THANG #1

(MORDOR VERSUS THE WORLD III-#1)

Three or four days after the mailing of the last issue of THANG, your Gamesmaster received a phone call from Brian Libby (who had apparently missed the last move in this game.) Brian explained that he had, indeed, mailed his move to me. I had received no move from him, but agreed to let him submit a late move for two reasons: (1) letters have apparently been waylaid by the Clarkson college mail Service before, and, though not too frequently, it was a possibility, and (2) I know Brian to be a prompt individual.

So, below is the corrected move to the MVTW game #1. In the future, however, the GM will accept NO excuses for late moves of this sort, ie. if your move arrives late and I am not printing on the deadline, a two or three day grace period will be allotted. Nothing of the sort of allowance above will be permitted, however.

MIDDLE EARTH PRESS

MORDOR: While the mighty Host of the West of Aragorn, son of Arathorn, chieftain of the Dunedain, wearer of the Star of the North, the Elf-stone, Big Cheese and Top of the Heap blunders about in the glacial wastes of the Shadow Mountains, the other units of Gondor disappear as Lebennin follows Minas Tirith into the trash can of history, overrun by orcs. "Things go well," chortled Sauron during his weekly audience in the Dark Tower, "with enemies like these, who needs friends?"

The loss of the Dwarf Rings was amply made up for by the gift of Galadrial and Celeborn, who gave Sauron Nenya, the Ring of Adamant. Said the lady, "This is only a small repayment for the generous defense which the Dark Lord gave us, saving Lorien from capture by the evil Elves of Mirkwood. Lorien may still fall, but at least we've had time to booby-trap Caras' Galadon."

Meanwhile, where indeed are the Riders of Rohan? After helping Sauron take Minas Tirith through the timely non-movement of SA Eastfold, Theoden is biting his fingernails up to the elbow trying to figure out a way to stop the hordes of Arnor, whose tramp of doom gets ever nearer to Fangorn. "No builds this turn," mused the King; "why can't Isen be a supply center?"

GRAYTE WOURMES - PART III: DRACO CHLORINUM

"Dwelling far to the East, the Draco Chlorinum (Green Dragon) has seldom been seen by mankind. It inhabits the mountainous regions where it constantly wars with the Mountain Giants. This warfare has so decimated both sides that they are nearing extinction - to our great benefit. Green Dragons are another non-fire breather, having a system that produces chlorine gas. Being themselves immune to the fumes, even their liars are usually filled with poisonous vapors to make them inviolate. This large type of worm measures from 90 to 110 feet long, weighs seven to ten tons, is multiwinged and multiheaded. It is a very fierce fighter and never shuns battle. Chlorinum has high intelligence and loves particularly to horde carved jades matching its own color. Some accounts state that the Eastrons actually bribe various of these monsters to protect them from other perils, paying it with valuable goods and praising it in word and sculpture; legend is difficult to separate from fact here. Green Dragons are sometimes called Chimerae because of the wide and unusual variety of body types, horns, plates, etc., found..."

(Excerpt from a First Age Manuscript translated by the late Professor S. K. Eltolereth, DrD.)

AND THE REBUTTAL...

Sir;

Once again you insist on printing the drivel of the late fool, Prof. S. K. Eltolereth. I objected the last time with what I thought was enough force to warn you. Although I have no objections to the physical description of dragons (Draco Nigrus), any more slurs on the mental capacity of dragons shall result in the direst of consequences to you!

Yours, S. Maug, Esq.

CLAN COUNCILS

THE OMINOUS ENGLISHMAN: Thanks be given that the Graham's and Keiths be better fighters with their mouths than with their swords! Turnbull reverted to savagery soon 'st our army left it; peace has spread to Hailes and Darnich Castles. Rumor has it Graham Army Lindsay was busy supporting Keith Army Young -- from falling over drunk! With such allies, 'tis likely most South Scotland be soon united, and the persecutin' of the weak-minded such as Clan Fraser be stopped. Peace, Unity, and Civilization Forever!

