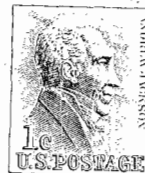

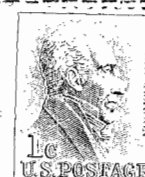

First of all the location is wrong, it actually happened in the "Memorial Park" rest room in Chula Vista, and the number was 29 not 39. I am sure if you would inquire of the Chula Vista Star News they would enlighten you on the subject, since to them it was front page material including all the names and addresses of the individuals and as many pictures as they could get.

The was they were caust was that Police were hiding in a small room in back and taking pictures of the proceedings. The hit song of the time once that was requested over and over again on the local DJ shows in commemoration of the occasion was Frankie Laine's "Blowing Wild."

National City has one of the largest City Rest Rooms in Southern California, while Chula Vista's is adequate for the needs, even to this day this fine city is known as the City of Parks and Queers.

((Tune in next issue for another fine message from the Chula Vista Chamber of Commerce.))
