ISSUE THIRTY-SEVEN

DECEMBER 3, 1985

INTRODUCTION

WINSOME LOSESOME is a gaming publication dedicated to the play of Postal DIPLOMACY. DIPLOMACY is a multi-player political conflict game invented by Allan Calhamer and currently owned by the Avalon Hill Game Co. This 'zine is devoted exclusively to Postal DIPLOMACY. WINSOME LOSESOME is published by the me, Judy Winsome, at 3902 Lakemead Way, Redwood City, CA 94062. Subscriptions are 40¢ an issue. There is only one game left in the life of this 'zine. I will gladly refund the remaining subscription fee of anyone who no longer wishes to subscribe. Your address label contains the total (TL) balance in your account which includes the credit (CR) you may have earned for standing by or submitting articles. The number in parentheses is for my use in retrieving your account from my computer file. I normally use five week deadlines. The deadline for this issue is Thursday, January 9, 1985.

STANDBYS

Standbys to WINSOME-LOSESOME get free subscriptions when they are called and for as long as they are playing a standby position. Any other standbys out there? Lynn Torkelson is receiving this issue free for being a standby or for submitting standby orders.

Standbys: Terry Tallman, Charlie Morris, Robyn Finley, Joe Stark, Dave Rice, John Michalski

OK so I like chickens. I'll not make another dumb joke about this being a DipCon. Actually this is another picture from Jeff Albrecht's farm in South Dakota. You can imagine what that scene looks like now.

The Wall-Deadwood Ally: So kick me out of the game after I give England fits.
 Hope Cathy stabs you for the win.
 England-A/T: Come on- admit it- I am giving both of you a run for your money.
 London (Via Yorkshire): Tsarina Xerpes II captivated the English populous with her infectious laughter.

EPILOGUE

It's snowing all over the place. Oh, some of you know that already. I spent the Thanksgiving weekend at Squaw Valley. I was going to ski, but got a heavy cold so stayed in the first couple of days reading. I highly recommend Ray Bradburys, Death is a Lonely Business. Ray was one of my favorite authors of my youth (along with Frederic Brown) and he is still excellent. Also read Surely Your Joking, Mr. Feynman and Carl Sagan's Contact. The Feynman book is very enjoyable. I was intrigued by Sagan's attempt at science fiction writing. I suspect it was very accurate scientifically, but the characterizations and story were not as interesting as I had hoped. Still, the major protagonist was a woman as was the President of the United States in the story so he gets an A+ in my book for awareness. I'm reading Lake Wobegon Days now. Oh yeah, my cold is almost gone and I eventually got some skiing in. Enjoyed the reading and the skiing. Next I'm going to read Heinlein's new book. After the last one, I'm not expecting a great deal.