THE KRAFTY KEITH: (Wick Castle): Chieftains of the various Keith armies met to discuss the future policy of the clan. It was unanimously agreed upon to decisively defeat the treacherous Fraser in the near future with the help of our good friends, the clans Gordon, MacLeod and MacDonald. It was further resolved to retake our lost Southern lands from the unmentionable southern vermin, with the aid of our good friends of Graham and Stewart. It was also agreed upon to appoint KCUA chairman Joe MacKeithy as Scottish Ambassador to Spain. All are certain he can cause no further trouble so far away.

(Cadiz, Spain): The entire Spanish fleet has been mobilized for an invasion of Scotland only two days after the arrival of Scottish Ambassador Joe (Bigmouth) MacKeithy. Fortunately the problem was solved by Scottish and Spanish officials who threw MacKeithy aboard a ship commanded by a dim-witted Italian who thinks he can sail around the world! With any luck he should fall off the edge in a week.

THE MACDONALD OF CEANRANALD: (Glasgow) (26 April 1492): Despite denials from the GRAHAMs of any relationship to the Hoggs and MacSwineys in general, and Lemmy MacSwiney in particular, The Macdonald points out that their Sporrnan is pigskin, their cooking utensils consists of nothing but pork sausage and sowbelly, with shoat-cake for desert. "They must realize that they shall reap what they sow," observed the wiley Laird of Kilchurn. When confronted with this evidence, Lennie merely bristled.

MIDDLE EARTH PRESS

MINAS TIRITH: Hostile acts by Mordor against the free races of Middle Earth have led Gondor to declare total war against the empire of the Dark Lord. Armies of Gondor have moved into neighboring lands for the protection of the inhabitants. A full scale attack on Henneth Annun is Gondor's next step against Mordor.

Meanwhile, virtually every jewelry store in Minas Tirith has been broken into during the last week. It is strange that nothing has been stolen, but the establishments have been thoroughly searched as if the perpetrators of the crimes were looking for just one item. It is not known who has committed these crimes or what they are looking for, but noted ring expert S. Gollum is being brought in on the case.

MICHEL DELVING (7 Halimath, 3001): The Mayor of the Shire today announced that all devices of the Necromancer will be outlawed in the Shire. The primary target of this law is the Ferris Wheel, a device which is often set up outside of walled cities and is then used by agents of Sauron to spy out the plans of the cities. It is reported from a reputable source that the Ferris Wheel is named after one Sam Ferris, who is himself a big wheel in Sauron's power structure. This law was passed after the report that Edoras in Rohan had been captured by a traveling circus from Isengard that had used the Ferris Wheel. The circus was led by a wizard (?) called Samuman who even at the best of times can only pull carrots out of his hat.

NORBURY (17 Afteryule, 1901): Araphant today welcomed Cirdan the Shipwright of the Grey Havens to Norbury in celebration of the Grey Havens joining with the Kingdom of Arnor. Cirdan said that the reason his country joined with Arnor was to rid the world of evil. Though no names were mentioned, it is rumored that plans are being laid for the defense of Arnor as it is thought that war will soon break out in the east. A reputable source has leaked to us that the war is being started by the dreaded and evil Sauron the Necromancer of Dol Guldur.

Available for new blanket (pink and green only - must be soft) two rabbit hides, or the phone number of the Choctaw lad mentioned last month by the Muskogean chief Snarling Mouse.

Huron maid, Silly Nymph, was last seen chasing bashful groom Fill Chared Bucket down the raging river. Having seen Silly Nymph, we wish fleet foot to the noble Fill Chared Bucket.

Algonquin Chief, ThunderFart, reports more raids by the sisse(y)tons into his territory. The war chief of the Sisse(y)tons, Face-like-Buttermilk, has said that he never dreamed of doing anything to his noble brothers (hehehe) to the east. A Sisse(y)ton would never dream of plotting to steal the maidens of the Algonquins. To that much Thunder Fart agreed!

Chippewa warriors fear attack by the great warriors from the south the strong Santee. However when they found that their only allies were the Sisse(y)tons they laughed themselves into such a frenzy that they could not do battle even if attacked for many moons.
